GOVERNORS ASK ARMY VOTE BY STATE BALLOTS

Poll Shows They Are Unanimous.

BY JOHNSON KANADY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—Requests from governors of the various states that soldiers from their states be allowed to vote a full absentee ballot will be read into the record tomorrow in congress. This will be the next chapter in the fight to stop the administration's plan to vote the soldiers thru use of the "bobtailed" no-name federal ballot system.

A telegraphic poll, asking governors if their states can assure a soldier vote by state ballot if the army and navy coöperate completely in hastening transmission of the ballots, was made by senators and congressmen over the week-end at the suggestion of Rep. Calvin D. Johnson [R., Ill.].

Late today more than 30 governors had replied to the telegrams.

All Favor State Ballot.

These replies unanimously favored the state ballot over the federal ballot. Several of the governors observed that their states have already changed absentee laws to facilitate soldier voting, as has Illinois. Others told of plans to do so, and some, including California, reported that enabling legislation is now under way. Other replies are expected before the senate and house again take up the knotty problem of soldier voting tomorrow.

Unofficial reports of the contents of the telegrams were that the governors emphasized the importance of the army and navy giving full coöperation in transmission of the state ballots.

Sen. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] in today's long debate on the soldier vote, raised the question of army and navy mailing priorities for state ballots. Vandenberg said he will vote for the administration's federal ballot plan, but "only as insurance."

State Ballot "Better."

"I favor a federal ballot for the soldier who cannot be sure he can be served by a state ballot," Vandenberg said. "But I want first to make sure that we have neglected no effort to make the state ballot available. The state ballot is a better ballot because it is a total ballot.

"The primary effort should be in encouraging states to make the state ballot available."

Vandenberg then introduced an amendment to the administration bill, changing the language so that the army and navy would be required to give a state ballot the same assurances of speedy transmission, receipt, and return as they have promised the federal ballot.

Sen. Gillette [D., Iowa] attacked the President's message today, asserting the President has no authority to inject his opinions into legislative debate.

Eastland Leads Fight.

Sen. Eastland [D., Miss.] led the day's fight in the senate against the administration's federal vote bill, basing his argument on the parts of the bill which encroach on state rights of controling balloting. He challenged the contention of Sen. Lucas [D., Ill.], the bill's sponsor, that the measure is a compromise.

The senate is expected to start voting tomorrow on the numerous amendments pending to the Lucas bill.

The house will take up the Vursell state ballot bill, an amended version of a measure passed by the senate last month. The bill recommends specific changes in state absentee voting laws, and directs the army and navy to expedite distribution of state ballots.

Yanks Give Up Lives to Halt Enemy Tanks

BY REYNOLDS PACKARD.
[Representing the Combined U. S. Press.]
[Distributed by the Associated Press.]

AT THE 5TH ARMY BEACHHEAD IN ITALY, Jan. 31.—During the last 48 hours American soldiers ran into some of the toughest fighting on the beachhead since the landings, knocking out enemy tanks and self-propelled guns with hand grenades and pistols.

Some of the greatest stories of heroism have been written by American troops in this fighting. During one of several hand-to-hand skirmishes some Yanks ran out of ammunition, snatched weapons from the enemy and, using the arms, kept on fighting.

In one place where enemy tanks started firing into a ditch which was being used as a natural trench, several American soldiers jumped out and, running toward the tanks gave up their lives in jumping upon the tanks with grenades and blowing themselves up with the tanks.

Fields of German Dead.

Some wounded men who returned from the scene of this fighting described their comrades as "swarming over the tanks and killing the Germans inside with anything from hand grenades to pistols, regardless of their own lives."

It probably has been the bloodiest fighting since the landings, with the Germans paying a heavy toll for their stiff resistance. Whole fields are scattered with German dead. The Germans used farm houses, haystacks, and silos for machine gun nests in trying to establish a crisscross fire against the Yanks, who then made for the houses, wiping out the enemy nests inside them.

The enemy concentrated shell and mortar fire around the area where they were fighting.

The entire front in this sector is like one of London's pea soup fogs, the sky being filled with smoke and dust kicked up by the fighting and shelling.

GAIN ON TWO FRONTS

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Jan. 31 (AP).—Allied forces have extended their Anzio-Nettuno bridgehead by successful attacks near the German strongpoint of Cisterna, 26 miles southeast of Rome, and Americans on the main 5th army front have smashed thru part of the powerful Gustav line just north of Cassino, it was announced today.

In both sectors the German troops showed a determination to hold firm. They were dug in along the railroad between Rome and Cisterna and apparently meant to hold until large Nazi forces could be gathered for a hammer blow at the bridgehead.

Dispatches from the front said highways were crowded with German motor convoys, rushing thru the night with lights blazing despite the menace of allied air attack. The area already occupied by American and British landing forces [since Jan. 22] was said to be greater than was won in the first 21 days after the landing at Salerno.

PEARL HARBOR, T. H., Jan. 31 (AP).—While the Tokio radio issued veiled reports of army action in the Marshall Islands, the American naval and air offensive in the Central Pacific today expanded into a strong raid on Wake Island. Army and navy land based planes also attacked the Marshalls again, coördinating with huge task force operations.

The tenth raid of the war on Wake was made Sunday night by between 14 and 30 Coronado seaplanes, each probably carrying more than a ton of bombs. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said all the bombs hit in or near the target area and that no planes were lost among the two squadrons.

Prevents Reënforcement.

The Wake raid was made on the night after bombers were pounding the Marshalls. In daylight Sunday a mighty force of aircraft carriers, battleships, and other naval units carried their offensive against the Marshalls into the second day.

The Wake raid undoubtedly was timed to knock out the Japanese air field and prevent either plane reënforcement for the Nipponese in the Marshalls or retaliation against the United States naval forces.

Wake was captured from United States marines Dec. 24, 1941. The following February a surface force of Adm. William F. Halsey shelled it. Last Oct. 5 it was subjected to combined warship bombardment and plane attacks. There have been seven other air raids.

Defenses Once Destroyed.

Wake probably has proved extremely costly to the Japanese. Installations there were believed virtually destroyed at least once and some of the heavier air raids have neutralized the airdrome for a time.

In announcing the new Marshalls raids today, Adm. Nimitz gave no further details of the week-end carrier attacks in the Marshalls, nor of Sunday's bombardment by American warships.

Heavy loads of bombs rained on the seven principal bases—Kwajalein, Mili, Maloelap, Wotje, Imieji, Taroa, and Jaluit—in the raids of Saturday night and Sunday morning, made by land based planes.

79 Tons Dropped.

Kwajalein, probably the most vital base in the islands, was hit hardest. Liberators dropped 45 tons of bombs there. The same flight unloaded another 10 tons over Wotje. Mili and Taroa were hit with 21 tons. Jaluit took three tons, making a grand total of 79 tons.

The night attacks undoubtedly were planned to give the Nipponese no rest after the devastating daylight assaults by the carrier forces.

Shore installations and small harbor craft were bombed or strafed at Maloelap and Wotje. There was no interception and ground fire was reported ineffectual.

14 Ships Sunk by Subs.

Fourteen more Japanese ships, including three transports which may have been crowded with Nipponese soldiers, have been sunk by American submarines, the navy also reported.

The successes were announced without mention of time, place, or details. A possibility is that the three transports and some of the 11 other ships were carrying men and supplies to enemy bases in the Marshall islands.

With the latest bag, American submarines now have hit 572 Japanese ships, definitely sinking 422.

Tokio Tells of Attack.

New York, Jan. 31 (AP).—The Tokio radio asserted today "Japanese army and navy units have intercepted powerful enemy units which have been attacking the Marshall group since the morning of Jan. 30, and fierce fighting is now going on."

Tokio's reference to "Japanese army and navy units" suggested the possibility that American landing forces may have gone ashore on one or more of the islands or that surface warships may have clashed.

Another Tokio broadcast, beamed to Italy, said: "Strong enemy forces at dawn on Jan. 30 began an offensive against the Marshalls. The Japanese armed forces in this sector are now engaged in hard fighting against these forces."

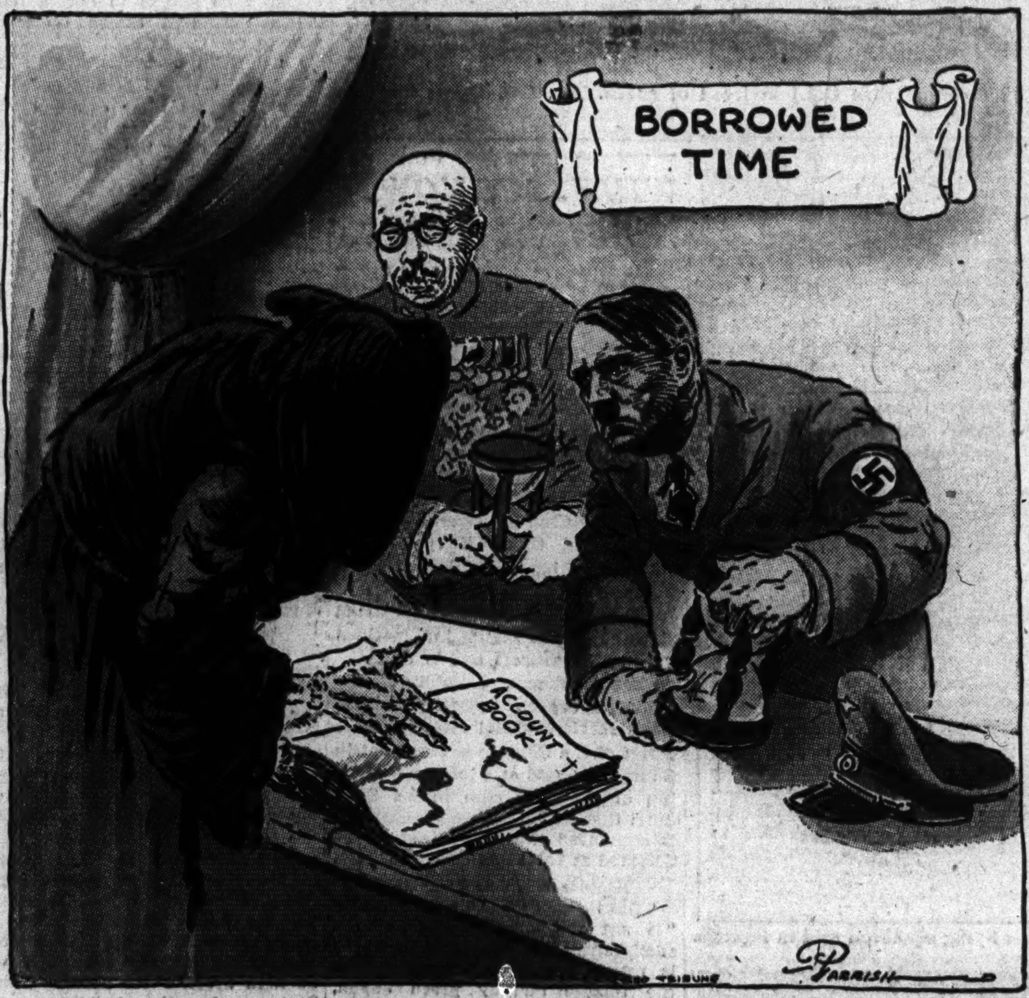
TAXING THEIR CREDIT



Aid Who Quit Drake Quizzed in Death Case

Stanley Fahey, a former employe of the Drake hotel, was questioned by Chicago avenue police yesterday in their investigation of the mysterious murder of Mrs. Adele Born Williams, wife of Frank Starr Williams, a diplomatic attache. She was shot in her room in the Drake Jan. 19 by a fur clad gunwoman, who also fired, without effect, at her daughter, Mrs. Patricia Goodbody.

Fahey, 33 years old, and also known as Steve Stanley, was picked up in a routine inquiry after a statement was made to police by Mrs. Ernest Allen, landlady at 57 East Delaware place, where he roomed until recently. Mrs. Allen said she found in his room a Drake postcard, splotched with what she thought might be blood, and a piece of blue paper on which was scrawled, "You'll find it in the chiffonier." She burned both, she said.

Owes Rent, He Says.

Questioned by Capt. Frank Reynolds and Assistant State's Atty. Joseph A. Pope, Fahey denied ever having left any such items in his room, and asserted Mrs. Allen's account was "just a landlady's story." He owes her $7 rent, he added. Fahey's present address is 500 South State street.

Capt. Reynolds said that Fahey worked at the Drake 10 days, quitting Jan. 20, the day after Mrs. Williams was shot. Fahey said he quit for a better paying job. His work at the Drake was vacuuming rooms. Police said records showed he never was assigned to Mrs. Williams' room. Police questioned and released a girl friend of Fahey. Another woman, having no connection with Fahey, is being sought for questioning.

Police said that Fahey had no draft card. He asserted he lost it. Federal authorities were notified.

Lie detector tests were taken by Edgar R. Born, clothier, and first husband of Mrs. Williams, and Mrs. Eva Fritz, a maid at the Drake. The tests indicated that both had told all they knew of the shooting.

History of $100,000 Told.

Police explained how and why Mrs. Williams had accumulated $100,000 in $1,000 bills, found in a safety deposit box in the vaults of the Northern Trust company. In recent months, Mrs. Williams disposed of some stocks, whose value she considered doubtful. The trust company sold them for $50,000, and deposited that amount in $1,000 bills in the box. Later the bank sold another block for $25,000, and added 25 $1,000 bills to the cache. Then Mrs. Williams withdrew $25,000 from her $60,000 checking account, and put in 25 more bills, making the $100,000 total.

"Mrs. Williams built up this cash accumulation for a rainy day," said Capt. Reynolds. "She feared inflation, and post-war conditions."

AGREE ON TAX BILL TERMS; PLAN FINAL ACTION TOMORROW

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—A $2,315,800,000 revenue bill, laying heavier war time excise rates on dozens of articles and services as well as increasing the load on individual income taxpayers and corporations, was approved tonight by a joint committee of senators and representatives and headed for final congressional action.

Chairman George [D., Ga.] of the senate group predicted that details of redrafting could be completed tomorrow and the bill called up for final action in both houses Wednesday.

The conferees cleared their last hurdles by getting together on a series of amendments to the war contracts renegotiations act and rejecting a move to tax pari-mutuel betting at race tracks.

IF YOU PUT FAITH IN GROUNDHOG, KEEP THAT COAT

O. T. Lay, in charge of the Chicago office of the United States weather bureau, said yesterday that Mr. Groundhog, if he pokes his snout above ground level tomorrow, probably will see his shadow. If so, and if he fancies himself as a prognosticator, he'll go back into his den to sleep for another six weeks, because the sight of his shadow on Groundhog day is supposed to make Mr. Marmota Monax allergic to the great outdoors.

Lay said that only .09 inches of rain fell early yesterday morning, not enough materially to aid the winter wheat which is in need of moisture. A total of .89 inches of rain has fallen on Chicago since Jan. 1, but central Illinois and central Indiana have had only about half that amount of precipitation, giving wheat farmers in those areas cause for worry.

Mary's Story of Sweetheart, War and Baby

New York, Jan. 31 [Special].—Mary was accused of abandoning her baby. And there wasn't any doubt about her guilt. She admitted it.

Magistrate Niozolas Pinto said he had no discretion and would have to bind her over to the grand jury. But, he added, if she would tell her story, maybe something could be done for her.

So Mary, 21 years old and unmarried, told why she had pinned a note to the clothing of her 14 months old daughter, Diana, and left the baby in a Brooklyn hallway. The note had stated: "I can't afford to support her. I can't see her starve. Her name is Diana. Please take good care of her."

Mary said also that love for the baby had led her, when she saw Diana's picture in a newspaper and learned her daughter had been taken to the New York Foundling hospital, to write the hospital promising to send money for her support. It was this letter which had brought about Mary's arrest.

The baby's father, she said, was named Fred. She and Fred had been sweethearts for two years and planned to marry. But he had to leave the city and she hadn't known then that the baby was coming. When she learned of her approaching motherhood, she wrote to him and he sent her money. He promised they would be married as soon as he returned.

Money Came Regularly.

Money came regularly, she told the judge, until after Diana's birth.

"Do you know where that young man is now?" the magistrate asked.

Mary nodded and told the judge Fred was 1st Class Seaman Fred Anderson, who went down on the Juneau off Guadalcanal in the sea battle of Nov. 13-14, 1942, a few days before Diana was born.

Bail was fixed at $500 on the abandonment charge.

2 MILLION MEN RECLASSIFED IN DRAFT SHAKEUP

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—Two million men who had been deferred from the draft because of family obligations were taken out of class 3-A and put in some other class during the last two months, a selective service official estimated tonight.

Nearly all of them were pre-war fathers. About 2,500,000 men are still deferred because of dependency but this group is rapidly vanishing.

Official figures for December alone show that 50,000 fathers were inducted, 50,000 were found physically unfit for service and put in 4-F.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—Sen. Chavez [D., N. M.] today demanded that thousands of planes and tanks be sent to Gen. MacArthur's forces in the Pacific so that revenge for the Japanese atrocities committed against American fighting men will be delayed no longer.

Sen. Chavez.

In a speech on the senate floor, Chavez said that immediate aid to MacArthur is the only real consolation which the nation can offer the wives and families of the victims of Japanese barbarism.

"How do senators think these wives and mothers feel when they hear that their loved ones have suffered the agony of the damned, as was reported by the war department?" he asked. "They then ask us the question as to what we are going to do about it."

Resentment Voiced.

Pointing to a pile of telegrams on his desk from families of the American victims, the senator said they show "first, discouragement: second, suffering, and third, resentment for neglect."

"Senators cannot prove to a single mother in my state," he continued, "that it is more essential to send 2,000 tanks to England or to Tunisia than to send 200 to MacArthur in the Philippine area.

"The release itself is 15 months too late. As far as Pearl Harbor is concerned, as far as Bataan itself is concerned, as far as the time when the Japs first attacked the Philippine Islands at Clark field is concerned, it is two years too late.

Bonds—Plus Supplies.

"I believe in the selling of bonds and having the American people buy until it hurts for winning the war. This notice should have been given to the world: 'Yes, we will avenge Bataan and the Philippine Islands and the suffering of our boys over there by the selling of bonds and by supplying MacArthur with all the things he may need.'

"If it is necessary to send tanks and more tanks and more tanks to Italy, it is also necessary and just and fair and humane and American to send the same class of tanks, and in large numbers, to MacArthur.

"Of course it isn't proper for the senate to become military strategists, but we've been trying for years to impress the war department with the fact that the Pacific is just as important as Europe—but with negligible results."

MAKE 89 PROTESTS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—The state department disclosed today that 89 separate protests have been sent to Tokio over the treatment of captured Americans, apparently with little or no success.

Following up last week's army and navy disclosure of the tortures inflicted on the Americans and Filipinos who surrendered on Bataan and Corregidor, the department issued a summary of almost week by week efforts since the war began to get Japan to live up to its

When the 21st pursuit squadron joined the remnants of several other flying organizations on Bataan and Cabcaben fields Feb. 13, 1942, we found that our Philippines air force had grown from nine to 10 planes. But that was little to rejoice about.

The original nine had been good P-40s. Of these only five remained. The other planes, some of them flown in from the southern islands, included an O-1 army biplane, a ramshackle Bellanca, a dilapidated Beechcraft, and a couple of other jobs. These boneyard ships were called the bamboo fleet and were kept at Bataan field along with three of the P-40s.

The other P-40s were assigned to Cabcaben field, a mile to the west. Both fields began at the water's edge and sloped upward toward the Mariveles mountains. They were at the southeastern tip of Bataan peninsula and each had a single runway. We always took off southeast, no matter how the wind set, and came in over the water to land northwest.

General Lives at Field.

The planes were hidden in the jungle at the upper end of the field. Brig. Gen. Harold H. George, chief air officer in the Philippines, had a shack at the edge of Bataan field to be near his men. We built our mess hall in a little canyon, digging out the mountainside. We lived in bamboo shelters and huts near-by. The area was well protected by antiaircraft batteries.

During the rest of February, thru March and up to the fall of Bataan in early April we flew reconnaissance, brought in medical supplies from the southern islands with the bamboo fleet, and dropped supplies to our guerrillas who were fighting in the mountains of Luzon.

In addition, we went on bombing missions. A warrant officer, now a prisoner of the Japs, built ingenious bomb releases for our planes. My P-40, which I named "Kibosh," would carry a 300 or 500 pound egg. Some of the others could take 100 pounders or six 30 pound fragmentation bombs. And speaking of bombs, the Japs let us have it every day.

Recovers an Old Plane.

Our runway constantly was under repair, but none of their bombs ever hit our planes. Meanwhile work was in progress on a new field just north of Mariveles, a small seaport about 8 miles west. About this time Capt. Joseph Moore of Mississippi, who was in charge at Mariveles, raised an old navy duck [amphibious plane] that had been sunk in the early days of the war.

Joe got it to flying and used it to bring in supplies, medicine, and official mail. On nearly every trip he would manage to bring in several boxes of candy for the boys. The duck was named "The Candy Clipper."

The candy was manna. Our food situation was growing rapidly worse. We were eating lizards, monkeys, and anything else that came under our guns. We set off dynamite in the water in the hope of getting fish, but the blasts usually burst the fishes' floats and they sank. The life expectancy of anything that walked, crawled, or flew on lower Bataan was practically nil.

Food often was brought back from Cebu Island by our engineering officer, Capt. William [Jitter Bill] Bradford, so-called because he was the only man we had ever known who would try to wind an eight day instrument panel clock six times each hour. On one trip Bill brought back three 5 gallon tins of quinine, blood plasma, gas gangrene serum, and tins and packages of food taped and tied thruout the old Bellanca he always flew. But it wasn't much for 200 men.

Despite the shortage we were able to scrape up enough to provide refreshments at two parties to which we invited the nurses from hospital No. 2, a few miles away. The parties were the idea of Gen. George, who thought the boys should have something in the way of recreation.

We had a battered piano we had fished from the rubble of a bombed out village, and a corporal and a buck sergeant to play it. They were talented exponents of boogie woogie. Between dances they would sit together at the piano and cut loose till the roof rocked.

Men Go Shy and Awkward.

Among our dozen guests were Lt. Juanita Redmond and Lt. Helen L. Summers. They wore civilian dresses and we were in our best handwashed, unironed uniforms, without ties. It had been so long since we had seen white women we were shy and awkward. This didn't wear off until almost time for them to start home.

Some of the boys had brought in crackers and cookies and a few containers of relish spread. We drank canned pineapple juice.

We danced on canvas spread over the bamboo floor. Despite our boys' hot music there was no jitterbugging. We were too tired and the shack wouldn't have taken it. Our second party was ruined by a beautiful full moon.

Its silvery light would have been conducive to romance anywhere else in the world. But on Bataan it meant only that if the Japs had effected a landing before moonrise, they would be attacking soon. So, we thought more about the Japs than about our pretty dancing partners. But we weren't called out.

Jap Vessels Mass in Bay.

The day after this the bomb release on my plane Kibosh was completed just about the time our lookout in the Mariveles mountains reported a large number of Japanese ships entering Subic bay, which begins at the northwestern corner of Bataan and gouges deeply into Zambales province to the north. I immediately asked Gen. George if we could try our luck with a few 500 pounders.

"No, Ed," he said. "We'll proceed on the same line we've been following. The time isn't right yet."

The next morning, however, I got a message from air force headquarters to get to the field immediately. On the way I met our operations officer, Lt. Ben S. Brown of Hawkinsville, Ga.

"Well, Ed," he said. "We are putting the big shoes on Joe. Everything'll be ready when you get there." He was using the double talk we employed on our radio to confuse the Japs. Putting the big shoes on Joe meant loading a plane with a 500 pound bomb. Putting the little shoes on meant that six 30 pound fragmentations were going into the racks.

Japs Unloading Vast Supplies.

I went to Gen. George's shack. He told me the Japs were unloading a vast amount of supplies near Olongapo, Zambales, in the eastern reach of Subic bay and about 30 air miles from Bataan field. In view of their numbers, Gen. George considered it best to discourage them as much as possible. As I left he called: "Be careful, Ed." I told him I would, then hurried to the field.

Kibosh was waiting with a big green, 500 pound bomb slung underneath. Lt. Posten, who had taken off earlier with six fragmentation bombs, returned about this time. He had dropped his load, but didn't know whether he had damaged any of the Jap ships.

I took off at 12:30 p. m., followed by Shorty, another pilot now a prisoner of war. It was his job to weave along behind me and keep Japs off my tail. I climbed to 10,000 feet over the sea, then headed north and west. When I was even with Subic bay I headed across to start my dive with the sun at my back.

When I got in close, however, I saw that the big ship concentration was not at Olongapo, as I had been told, but out near Grand Island about seven miles farther on and midway of the bay's mouth. There were a dozen or more vessels there, busily unloading. I headed for them.

ALLIES CLOAKING OWN CRUELTIES, TOKIO CHARGES

LONDON, Jan. 31 (AP).—A Japanese spokesman, Sadao Iguchi, was quoted in a DNB dispatch from Tokio tonight as saying that United States and British disclosures of Japanese cruelties to allied war prisoners were "a cloak for cruelties committed by the allies themselves."

It was the first comment from the Japanese capital on the disclosures of the torture and starvation of allied troops captured by the enemy.

"It is furthermore intended to stir up emotion among their own people, whose enthusiasm for prosecution of the war was considerably fading," Iguchi said. "Besides, the allies, after the sinking of a Japanese hospital ship and after the cruelties they have committed against Japanese civilian internees, have no right to lodge a complaint. Reports spread by the allies, referring to pretended German and Japanese cruelties, will not clear the statesmen in London and Washington of responsibility."

NAZI ATROCITIES IN POLAND CITED BY 'BLACK BOOK'

The Black Book of Polish Jewry, described as the first fully documented account of Nazi atrocities against Jews in Poland, was introduced to members of the American Federation for Polish Jews, Chicago district, at a luncheon yesterday in the Morrison hotel. The book was issued by the federation in coöperation with the Association of Jewish Refugees and Immigrants.

Barnet Hodes, corporation counsel, who spoke at the luncheon, asserted that the book constitutes a documented indictment which can be used in post-war trials of Nazi criminals.

The book contains photographs of scenes of Nazi persecutions of Jews, reproductions of Nazi documents, proclamations, and posters, and hundreds of affidavits of witnesses to scenes of wholesale slaughter and deportations. In addition, there are complete reports of secret couriers, who spent long periods in the occupied territory and managed to escape by means of the underground system.

Europe's First U. S. Owned Radio Station Is Opened

SOMEWHERE IN ITALY, Feb. 1 [Tuesday]—(AP).—The first all-American owned and operated commercial radio station in Europe began direct service to the United States at midnight. Operated by RCA, the station was installed at a cost of approximately $250,000. It was reported that 240 words a minute have been transmitted in tests of the equipment which is intended chiefly for news dispatches from the war fronts.

PAINTING SHOWS HOW FILIPINOS KEPT BATTLING

Oschman has been a Chicago resident since shortly after the first World war. He was born in Tacoma, Wash., and obtained his first job as an illustrator in Portland, Ore. From there he came to Chicago and took a four-year course in fine arts at the Art Institute. He works in three different mediums, oils, water color, and pastel, a great part of his time being devoted to paintings and drawings for advertisments, altho he frequently illustrates stories in magazines. Beautiful girls are his preference of subjects.

WHIP JAPS NOW, CHINESE URGES, AND SAVE LIVES

Tells How Bases in Siberia Would Aid.

Asserting that the Japs are a tougher enemy than the Nazis, and will be immeasurably more difficult and costly to defeat, a representative of the Chinese government yesterday said that "if the United States had bases in Siberia from which it could bomb the cities of Japan, the Japs could be defeated at an enormous saving in American lives and resources and time."

Cheng Pao-nan, director of the midwest branch of the Chinese News service, official midwest news outlet of the Chinese government in Chungking, said at a luncheon meeting of the City club in La Salle hotel that "the Chinese government is convinced that Japan should be defeated at the same time as Hitler.

Respite Adds to Strength.

"But this, I gather," he continued, "is not the official policy of the administration in Washington, which is regrettable. For I predict that the respite already given Japan, while the United States and Britain are throwing all their military resources against Hitler, has enabled Japan to increase her strength so vastly that her defeat will be much more costly and difficult, both in lives and materials, than the defeat of Hitler.

"Japan even today is a tougher enemy than Hitler. The battle of the landing at Tarawa was tougher than any thus far fought in the European war, tougher even than the battle for Salerno."

Ironically, Cheng said "the Chinese are hoping Russia soon will join in the war against Japan."

Noting the Japanese torture of American soldiers captured in the Philippines, Cheng said, "If we were cynical, we would say, 'We told you so,' for we have been warning you about the barbarity of the Japs since we began fighting them in 1931."

Civilians Buried Alive.

The Chinese, he said, long have been acquainted with torture by the Japs, and can relate innumerable authenticated stories of the burial alive of civilians, the use of prisoners of war for bayonet practice by Jap soldiers, and mass rape of thousands of Chinese women.

"Torture and other bestialities, such as the killing of wounded soldiers, prisoners, and civilians, are practiced by the Japs as a matter of policy, and on a wholesale scale," he continued. "As proof, consider that the Chinese have suffered more than 5 million casualties in the war with Japan so far, and these include very few, if any, who were left alive and taken prisoner.

4,000 Women Carried Off.

"After a single battle just last November, the Japs carried away 4,000 Chinese women for purposes needless to describe, wiped out hundreds of villages, and seized a million tons of rice. The civilians remaining in the district were left to starve and freeze to death.

"Consider then that China has fought Japan in 20 major battles involving 100,000 soldiers or more, in 852 battles each involving not less than 20,000 soldiers, and has engaged in 1,160 skirmishes with the enemy and 15,000 guerrilla raids."

STUDENT NURSE INQUEST DEFERRED.

An inquest into the death of Miss Anna Ireta Weist, 21 years old, a student nurse at American hospital, who was found dead Saturday in her room in the Chateau hotel, 3838 Broadway, was deferred yesterday until Feb. 17 to permit the coroner's chemist to complete an analysis.

The latest went forward only last Thursday—the day the atrocity report was released. It was [1] a broad review of Japanese failures, amounting in an effect to an indictment on 18 points, and [2] a comprehensive statement detailing specific instances, in effect a bill of particulars.

The state department said it issued its summary of protests "in order that the public may be familiar with efforts to obtain from Japan fulfilment of its undertakings to treat American nationals in its hands in accordance with humane and civilized principles."

There seems little question that the disclosures were intended also to round out for the world the full picture of Japan's barbarity.

Japan had solemnly promised to abide by the Geneva agreement on treatment of prisoners of war.

[Japan is not a party to this agreement, but at the outset of the war agreed to apply its provisions to Americans in Japanese hands.]

One of the points of protest included in the note, which was dispatched to Tokio thru Swiss diplomatic channels, was the fact that American nationals have been punished merely for complaining about their conditions of captivity.

Hear Repatriate Accounts.

In its statement, the department said that since the beginning of the war it had "again and again called to the Japanese government's attention failures on the part of Japanese authorities to live up to their government's undertakings" in agreeing to the Geneva convention.

One protest was registered after the first exchange voyage of the Gripsholm and was based on accounts of mistreatment given by the group of repatriates then brought back to this country.

Another protest was made over the execution of American flyers who participated in the Doolittle raid on Tokio. The Japanese government was warned at that time "in no uncertain terms," the department said, that all its officers responsible for the execution will be held accountable by the United States and will get "the punishment they deserve for their uncivilized and inhuman acts against American prisoners of war."

Asked to Honor Pledge.

"When it received from the military authorities reports of the brutal atrocities and depraved cruelties inflicted by the Japanese upon American prisoners of war in the Philippines," the department declared, "the department again called upon the Japanese government to honor its undertaking to apply the provisions of the Geneva prisoners of war convention and to observe in its treatment of American nationals held by it the international common law of decency."

The other listings showed that on Dec. 12, 1942, the state department made an "extended protest regarding torture, neglect, physical violence, solitary confinement, illegal prison sentences, mistreatment, and abuse that led to deaths of some Americans, failure to permit visits to camps by Swiss and International Red Cross committee representatives, and other violations of the Geneva prisoner of war convention and the laws of humanity."

MARINES FACE VETS OF JAP PHILIPPINES DRIVE IN NEW BRITAIN

BY JACK TURCOTT.
[Correspondent of the New York News.]

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Jan. 31.—A Japanese shock troop detachment unsuccessfully opposing American marines in the Borgen bay area, east of Cape Gloucester on New Britain, consists of veterans of the Philippine campaign, some of whom probably perpetrated, or witnessed, the torture of American and Filipino prisoners captured at Bataan and Corregidor.

Captured Japs told marines that they are part of the elite divisions Premier Tojo sent to Luzon when the first enemy assault met unexpected resistance. Quantities of American food and weapons found at Borgen bay bolstered this story.

The marines' adversaries on New Britain were well fed, excellently clad, and men of large physique. American type raincoats, carbines, automatic rifles, flame throwers, steel helmets, and American canned fruits and food were found after Jap camps were wiped out. This type of booty was unobtainable anywhere except in the Philippines.

REPORT SWISS RED CROSS AID DIES IN JAPAN

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

A transocean dispatch broadcast by the Berlin radio yesterday said that Dr. Fritz Paravicini of Switzerland, principal delegate of the International Red Cross in Japan, died in Yokohama at the age of 69 years.

Since the start of the war Dr. Paravicini had supervised the distribution of mail and other supplies to allied prisoners in Japan. He also forwarded to Geneva the first list of American prisoners in Japan.

One of the several shipments handled by Dr. Paravicini in Tokio included more than 60,000 food parcels, 10,000,000 cigarets, and more than $33,000 worth of drugs and medical supplies.

WAR PRISONERS' SUPPLIES AWAIT JAPANESE WORD

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—Tons of food, medicine, and clothing intended for American prisoners of war in Japanese hands have been piled up at Vladivostok for a month or more because Japan has refused to give assurances that the material will be delivered to the prisoners.

Secretary of State Hull told his press conference today that he had received no reply to diplomatic overtures for delivery of the goods.

The Red Cross, which handled the shipments, disclosed that at least 1,500 tons of foodstuffs, plus "large quantities" of medicines, drugs, and clothing are at Vladivostok.

Wife Views Mate's Gun, Gets Shot in Shoulder

APPOINT GROUP IN AUSTRALIA TO SIFT ATROCITIES

CANBERRA, Australia, Jan. 31 (AP).—Atty. Gen. H. V. Evatt today announced establishment of a special commission to investigate Japanese atrocities inflicted on Australians in the Southwest Pacific. The commission is headed by Chief Justice William Webb of Queensland.

At the same time, Prime Minister John Curtin, commenting on the disclosures of Japanese barbarities against American and Filipino soldiers and sailors, said the facts "were so horrifying they surely speak for themselves."

Holds Protests Won't Help.

"To relieve prisoners of war in Japanese hands, who include not only members of the fighting forces, but also civilians of our own and friendly races, calls for the earliest termination of the war," Curtin said. "Resolutions, protests, and expressions of horror are insufficient. The best viewpoint Australia can have in this is to work all-out for complete, early victory.

Warns of Retaliation.

"It must be clear that the protecting power in this matter is not able to accomplish much. Only the allies themselves with all their strength can effect a change and the only change will be the earliest realization on the part of Japan that she'll be defeated."

Contrasting the prime minister's statement, a Melbourne government spokesman asserted "the government view is that such stories lead to a vicious circle of retaliation and reprisal as well as causing unnecessary distress to relatives of war prisoners."

QUEZON PLEADS FOR IMMEDIATE DRIVE IN PACIFIC

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—President Quezon of the Philippines in a statement tonight called for an immediate campaign to free the islands from the Japanese.

"With a bleeding heart, I am resigned to the decision that the war against Germany demands prior consideration," he said. "But has not the time arrived to drive the Japanese out of the Philippines? Remember, that only in the Philippines the American flag has been humiliated. Let us avenge Bataan now!"

Nazis Claim 3 Ships Sank in Convoy Off Britain

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

A Berlin broadcast said Nazi motor torpedo boats yesterday attacked an allied convoy off the coast of Britain and sank two 5,500 ton ships and an escort vessel. All of the German boats, the broadcast said, returned safely. Allied quarters did not confirm the action.

BATAAN HEROES PASSED UP IN U.S. FLOW OF ARMS

Lend-Lease Poured Out to Other Nations.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—At the time small forces of Americans were mustering inadequate equipment for the defense of the Philippines, as described in the story of the late Lt. Col. William Edwin Dyess, hero of Bataan, the United States was shipping hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of lend-lease arms and other war materials to other fronts.

From March 11, 1941, date of the inauguration of lend-lease, thru Nov. 30, 1941, the week before Pearl Harbor, more than 586 million dollars' worth of lend-lease supplies were shipped to Britain, Africa, China, Australia, New Zealand, and Russia, lend-lease records show.

Included in the exports were 173 million dollars' worth of equipment in use or previously ordered by the army—equipment needed sorely by the defenders of the Philippines.

Ammunition Lacking, Too.

Gen. MacArthur had 35 heavy bombers and 72 pursuit ships when war came to the Philippines. Most of these were put out of action in the first Jap attack. He had several torpedo boats. Artillery was scarce and of World War I. vintage. Some more modern pieces were on hand, but there was no ammunition for these weapons.

A high officer estimated that the Japanese attackers could have been defeated and the Philippines saved with 50 Flying Fortresses, 250 attack planes, and 500 pursuit ships. Such a force could have been provided, it was said, at a cost of less than 25 of the 586 million dollars of lend-lease exports in the period before Dec. 1, 1941.

Instead of receiving aid, the meager supplies of the Philippines were stripped to bolster defenses of Australia and the Dutch East Indies.

Marshall Tells of Shipments.

This was disclosed in Gen. Marshall's war report last September, which said: "During the late summer of 1941, arrangements were made for the improvement of the landing strips at Rabaul, Port Moresby, and Port Darwin, and the commanding general of the Philippines [Gen. MacArthur] was directed to deliver gasoline and bombs to these points and to Balikpapan in Borneo and Singapore. Deliveries to all but the last two points had been competed when the Japanese took the offensive Dec. 7."

In the eight months before Pearl Harbor, 2,400 American planes were sent to Britain. Fewer than 100 were sent under lend-lease, the rest being sent on British and French or American army orders.

The United States produced 19,500 airplanes in 1941, according to lend-lease officials. Fewer than 30 reached the Philippines. Some 26 planes reached the Philippines after Pearl Harbor.

What Britain Obtained.

In the same period Britain received 538 light tanks [280 under lend-lease] 951 medium tanks [786 under lend-lease], and 13,000 trucks, 4,000 under lend-lease. There were large quantities of other weapons on which figures have not been made public.

Russia, which was attacked by Germany on June 22, 1941, got 50 P-40 planes, 1,000 trucks, 79 tanks. Russia also got other supplies.

Almost 22 million dollars' worth of supplies were shipped or en route to China, including several dozen planes and some plane parts. China received less material than other nations, but more than the Philippines.

Sixty million dollars' worth of supplies were about to be shipped to the Dutch East Indies at the time of Pearl Harbor. Of this, 25 million dollars' worth were under way. Ships carrying these supplies were ordered to India.

At this time Britain was receiving additional arms, for which she had paid cash.

While this flood of lend-lease supplies was leaving the country, a handful of reënforcements was all that was en route to the Philippines. Two transports with approximately 4,500 men and some arms were at sea when the Japs attacked this country. The transports did not arrive.

DAIRY ACCUSED OF FAILING TO FILE REPORTS

The Turner Dairy company, 2800 South Christiana avenue, and its president, John Jurca, were charged yesterday in a criminal information with failure to make reports to the war food administration on the volume of milk, cream, and other products handled from October to December, 1943. William J. McCormack, an assistant United States attorney, who filed the information before Federal Judge John P. Barnes, said the Chicago dairy was the first in the country to be cited for this alleged violation.

W-G-N ENACTING SIX EPISODES IN COL. DYESS' EPIC

First of Thrice Daily Broadcasts Today.

Six dramatic episodes from the late Col. William Edwin Dyess' epic of American heroism under barbaric Japanese torture in the Philippines will be broadcast by station W-G-N in broadcasts starting today and continuing daily thru Sunday. Each sketch will be taken from Col. Dyess' moving story, now appearing in THE TRIBUNE, daily and Sunday.

For these brief presentations, original music, "The Death March of Bataan," was composed by Ken Churchill of W-G-N. It is a sinister, almost demoniac, slow march and will be used as introductory and background music.

The episodes will be heard three times daily as follows: Today at 7:20 a. m., 4:05 p. m., and 8:30 p. m.; tomorrow at 7:20 a. m., 4:05 p. m., and 8:45 p. m.; Thursday at 7:20 a. m., 4:05 p. m., and 11:10 p. m.; Friday at 7:20 a. m., 4:05 p. m., and 9 p. m., and Saturday at 7:20 a. m., 3:45 p. m., and 9:15 p. m. The hours of Sunday's broadcasts will be announced later.

The role of Col. Dyess will be taken by Jack Petruzzi; that of Capt. Samuel C. Grashio by Murray Forbes; Japanese officers by Fred Howard and Michael Romano, and the narration will be by Charles Irving and Lee Bennett. The presentations were written by Francis Coughlin and are produced by Mary Afflick of W-G-N.

WAR'S CRITICAL PERIOD NEARING, SAYS MARSHALL

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—Gen. Marshall, army chief of staff, tonight asserted the most critical period of the war is nearing and that "enormous stores" of guns, planes, and munitions are being assembled on the world battle fronts.

This crucial period, he said in a fourth war loan radio address, will demand the "overwhelming support of the American people for our troops overseas in the great operations now pending."

"The 5th army in Italy has dislocated Nazi strategy by a daring operation against the hostile flank and rear," Marshall said. "Our troops in the Pacific are stepping up the succession of operations which are now rapidly boring in on the Japanese lines of communication. Enormous stores of guns, planes, vehicles, munitions, fuel, landing craft, and equipment of every sort are now being assembled at bases all over the world to reinforce and to maintain these military operations."

5,000 Go to Courthouse for Aid with Tax Returns

The season's first large throng of income taxpayers seeking help in preparing their returns against the approach of the deadline on March 15 visited the office of the collector of internal revenue in the United States courthouse yesterday. Daniel J. Conerty, chief field deputy, estimated the crowd at 5,000. In addition, 2,400 other taxpayers consulted the experts in the collector's six outlying branch offices in Chicago during the day.

32 Million Refugee Fund Sought for Jewish Relief

New York, Jan. 31 (AP).—The united Jewish appeal for refugees, overseas needs, and Palestine announced tonight it would campaign to raise 32 million dollars in 1944.

Part of Exhibit

Swain Scalf won second prize with his entry, "War Hero's Mother," which portrayed the mother of Maj. Joe Foss, marine ace, reading a letter from her son. Third prize, won by A. J. Pavlin, was for a picture entitled "Snipers." It showed two WACs peeping thru rifle sights in a foxhole. The picture was snapped during army maneuvers in Louisiana.

CAPTIVE OF JAPS FOR 21 MONTHS BACK IN CHICAGO

Miss Henrietta Wilson.

Miss Henrietta M. Wilson, a slender 64 year old member of the South China Boat mission, 2149 Van Buren street, yesterday returned to Chicago after 21 months as a Japanese prisoner in Camp Stanley on Stanley peninsula, five miles beyond Hongkong.

A missionary and nurse assigned to the island of Peng Chow, just outside of Hongkong, Miss Wilson was taken prisoner in late December, 1941. She was among 2,400 British, Dutch, and Norwegian prisoners who lived under extraordinarily crowded conditions on diets consisting principally of rice and fish. Many of the internees lost weight, she said, and there was a tendency toward beri-beri, a disease caused by vitamin deficiency.

"There were frequently 25 or 30 persons in apartments designed for two or four," Miss Wilson recalled. She emphasized the necessity of defeating Japan, and expressed a hope to return to China again to work among the Chinese who reside in fish boats. She is a native of London, Ont.

MRS. F. D. R., 'FAR FROM LIFE,' ASKS WHAT IS TAVERN?

Washington, D. C. Jan. 31 (AP).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said today she doesn't know what a "tavern" is.

For that reason, she declined to express an opinion at her news conference today on recent testimony before a congressional committee that Washington mothers had been seen taking infants to taverns with them.

When a reporter first brought up the matter, Mrs. Roosevelt said the mothers probably had no one with whom to leave the children.

"What is a tavern?" the President's wife asked.

"Booths, beer and juke boxes," the reporter flashed back.

"O," said Mrs. Roosevelt. She made a sweeping gesture and said she couldn't comment because "I am so far removed in the White House from any kind of life when that kind of question arises."

Sales Talk by Waitress Sells $250,000 in Bonds

DYESS' STORY SPURS PURCHASE OF WAR BONDS

National Sales Soar

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—The treasury reported tonight that individual bonds sales of $147,000,000 Saturday sent the fourth war loan total to $1,586,000,000, or nearly 29 per cent of the $5,500,000,000 quota.

Revelation of Japanese atrocities by the late Lt. Col. William E. Dyess in THE TRIBUNE and other newspapers shot sales of series E, or peoples' bonds, sharply upward last week-end, Frank McNair, chairman of the fourth war loan drive for Chicago and Cook county, disclosed yesterday.

On Friday, the day the story was revealed after long censorship, sales reached $7,213,000 compared with $4,977,000 on the preceding day. Saturday sales were more than $5,000,000, making a two day total of $12,731,000.

The week-end upswing was in sharp contrast with a lull in public buying a few days earlier.

Merchants Win Awards.

Frederick H. Scott for Carson Pirie Scott & Co., Hector Suyker for the Fair store; L. V. Sizer for Marshall Field & Co.; J. B. Standcliff for the Florsheim Shoe company; Nathan Goldblatt for Goldblatt Bros., Inc.; Willard W. Cole for Henry C. Lytton & Sons; Sidney J. Natkin for Mandel Bros.; Edward Warnshuis for Netcher's Boston store; M. C. Penticoff for Sears, Roebuck & Co.; Charles R. Walgreen Jr. for the Walgreen company, and Werner A. Wieboldt for Wieboldt Stores, Inc.

The awards also will go to the Maurice L. Rothschild store, Charles A. Stevens & Co., and the Jewel Tea stores.

Stores Give Big Help.

Pulte said 80 per cent of all war bond advertising had been thru retail stores and one-third of all E bond sales could be traced to them.

McNair announced that all bond sales thru Feb. 26 would count in the loan, altho the drive is scheduled to close Feb. 15, with a goal of $131,000,000 in E bonds to be reached. Latest figures yesterday showed $78,141,000 sold. President Franklyn B. Snyder of Northwestern university announced the purchase of $1,932,682 worth of bonds.

Figures on corporation sales will be disclosed at a luncheon in the Federal Reserve bank today, McNair said.

MANY BIRDS FAIL TO LEAVE AREA IN MILD WINTER

Thurston Wright, preparer of exhibits at the Chicago Academy of Sciences, and Gordon Pearsall, naturalist of the Illinois department of conservation, said yesterday they have had numerous calls from residents who have seen bluebirds, redheaded woodpeckers, robins, mocking birds, and meadow larks in Chicagoland this winter.

Philip Kinsley, Tribune writer, recently saw two bluebirds and two house wrens near his home on the Fox river near McHenry. Mrs. John Garrett, 190 East road, Glen Ellyn, reported seeing a mocking bird near her feeding station this winter. Pearsall has had many reports of robins staying here this winter.

EARLY MORNING BLAZE ROUTS 30 ON SOUTH SIDE

Fire starting in the rear of the Tri-Parks liquor store at 7321 Vincennes avenue early today spread to the upper stories of the three story flat building in which the store is housed, driving 30 residents to the street.

Chief Fire Marshal Anthony J. Mullaney estimated damage to the building at $5,000. First fire companies on the scene turned in a 4-11 alarm to summon additional equipment.

BURGLARS STEAL WAR BONDS.

RED LIGHT VICE AREAS TERMED THING OF PAST

662 Districts Closed, Bureau Reports.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—The "red light district" is virtually a thing of the past in this country, the office of community war services of the federal security agency said today.

In a two year report sent to the President, the FSA disclosed that by July 1, 1943, more than 350 such areas had been closed. Bringing the figure up to date, an agency spokesman said 662 red light districts have been eliminated and there are "practically none left."

Combat "Superstitions."

The rush in the last half of 1943 to close sections in which there are houses of prostitution, the spokesman said, was the result of "patient groundwork" during the previous two years.

He added that it was necessary to overcome long standing "superstitions" that such districts were necessary in order to control venereal diseases.

Can't "Control" District.

"We have had to prove to the cities that it's medically impossible to control a red light district, even if it is inspected once a week—or even every day," the spokesman said. "Such inspections do not prevent the spread of venereal diseases."

The agency's social protection division is not empowered to close red light districts. It surveys the situation, then asks the local police department to take action. Chief of the division is Eliot Ness, former director of public safety, Cleveland, O.

Brown University Head Speaks Here Thursday

Henry M. Wriston, president of Brown university and author of "Challenge to Freedom," a forthright criticism of the New Deal, will be the principal speaker Thursday night before the Brown University Club of Chicago at the Chicago Real Estate Board club, 105 West Madison street. Earlier he will be a guest of the University club.

RAILS PROBING FEDERAL TRAIN SPACE DEMANDS

BY ROY GIBBONS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 31.—A. B. Chown, chairman of the Trunk Line-Central Passenger association, today disclosed that a conference of railroad officials would be called soon to determine whether the federal agencies housed here need all the Pullman space and reserved seat accommodations they are reserving out of this city daily.

Chown said the number of government reservations "conservatively would total 1,000 units" every day, each unit representing space for one person. It amounts to one-eighth of the total reserved space on trains leaving New York each day.

In addition, Chown said that government officials were asking 10 per cent more space than the railroads could supply.

Survey "Frozen" Quota.

Altho saying he had no way of knowing how much of the government space was turned back in the form of cancellations, Chown added that an investigation is under way to determine if Pullman reservations frozen by federal agencies are being needlessly ordered.

He disclosed that his organization was paying particular attention to abuses arising out of the practice of hotel porters and travel agencies to buy up blocks of space and holding them for speculation.

Limit Service Fee.

Acknowledgement that such a black market practice is prevalent was indicated by the recent passage of a city ordinance making it a misdemeanor to charge more than $1 as a service fee above the cost of a ticket.

Some agencies, it was charged, have been levying a premium of $3.75 on a Pullman ticket between New York and Washington costing $3.25.

PUBLISHER SAYS LEND-LEASE GOT U. S. INTO WAR

New York, Jan. 31 [Special].—The United States entered the war, not at Pearl Harbor, but when we participated in the lend-lease operations with allied nations, Arthur Hays Sulzberger, president and publisher of the New York Times and member of the central committee, American Red Cross, declared today.

"I happen to be among those who believe that we did not go to war because we were attacked at Pearl Harbor," Sulzberger told the opening session of the North Atlantic area conference of the Red Cross at Carnegie hall. "I hold rather that we were attacked at Pearl Harbor because we had gone to war when we made the lend-lease declaration.

"And we took that fateful step because we knew that all we hold dear in the world was under attack and that we could not let it perish. That declaration was an affirmative act on our part and a warlike act, and we made it because we knew that freedom must be defended wherever it is attacked or we who possess it will lose it."

27TH JANUARY RAID ON RABAUL BAGS 36 PLANES

24 Shot Down in Two Air Battles.

ADVANCE HDQ., New Guinea, Feb. 1 [Tuesday] — (AP). — Bombers of the 13th air force, covered by a deadly fighter escort that knocked down more than half the enemy interceptors, shattered gun positions and buildings at Rabaul, New Britain, Saturday—the 27th day of January aerial forays over the harbor or its protective air fields.

Twenty-four and possibly 30 of the 50 Japanese fighter planes were shot down in the latest raid, Gen. MacArthur's headquarters reported today. Twelve others were destroyed on the ground.

Six Guns Silenced.

Six enemy gun positions were silenced, several buildings blown up, and towering fires started on Lakunai and Tobera airdromes.

Despite repeated punishing blows, however, Japan managed to put 50 to 80 fighters into the air in the futile effort to block the Liberators, Dauntless dive bombers, Lightning fighters, and Avenger torpedo bombers.

Friday's blow at this battered stronghold had knocked down at least 30 and probably 42 enemy fighter planes, plus another 20 probably destroyed on the ground. The enemy's January losses in the Rabaul area now total nearly 550 planes.

Two Freighters Sunk.

Other raiders, today's bulletin said, bombed and sank two 2,500 ton enemy freighters and left a 500 ton cargo ship afire in Hansa bay, about 90 air line miles northwest of Madang, New Guinea—the goal of advancing American and Australian ground troops.

Aussies who have rounded the coast of the Huon peninsula are nearing Reiss point, approximately 35 miles from Saidor, New Guinea. This would place them within 25 miles of the American forces who have been steadily expanding their invasion wedge from Saidor.

Bag 1,450 in Six Months.

GUADALCANAL, Feb. 1 [Tuesday]—(AP).—Flyers from the Solomons shot down 1,450 Japanese planes during the past six months, a spokesman for Adm. William F. Halsey said today. Bougainville in the Solomons and Rabaul on New Britain were the principal scenes of these triumphs.

The spokesman said raids Saturday on Rabaul had rendered the Tobera and Lakunai air fields temporarily unserviceable. Two naval lieutenants named Kepford and Burris each shot down four planes Saturday.

Liquor Scarce, Beer Weak, but British Pubs Prosper

LONDON, Jan. 31 (AP).—Liquors are scarcer and the beer is weaker, but bar business is better than ever. For 1943 two hundred and eleven government owned pubs in the Carlisle, Gretna, and Cromarty Firth districts showed a profit of $1,000,000—$90,000 more than in 1942.

JAP REGIMENT TRAPPED, WIPED OUT BY CHINESE

Ambush Turned Into Enemy Disaster.

NEW DELHI, India, Jan. 31 (AP).—Chinese troops striking 100 miles into northern Burma to clear the way for the Ledo road supply line to China eliminated an entire Japanese regiment, and threatened another with a similar fate, Brig. Gen. Hayden Boatner said today.

Boatner, chief of staff to Lt. Gen. Joseph H. Stilwell, returned here after 10 months in the jungles on the route of the Ledo road, being built from India along the old Burma road trail. He and other United States officers have been aiding the Chinese troops.

The Japanese were trapped and then methodically wiped out along upper tributaries of the Chindwin river, and the Chinese found hundreds of bodies.

Chinese Better Equipped.

"That many killed together with the certainty that hundreds more were wounded means the regiment is eliminated for a long time," Boatner said. "The Chinese were elated to find themselves better fed, clothed, and equipped than the Japanese.

"The Japanese uniforms were in shreds and documents taken from them indicated an acute food shortage. Many units on half rations were living on bananas and what they could rob from refugees.

"The Chinese were supplied entirely by air. There's nothing like it in the books, but it works.

Japs Ambush Chinese.

Boatner said the Japanese first ambushed the Chinese at Yupbang but the Chinese dug in. More Chinese forces moved up and began wiping out the enemy. The battle spread eastward and southward toward Taipha Ga. Four hundred Japanese dead were counted in the area, and some 400 more in nearby sectors, including officers.

The southeast Asia command bulletin today told of R. A. F. raids on Japanese airfields at Akyab in western Burma, and a continuing but slow advance aground on the Arakan front in western Burma.

3 MORE DEMAND DEROUNIAN PAY LIBEL DAMAGES

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 31 (AP).—Three Salt Lake City men, alleging libel, today filed suit against Arthur Derounian, alias John Roy Carlson, author of the book "Under Cover." They asked damages totaling $300,000.

Ernest Hollings, former instructor at Utah university, and C. F. Allen, a salesman, each asked $100,000 while an attorney, J. H. McKnight, sought $50,000 on his behalf and $50,000 on an action assigned to him by Jacob Thorkelson, described in the complaint as a "practicing physician in Montana since 1913."

British Committee Named to Probe Film Industry

LONDON, Jan. 31.—A committee which includes four influential Britons has been formed to study measures that may be deemed necessary to check the development of a monopoly in the film industry, it was announced yesterday. The committee was appointed by the Cinematograph Films council on invitation of Hugh Dalton, president of the board of trade.

CHICAGOAN, TWO OTHERS KILLED IN BOMBER CRASH

Pierre, S. D., Jan. 31 [Special].—Three men were killed when an army medium bomber crashed in the badlands near Conata, S. D., on the way from its home base at Casper, Wyo., to Pierre. The victims were 2d Lt. David Lenoir of Sumter, S. C.; 2d Lt. Richard Schildmiller of Chicago, Ill., and Sgt. Robert Kingston of Elyria, O. The crash occurred Saturday and was announced today.

[Second Lt. Schildmiller, 24 years old, the son of Mrs. Louis F. Schildmiller of Western Springs, formerly of Chicago, was commissioned two months ago. He was a graduate of Tilden High school. Surviving are his widow, Margaret, his mother, two sisters, and three brothers.]

ALEUTIAN PILOT JUST CAN'T BEAR TO KILL A BEAR

AN ALEUTIAN NAVAL AIR STATION (AP).— Almost anything, even a lumbering bear, may combine with the weather to make flying hazardous in this storm-torn area. They laughed about the bear incident in the operations office while they waited for "briefing" on patrol missions.

"It was always a kick to hear Dave Brough tell about the bear," one pilot said. The clumsy animal had suddenly appeared out of the fog on the landing strip just ahead of Brough's incoming plane. Brough managed to avoid that collision but was killed later on.

Weather always figures as the dangerous enemy in the minds of the flying sailors. It sneaks up on the island bases, concealing landing fields with dense fog or black clouds. It batters planes with hurricane force. It drags them down with ice.

Fly Thru Tunnels.

If it can force a plane down in the sea that's usually the finish. Men don't survive long in these bitter waters. The number of planes shot down by the Japanese is insignificant compared to those lost in the battle with the elements.

But the flyers remember funny incidents. Lt. Comdr. William R. Stevens of Salem, Ore., squadron commander, and Lt. Paul Gill of Michigan City, Ind., who pilot Ventura patrol bombers, told about the tunnels in the storm clouds.

They said they had flown often thru these openings, closed in by black cloud walls, sometimes so narrow that the wings touch the sides.

"If you zig-zag thru them you can get back to base that way, sometimes," Stevens said.

They Follow the Ducks.

Other pilots recalled how Stevens and Lt. J. A. Masteron were once forced down by fog at sea in a Catalina amphibian. They taxied along behind some ducks "because they would know where they were going." But the flyers discovered the ducks were only circling around.

Lt. Marshall Freerks of Cuyuna, Minn., the Catalina commander who had recalled Dave Brough's bear, returned from a sector flight over the Bering sea just before a storm closed in. He shook off the snow and relaxed. Asked about the weather "up there," he pushed back his fur cap and grinned: "Well, when the wind gets so high you can't navigate, you just walk in, I suppose."

How Cove Got its Name.

They told how Tetley's cove on Kanga island got its name. A Catalina pilot named Tetley was forced down by summer fog. A rescue boat took off his crew, but he remained to guard the plane.

When another boat came a good many days later he was well established with a trapping line and a blind for duck hunting.

"He was happy there," said one pilot, "and didn't want to leave; so they named the cove after him."

"The plane's still there," said another, "and Tetley can have his cove. I don't want any part of the Aleutians, summer or winter."

U. S. WAR COST: 33,153 KILLED, 33,617 MISSING

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—Casualties for all of the nation's military services since the start of the war total 146,186, including 33,153 dead, 49,518 wounded, 33,617 missing, and 29,898 taken prisoner, the office of war information reported tonight on the basis of the latest tabulations by the war and navy departments.

OWI said that 1,933 of the prisoners had been reported officially by the enemy as having died in prison camps, mostly in Japanese occupied territory.

"The recent army-navy joint report on Japanese atrocities makes the actual figures of those who have died substantially larger," the agency commented.

Army casualties totaled 109,434, of which 17,480 were killed, 41,533 were wounded, 24,806 were missing, and 25,615 were prisoners in enemy hands.

The navy report listed casualties, up to Jan. 29, at 36,752. These include 15,673 dead, 7,985 wounded, 8,811 missing, and 4,283 prisoners.

U.S. AND CANADA AGREE TO POOL PLANE SUPPLIES

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—A joint supply pool to expedite equipment and parts for anti-submarine bases of the Canadian air force and to furnish supplies to American troops in Canada has been set up under the operation of the United States army air service command. Lt. Col. Paul I. Doty, chief of the overseas supply section of the ASC, said today that the pool agreement is not part of lend-lease, but is on a cash basis, with the Canadian government receiving credit for each shipment made to American forces.

Sgt. Hoy, Colonel's Son, Missing in German Raid

Sgt. Jim F. Hoy, 20 years old, gunner on a bomber stationed in England, has been missing since he went on a mission over Germany Jan. 11, his grandfather, Thomas H. Hoy, 4152 Washington boulevard, has been advised by the war department. The soldier's father, Col. Thomas Hoy, is stationed in England.

THIS CHAPLAIN'S CHICKENS COME HOME TO ROOST

Natives Recall Who Converted Them.

AN ADVANCED BASE IN THE CENTRAL PACIFIC, Jan. 22 [Delayed]—(AP).—Seventeen chickens owned by a navy chaplain peck a peaceful path around this atoll because some Gilbertese natives remembered the denomination which brought them Christianity long before the Japanese came.

Thirteen pastors and school teachers, natives of a neighboring atoll, gave the chickens to Lt. Francis T. Cooke, pastor of the First Congregational church at Bristol, Conn., bringing the flock 30 miles in outrigger canoes.

Chaplain Cooke said he tries to distribute the fresh eggs from his flock "equitably among the men." He added, "I never eat one myself." Which in a land of G. I. powdered eggs is tops in self-denial.

How'd They Find Him?

The Christian congregational churches were responsible for maintaining a mission on the natives' atoll from 1857 to 1912. Chaplain Cooke—no one knows how the natives learned he was here—was the first American representative of the denomination the islanders had seen since before Pearl Harbor. Maybe tom-toms located the Congregationalist.

Afterward, the natives took Chaplain Cooke back with them for a visit—in honor of the foreign mission group, and of the late Dr. Hiram Bingham [father of former Sen. Hiram Bingham of Connecticut] who founded the first Christian mission on the atoll.

Bring Pastor Gifts.

The chaplain was greeted by 200 natives and a welcome sign, and 14 village delegations brought gifts and greetings.

Lt. Cooke reviewed two troops of Boy Scouts, two of girl guides and a cub pack—all "fully and correctly uniformed," in garb preserved from pre-war days. And he preached 20 times during his two day visit to the atoll. He made the 60-mile round trip across open sea with the natives in an outrigger canoe.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 31.—Capt. W. Fukusima, Japanese naval reserve officer, once master of a trans-Pacific liner, who was known as the mayor of "Little Tokio" in a suburb of Vancouver, returned to his home today and unearthed $2,000 in Canadian currency and an unstated amount in Japanese money. Fukusima buried the money before the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, following which he was sent to a relocation camp east of here. He dug up the money in the presence of mounted policemen.

MOTHER FINDS GIRL ABANDONED BY HER FRIEND

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 31 (AP).—Mrs. Juanita Waits, 18 year old wife of an army private, appeared more dazed than excited today as she held her 6 months old daughter, Marilyn Anne, in her arms for the first time in three months.

The reunion took place in a nursing home where the child, a foundling discovered in a parked automobile here last November, had been placed by police and the Children's Aid society.

Mrs. Waits said she had paid a friend to care for the infant in Columbus, O., so she might be with her husband, stationed in Mississippi. She continued the payments, she told police, until she received a letter from the other woman confessing the child's abandonment—then took the next train for Detroit.

TWELVE CHICAGO GIRLS ADOPT A LONELY SAILOR!

Chicago yesterday began writing letters to the lonesome sailor in the South Pacific whose lack of mail prompted six of his buddies to appeal to Tribune readers.

Many persons telephoned that they had already written, and were looking up postal regulations to see what they could send. Twelve young women in the offices of the Chase Brass and Copper company, 1300 Harrison street, reported they had "adopted" him, and intended to write once weekly and send their pictures.

The lonesome boy is Earl A. Grover, an orphan, who worked most of his life around Chicago. His address is U. S. S. LCI [c], 433, care fleet postoffice, San Francisco, Cal.

MISSING SOLDIER WRITES MOTHER FROM JAP PRISON

Mrs. Ida Leff Rousch of Maple Park, Kane county, has just received a form letter from her son, Pvt. Richard Leff, 23 years old, informing her that he is a prisoner in Japanese prison camp No. 2, on the Manchukuo border. Other communications, direct and indirect, have indicated that he is well, and that prisoners in that camp have been getting some food from natives. Pvt. Leff was officially reported a prisoner in July, 1942. Mrs. Rousch has three other sons in uniform, Sgt. Donald Leff, and Pvts. Norris and Russell Rousch.

SPEED OF YANK TELEPHONE MEN DAZZLES BRITISH

BY E. R. NODERER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The task of typing American military establishments into the British telephone system has received a shot in the arm with the employment of construction units of the United States army signal corps, which are stringing lines at a speed previously never approached here.

British workers were reported to be "goggle-eyed" at the American method of setting poles. One signal corps five man team, using a truck with boring equipment, recently set 62 poles in a day. A British five man team digging holes and erecting poles by hand is able to set only four poles a day.

Chicagoans Play Part.

Several Chicagoans are part of an outfit participating in the work. They are Pvt. Leonard B. Piatkowski, 2039 Iowa street; Sgt. John Wood, 7734 North Paulina street; Sgt. Ray H. Bilter, 416 West Harrison street; Pvt. Henry A. Charlete, 343 South Pulaski road; Pvt. William J. Hawkins, 3152 South Shields avenue, and Corp. J. J. Yostka, 5706 South Albany avenue.

Other Illinoisans in the outfit are Staff Sgt. Edward A. Matalon, Peoria; Corp. Martin M. Naravvo, Moline, and Pvt. Joseph Novak, Peoria.

Signal corps units came into the picture when the British general postoffice was unable to provide man power for all the rush trunk line jobs requested by American authorities. The postoffice, which operates the British telephones, provides the material.

Eliminate Much Splicing.

The American practice of stringing cable in 2,500 foot lengths instead of 750, as is the custom here, speeds up the operation by reducing the number of splices, which requires much time.

Specially designed truck winches enable the signal corps to string cable at the rate of five to 10 miles an hour, compared to the British rate of about two miles hourly. Other mechanical equipment and methods permit Americans to lay nine sections of underground cable daily, compared with three for the British.

U. S. LIBERATORS BLAST FRENCH, DUTCH TARGETS

Follow Up Saturation Attack on Berlin.

LONDON, Jan. 31 (AP).—American war planes, including four engined Liberators, pounded anti-invasion targets on the northern coast of France and an airfield in Holland today in quick followups to the R. A. F.'s 14th winter saturation attack on Berlin.

The attack by Liberators and escorting Thunderbolts on military objectives in the Pas de Calais area in northern France was the 30th allied blow against these forward Nazi positions this month. No enemy fighter opposition was encountered and all of the big bombers returned, a joint United States army and British air ministry bulletin said.

Knock Down 13 Nazis.

Bomb carrying Thunderbolts, supported by Lightnings, again attacked the German air field at Gilze-Rijen, Holland and, encountering heavy Nazi fighter opposition, knocked down 13 of the enemy. R. A. F. fighters carried out offensive patrols over northern and western France. From all these operations, the bulletin said, nine allied fighters failed to return.

Flyers who participated in the Liberators' cross-channel jab described it as a hayride, with few fighters and little flak encountered.

The heavy attack on the Pas de Calais area following the smash at Berlin last night continued the most sustained air offensive in history and gave a January total of 20 major attacks from Britain against Germany and occupied territories.

German Radios Silenced.

German radio transmitters shut down abruptly tonight, perhaps a sign the R. A. F. was putting in one more major assault before February began.

R. A. F. Lancasters and Halifaxes bombing Berlin thru clouds last night dropped probably 1,500 tons and brought to more than 5,000 tons the weight of explosives and incendiaries hurled on the German capital in three attacks in four nights. Mosquito bombers swooped in later to make it a double header raid.

In further measure of the fury of the allied offensive was an American army announcement that United States heavy bombers based in England and Italy had dropped more than 3,900 tons of bombs on German targets in the 48 hours ended Sunday night. With British raids, this made more than 9,000 tons hitting the Nazis in less than a week.

Fierce Fires Reported.

Crews from the last bombers last night reported fierce fires again licking thru Berlin with thick columns of smoke rising 15,000 feet, but still not masking the glow of flames from 100 miles away.

Clouds were banked over Berlin for 10,000 feet, but the sky above them was bright with moonlight and flares of hundreds of Nazi fighters.

In this brilliantly lighted arena the main part of the air battle took place, during a saturation attack lasting 25 minutes. Thirty-three R. A. F. planes were lost there and in raids on other targets in central and western Germany. Many aviators expressed surprise at absence of ground defenses. The Germans admitted heavy damage, and communications with other cities were broken off for hours.

La Guardia Urges Public Works Fund of 10 Billion

New York, Jan. 31 [Special].—Mayor Fiorello La Guardia today told the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers that the federal government should appropriate at least 10 billion dollars for a public works program in the transitional period from war to peace.

GASOLINE BAN BARES SERIOUS PLIGHT OF CUBA

Price Protest Leaves Havana Meatless.

BY GUSTAVO RENO.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, Jan. 31.—A decree by the government today banning the use of gasoline as fuel for all motor cars, even those of high government officials, brought into sharp focus the serious economic conditions which Cuban's now face. The gasoline ban extends to mayors, congressmen, all national, provincial and municipal executives, and lesser officials. Cane alcohol is to be used exclusively as fuel.

The already drastic scarcities and price advances are further highlighted by the food situation. Havana has been without meat for three days because of a strike by slaughterers and retailers in protest against a recent order of ORPA, the government's price regulating agency, restricting retail meat prices.

Demand Higher Ceiling.

The bureau set maximum prices of 18, 17, and 15 cents a pound for first, second, and third grade fresh meats, respectively. Stores and processors refused to obey the order, demanding instead 20, 19, and 18 cents a pound, respectively.

The skyrocketing of commodity prices is blamed in part on black market monopolies. As an example of the rise in food costs, rice, a staple, is quoted at 30 cents a pound against 7 cents six months ago.

Olive Oil Unobtainable.

The difference in today's prices from those of June, 1943, is disclosed in the following comparisons:

Black beans, which were 5 cents a pound are priced at 30 cents; cornmeal, then 3 cents a pound, is 7; potatoes, 4 cents a pound, 8; sugar, 2 cents a pound, 8; codfish, then 2 for 15 cents, are 35 cents for two; chicken, then 18 cents a pound, 75; beef, 15 now, 40; peanut oil, 22, now 38. No olive oil has been obtainable in Havana since 1941.

In the comparison table against last June prices eggs which were 18 for 20 cents are 5 cents each; lard, 12 cents a pound, is 26; fresh milk, 7 cents per liter [approximately one quart], is 15 and condensed milk, 7 cents a can, has doubled in price.

Alcohol, mandated as fuel in the new order, has jumped from 50 cents to $1 a gallon. Coal oil is selling at 75 cents a quart, an increase of more than 1,000 per cent over its price a year ago.

Shift in Coast Guard Command Here Reported

Lt. Oscar A. Johnson, commander of the Two Rivers [Wis.] coast guard station for more than two years, has been assigned to temporary command of the Chicago life boat station, it was reported yesterday. Paul Somerville, chief boatswain's mate, has been in charge of the Chicago station for two years. Coast guard authorities here said they had not been informed of the change.

Tomatoes valued at $145 were stolen by thieves in a burglary of his wholesale vegetable store at 67 South Water Market, Harry Finerman told police yesterday.

CANADA PREMIER SPURNS HALIFAX EMPIRE SCHEME

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 31.—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King today took issue with Ambassador Halifax and Field Marshal Jan Smuts, on how best to preserve world peace. Canada's prime minister came out in favor of a world organization, rather than one dominated by "three or four great powers."

In an address to parliament he said it was unfortunate Halifax had made the remarks he did in Toronto recently, because they had raised issues.

"Lord Halifax and Field Marshal Smuts," he said, "took the position that the resources of the British isles were too small to enable the United Kingdom to compete with the United States and soviet union in power and authority after the war. Both, therefore, argued that it was necessary that the United Kingdom should have the constant support of other countries.

Quotes Their Views.

"Field Marshal Smuts thought this might be achieved by a close association between the United Kingdom and the smaller democracies in western Europe; he had little to say of the place of the British commonwealth as such. Lord Halifax, on the other hand, declared: 'Not Great Britain only, but the British empire, must be the fourth power in that group upon which, under Providence, the peace of the world will henceforth depend.'

"With what is implied in the argument employed by these eminent public men I am unable to agree. It is true that the peace of the world depends on preserving a large superiority of power. But I must ask whether the best way of attaining this is to seek a balance of strength between three or four powers. Should we not aim attaining the necessary superiority of power by creating an effective international system inside which the coöperation of all peace loving countries is freely sought and given?

Disapproves Rivalry.

"Behind the conception expressed by Lord Halifax and Field Marshal Smuts there lurks the idea of inevitable rivalry between the great powers. Could Canada situated as she is geographically between the U. S. and the soviet union, and at the same time a member of the British commonwealth, for a moment give support to such an idea?

"We are certainly determined to see the closest collaboration continue between Canada, the United Kingdom, and other commonwealth countries. When, however, it comes to dealing with the great issues which determine peace or war, prosperity or depression, it must not be exclusive. In meeting world issues of security, employment, and social standards we must join not only with commonwealth countries but with all like minded states, if our purposes and ideals are to prevail.

"We look forward, therefore, to close collaboration in the interests of peace not only inside the British commonwealth, but also with all friendly nations, small as well as great."

CHICAGO WASP TOWS TARGETS AT CAMP HAAN

Camp Haan, Cal., Jan. 31 (AP).—Three good reasons why anti-aircraft gunners trained here strive for accuracy: The planes that tow their targets are piloted by three pretty girls, including one from Chicago.

These women air forces service pilots [WASPs] concede their jobs are thrilling, dangerous, and tough. They must fly just ahead of a stream of shells or tracers, dive over half-tracks and gun emplacements, or streak along at hedge top height.

"When you're up there towing a target," says Eolyne Nichols of Chicago, "the only thing you can think about is getting away as fast as you can."

"WANT MORE HELP, FELLOWS?"

THE SCENE is a busy freight terminal on the Illinois Central. There are only so many freight handlers available, and only so many hours in the day. But wartime freight must be kept moving. So a call is sent to the men in the office, for extra help on the loading platform. It means overtime work at hard physical labor. But the freight is moved.

That's in keeping with the spirit of the "home folks" who make up the Illinois Central family. They are in railroad work because they like it. Whatever needs doing gets done.

Such an attitude benefits all who use this railroad. It meets many an emergency in war transportation, with passenger and freight traffic at an all-time peak. And all of us on the Illinois Central are proud of our war record.

Until the war has been won, our main concern is victory. After that, all we have learned in the war years will be turned to account in improving Illinois Central service. We want to keep on earning your good will!

were reported fighting in that particular sector. An allied announcement said:

"The Anzio bridgehead is being steadily supplied, enlarged, and strengthened as troops already established ashore fight their way inland and fresh troops and supplies arrive."

Reconnaissance showed that the Nazis had established a defense line from Cisterna for a length of some four miles along the main rail line to Rome.

Break Thru Nazi Defenses.

North of Cassino American forces, despite terrific German opposition and obstacles such as diversion of the course of the Rapido river, have pushed ahead to points more westerly than Cassino itself, which now has allied troops on three sides of it. American infantry and tanks yesterday fought their way into the villages of Cairo and Monte Villa, two miles and one mile north of Cassino, respectively.

"The American attack broke thru German defenses in the area north of Cassino, known as the Facciano mountains, catching the Germans by surprise," an allied spokesman said. "A 75 millimeter gun with its crew of 15 was taken intact along with a prisoner bag of 42."

British troops attacking along the coastal sector west of the Garigliano river yesterday captured Mount Rotundo, two and one-half miles northwest of Castelforte, and Mount Jugan, three miles northeast of Castelforte. There now is a distance of approximately 50 miles between the two 5th army forces at the closest point along the coast.

Score Big Air Victory.

The allies coupled their land advances with a smashing air victory over the week-end which thwarted German plans to draw bombers from other parts of Europe and concentrate them on fields north of Venice for attacks on the Rome bridgehead area and the huge allied invasion fleet.

American Flying Fortresses and Liberators destroyed many enemy planes sitting on the fields at Villorba, Maniago, Lavarino, and Udine, and with their Lightning and Thunderbolt fighter escorts shot 63 hostile aircraft out of the sky.

Destruction of 63 Nazi planes brought the total bag in the past four days to 153 against a loss of 19 allied craft in this theater.

GERMAN WAR REPORT

Monday's German war bulletin as broadcast by Berlin said:

"From the beachhead of Nettuno the enemy launched an attack toward the north and northeast with strong infantry and tank forces. At the same time he considerably intensified his attacks on the south front, particularly in the area of Minturno-Cassino. The successes of these strenuous enemy efforts were insignificant while his losses were very serious.

"Several dents achieved in the German main defense line were ironed out in energetic counter-attacks while at some other places fighting is continuing. More than 900 prisoners fell into German hands.

"In the course of air raids against German airdromes in north Italy the enemy lost 18 machines which were shot down by German fighters and flak artillery."

THUNDERBOLT PILOT BAGS 6 PLANES—AN ACE IN 15 MINUTES

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Jan. 31 (AP).—During yesterday's spectacular air battles over northern Italy in which 36 enemy planes were shot down, Capt. Herschell H. Green, 23 year old Thunderbolt pilot from Mayfield, Ky., became an ace within 15 minutes or so, by downing six enemy planes.

Capt. Herschell H. Green.

Green charged head on and upward into a formation of Ju-88s, shooting down four. Then he swooped down on a Macchi 202—one of the few Italian planes seen in the air in recent months. Afterwards he got a Dornier 217. Green left Vanderbilt university to join the air forces. He had three earlier victories.

Maj. Anthony Tirk of Grapevine, Tex., credited 2d Lt. Philip C. Whiteside of West Frankfort, Ill., with chasing off six Macchis and saving his life. Whiteside shot down two, bringing his total to four.

A BRITON ADMITS BRITISH COOKING WAS PRETTY BAD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 31.—Minister of Reconstruction Woolton today continued his one man campaign to remind people that everything in the pre-war world wasn't bad. The Communists have consistently denounced pre-war social and economic conditions and have been demanding changes which would constitute a major revolution to the left.

"Let us not discard everything that was in the past. If it had been completely bad it would not have been able to produce us," Woolton warned today.

Woolton said before the war "we had a badly balanced diet and about as bad cooking as could be found in the world," and denounced diets at universities as extremely bad. He suggested that hereafter there should be professors of nutrition "dedicated to teach the relationship of food and health."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 31.—Police today were attempting to uncover a black market in wine. They had reason to believe, they said, that wine without labels and government excise stamps is being sold at bootleg prices of $3 a bottle. The usual price is about 47 cents. The wine, they think, has been smuggled out of wineries.

PRAVDA ASSAILS RUMOR OF GREEK, BULGAR UNION

MOSCOW, Jan. 31 (AP).—Reports of an agreement by the Communist parties of Bulgaria and Greece to form a Balkan union of soviet socialistic republics were characterized by the Communist newspaper Pravda today as a German invention spread by "loafing nitwits" in Cairo.

[Recently Pravda printed as "rumors from Cairo" a dispatch asserting that two leading British personalities had conferred with German Foreign Minister von Ribbentrop on terms for a separate peace.]

An article by Dmitry Zaslavsky said the agreement was supposed to have been signed by Doron Loanidis of the Creek Communist party and Dushan Daskalov of the Bulgarian Communist party. "According to this agreement, the Balkans will be entirely soviet and the borders of the Balkans will be fixed as running along the Danube and to the Adriatic north of Fiume," Zaslavsky said. Zaslavsky wrote that few who heard the report believed it, "but some Greeks picked it up and believed it and became afraid . . . of what? Whom can such a rag scarecrow frighten?"

CRISIS IN ARGENTINE GOVERNMENT NEAR, MONTEVIDEO HEARS

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Jan. 31 (AP).—Private reports from Buenos Aires today said an Argentine government crisis was expected in the next few days and that Gen. Arturo Rawson, who recently resigned as ambassador to Brazil, had been denied permission to return to Argentina. These sources said President Pedro Ramirez was expected to retain control of the situation resulting from Argentina's severance of relations with the axis.

First reaction was the unofficial announcement that three cabinet ministers had resigned, but later it was said the entire cabinet offered to withdraw an allow Ramirez to reshuffle the government. It was said to be likely that a series of resignations of high officials, including the mayor of Buenos Aires, would be announced gradually to prevent the impression that the government was full of men who opposed breaking relations with the axis.

There was a possibility that only two of the present ministers would remain in office. They are Foreign Minister Alberto Gilbert and War Minister Gen. Edelmiro Farrell, who also is vice president. Both supported Ramirez.

LONDON FEARS NAZIS WILL LAY ROME IN RUINS

LONDON, Jan. 31 (AP).—With allied armies drawing closer to Rome, the decision whether it will escape ravages rests with the Germans. Fears are being expressed in London that the Nazis are ready to lay the city in ruins.

So far the allies have spared Rome without giving it the status of an open city. The "Eternal City" is a junction for a network of railroads and, since it is the most important communications center in Italy, it would be impossible to make it an open city as long as a single German soldier stays in it.

Allied artillery missiles already are showering around Castel Gandolfo, summer residence of Pope Pius XII., 16 miles southwest of Rome, axis reports said.

Pope Determined to Stay.

The Pope is reported to be determined to remain in the Vatican, which has been marked clearly to avoid air raids, and axis reports have suggested that the Germans have tried without success to persuade the Pope to move.

The Germans are reported by Italian refugees to be doing in Rome the same kind of a job they did in Naples, sowing explosives and mining key points and utilities. Refugees have told of widespread demolitions.

Militarily and politically, Rome is as important to one side as to the other, and the considerations governing allied policy are the same as when the question of bombing Rome arose last July. If the situation requires it, the allies are ready to battle for Rome.

Nazis Will Force Battle.

If for no other reason than their hatred of what they call the Italian "betrayal," the Germans apparently are prepared to make such a battle necessary.

There is no disposition here to consider the possibility of the capital escaping thru any declaration by the Germans or the puppet fascist government that Rome is an open city. Even when Marshal Pietro Badoglio declared Rome an open city after the Italian surrender last summer, the allies did not accept that unilateral action.

It would be virtually impossible for the Germans to supply their armies south of Rome without using the city. The only way Rome could escape would be for the Germans to withdraw north of it. Few here expect they will do this.

Freed

Mrs. Genevieve Fawcett listening in elevator to Atty. George Crane after she was freed yesterday on drunken driving charge.

Mrs. Genevieve Fawcett, wife of James [Red] Fawcett, fugitive south side gunman sought for the murder of Martin Quirk, was freed yesterday of a charge of driving while intoxicated by Judge William V. Daly in Safety court.

"I'll give her the benefit of the doubt," Judge Daly commented after he reviewed contradictory testimony of policemen regarding Mrs. Fawcett's arrest Nov. 27 at 55th street and the Outer drive. Mrs. Fawcett testified she had drunk only a few beers with Matthew Rauen, ex-tavern keeper.

A deposition from Sgt. James Little of the Hyde Park station, who is in Hines Memorial hospital, said that Mrs. Fawcett, altho she may have had some drinks, was not drunk. He added he had booked her at the insistence of park district policemen.

MILLION CHINESE DIE OF FAMINE, U. S. AID FINDS

CHUNGKING, China, Jan. 31 (AP).—A million Chinese have died of famine and cholera in Kwangtung province, George Edgar Adams, secretary of the American advisory committee for southeast China, asserted today.

Adams, who arrived in Chungking to appeal for help to save additional thousands from death this spring, said the Chinese were selling their children to gain sustenance.

"Eighty per cent of the population of some villages has been wiped out by famine and disease," he said. "Countless thousands of children are orphans. Thousands have become migrant beggars. Whole families have been destroyed and the entire social and economic structure of a hard working progressive people has crumbled." Adams attributed the famine to a plague of locusts, speculation in rice, and hoarding.

WAR USES BOOST JANUARY WATER TAXES BY $67,824

City water tax collections during January totaled $1,285,387, J. J. Elliott, superintendent of water, reported yesterday to Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works. This is $67,824 more than was collected during January of 1943, Hewitt said, and the increase is attributable to war industries. Hewitt said that at the present rate, Chicago's water tax receipts probably will be half a million dollars more in 1944 than the 1943 total of $15,850,000.

HERE'S LIBERTY SHIP THAT TOOK A LOT OF SINKING

Every Man in Her Crew of 37 Saved.

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

COLOMBO, Ceylon, Jan. 24 [Delayed].—Here's an incident in the warfare being waged in the Indian ocean. I happened to stumble on it when 37 American seamen from a sunken Liberty ship appeared in Colombo. They had lost everything and were receiving a complete outfit of clothes and other comforts from the Ceylon Merchant Service league. This is a voluntary organization of Colombo women who donate their money as well as their services.

The Liberty ship, skippered by Capt. E. W. MacLellan of Hanson, Mass., with a crew entirely from Texas and Louisiana, had been crossing the Indian ocean unescorted and at full speed. Just before dawn one morning she was hit forward, probably by a torpedo. The forward holds filled quickly, and when the hatches were awash the captain ordered the ship abandoned. There had been no casualties from the explosion. All hands took to boats and stood off for several hours.

Board Ship Again.

The ship still remained afloat, so the captain with 30 volunteers reboarded and tried to save her. With three holds flooded, the captain reckoned another torpedo would finish the vessel, and anyhow the pumps weren't clearing the water fast enough. So, they again abandoned the ship and all night they laid off some three miles astern. During the night there was a flash and another explosion—probably another torpedo—and with daybreak there was no more ship there.

They feared shelling in the open boats, and their eight boats dispersed "so as not to make it easy for him." They thus went thru another day. Finally, when they had been three times sighted by aircraft they were picked up by a corvette. Heavy seas washed over the decks where they had bedded down, so they were landed at the first port.

British army authorities put them up in an army camp. There, they lived in huts, did their own cooking, and were kept awake all night by the tom toms in a neighboring village. Later, the Americans were brought to Colombe and put to bed in hotels. Soon they will return to the United States.

Only one man was sent to a hospital. He had been hurt, but not seriously, while getting into a life boat.

In Three Sinkings.

Capt. MacLellan's ships have now been sunk three times. The first time was in thes North Atlantic. In the last two sinkings he has not lost a man. He credits continual and careful lifeboat drills. He added:

"All three times I've been sunk we've never seen the thing. You have to keep lookouts all the time, and still sometimes they don't see the sub. It's a constant strain that some people don't realize. You may be attacked any time of the day or night. The first time for me it was 11 in the morning. The next was in the afternoon. This time it was before dawn.

"Any time of day and weather you have to keep on the lookout. Once, I found some survivors of a ship which had been torpedoed during a gale in the middle Atlantic. This last time I cannot imagine why the Japs didn't come up and finish us off at once. My naval gunners fired some rounds and that may have scared them off."

A. J. MULLANEY CHOSEN CHIEF FIRE MARSHAL

Anthony J. Mullaney, an authority on fire prevention methods, yesterday was named chief fire marshal, at a salary of $8,964 a year by Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan. He has been acting chief marshal for more than a year and in a civil service examination for the post had the highest grade of those seeking the appointment.

Anthony J. Mullaney.

Mullaney has been a member of the department since May 14, 1914, and has taken every civil service examination prescribed for firemen in gaining the series of promotions that carried him from assistant engineer thru the various grades to his present position.

Fire prevention methods have been studied by him for many years and his ideas have been put into effect in 400 war plants in Chicago in the last 13 months, John L. Fenn, chief of the fire prevention bureau, said yesterday. The list of war plants was prepared for Mullaney by the internal security division of the 6th service command. If plants failed to follow the department's safety suggestions, they were closed by the army. It was necessary to close only three for a few days and the record shows there has not been an extra alarm fire in any of the 400.

HULL ADMITS U. S. SECRET PAPER ON BOLIVIAN REVOLT

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—Secretary of State Hull confirmed today the existence of a secret United States document containing charges respecting the revolutionary government of Bolivia and, presumably, its relation to Argentina, but declined to reveal its contents.

The secretary was asked at a press conference for comment on published reports that the document had been prepared containing serious charges of axis connections against members of the Argentine government which finally broke relations with Germany and Japan last week.

After the Bolivian government was overthrown last month, Hull replied, the United States and 18 other Amercian nations began exchanging information. Eventually, he said, Washington assembled a document which included facts supplied by other governments as well as this government. He was careful not to deny the existence of information respecting alleged axis connections of Argentine officials.

In a single day's auction 123 pictures were sold for a total of 55 million francs recently. Art experts were reported to be making fortunes both as buyers and agents.

BARONET OF 63, SECRETARY, 19, WED IN BRITAIN

LONDON, Jan. 31 (AP).—Cuthbert de Hoghton, 63 years old, whose baronetcy, created in 1611, is the second oldest in England, was married today to his 19 year old secretary, Philomena Simmons, the daughter of one of his widow tenants.

Several hundred women attracted by the wedding of the baronet to the brunet, rosy cheeked girl, were unable to get into the unusually crowded Roman Catholic church of Our Lady and Saint Patrick near Preston, London suburb. The bride's brother, George, 16, a coal company clerk, gave her away. De Hoghton's estate agent was best man.

The couple met after his first wife's death last October overwhelmed De Hoghton with correspondence. When the engagement was announced last week he declared "I have always been proud that I am a true Tory Democrat and I see no reason why a marriage of this character should not take place."

NOVA PICTORIS, NEW STAR, RUNS FLAT AT POLES

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Jan. 31 (AP).—A new celestial phenomenon, a star flattened at its poles, was reported today by Dr. J. S. Paraskevopoulos, director of the Harvard observatory at Bloemfontein. He said the discovery may throw some light on the mystery of the origin of solar systems, like that of the earth and other planets.

This is the first time in astronomical records that a star has been actually seen flattened at its poles, or to be more exact, having an elongated, elliptical shape.

The star is Nova Pictoris, a comparatively rare type that flared in 1925. Three years later it had four companions. These were luminous bodies of light, presumably either flaming matter which had been ejected, or else the same matter, cold and shining in reflected light. The quartet gradually moved away from Nova Pictoris.

You bet we're buying War Bonds

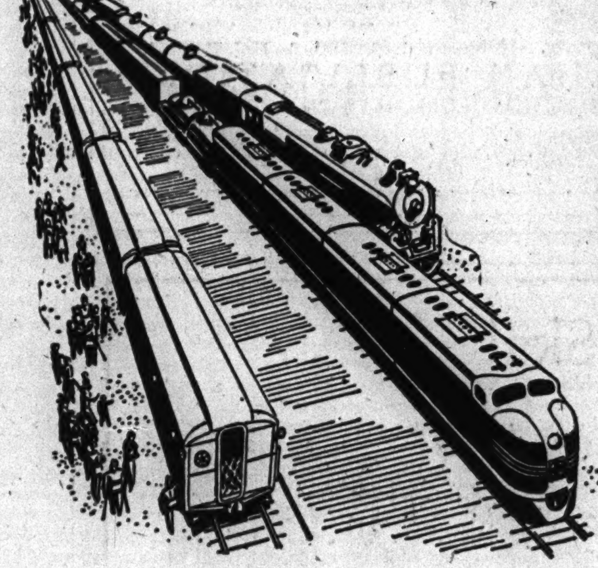
Santa Fe



Troop trains . . . hospital trains . . . trains loaded with tanks, planes, guns, and food, bring us pretty close to the war.

We see plenty of them on the Santa Fe.

Already over 9,000 of our employes are in the armed forces.

That's why we railroad folks know how important it is to buy War Bonds and keep on buying them.

Approximately 50,000 of our people are buying War Bonds through the payroll deduction plan to back up our armed forces, as well as to save for peace and the future.

The Santa Fe Railway has purchased large amounts of Government securities—and that policy will be continued.

If you were "Workin' on the Railroad" these days, we believe you, too, would buy an extra War Bond during this 4th War Bond Drive.

RUSSIANS DRIVE WITHIN 8 MI. OF ESTONIA BORDER

Fight for Old Customs Station, Kingisepp.

LONDON, Feb. 1 [Tuesday]—(AP).—Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad army battled its way yesterday into the suburbs of Kingisepp, prewar customs station within eight miles of the Estonian frontier. It also crossed the Luga river 27 miles southeast of Kingisepp in a relentless surge toward Narva's ancient battlements inside Estonia, a Moscow war bulletin announced today.

The Russians announced the capture of Lipa, two miles beyond the west bank of the Luga south of Kingisepp. There were indications that the Russians also might have crossed the river closer to Kingisepp, since the bulletin announced the capture of two towns, on the Luga three miles north of Kingisepp, and another six miles to the southeast and said the river was crossed at several points.

Kingisepp is 10 miles west of Veimarn, which was captured on Sunday. It is the last rail station on the way to the Estonian frontier. Narva, which has seen little else except war in its 600 years of history, lies 13 miles west of Kingisepp.

Race for Narva Land Gap.

The soviet race toward the 30 mile wide Narva land gap between the Gulf of Finland and Lake Peipus overran 60 localities during the day, and 23 more were taken in the push south and southwest of the Narva railway in the direction of Luga and Pskov.

Farther south other units under Govorov, swinging down the highway and railway to the city of Luga, plunged to within 37 miles of a junction with Gen. K. A. Meretskov's army in a rapid pincers movement which already had cut off disorganized groups of Germans in a bleak expanse of lakes and forests to the east.

Meretskov's troops were meeting stiffer German opposition as they closed in on the last German rail escape line, but they pushed on to take 40 places during the day. A town 22 miles south of Luga, was captured.

Gen. M. M. Popov's 2d Baltic army also advanced toward Latvia from fallen Novosokolniki on the lower end of the 230 mile northern front.

NAZI WAR BULLETIN

Monday's German war bulletin as broadcast by Berlin said:

"Southwest of Dnepropetrovsk the Russians launched an attack with several rifle divisions supported by tanks and battle planes. They were repulsed with heavy losses inflicted on them. A counter-attack was launched against one enemy dent.

"While northwest of Kirovograd numerous enemy attacks were smashed, heavy fighting against advancing enemy groups is continuing southwest of Cherkasi and southeast of Belaya Tserkov [all in the Dnieper bend]. The soviets suffered severe losses during thrusts made by German tank formations.

"During offensive fighting in the area south of Pogrebishche [western Ukraine] between Jan. 24 and Jan. 30 more than 10 soviet rifle divisions and several tank corps were wiped out. The soviets lost in this period 6,500 prisoners and more than 8,000 dead.

"Between the Pripet and Berezina rivers all soviet break-thru attempts were warded off in heavy fighting yesterday and several local dents were sealed off.

"Between Lake Ilmen and the Gulf of Finland the soviets gained further ground in several sectors despite local defensive successes by German troops. Heavy defensive fighting is continuing with unabated intensity."

GREEN PROMISES TO DON DOTTIE'S SARONG, CUT HAY

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 31 (AP).—Gov. Dwight H. Green made a promise tonight to push a lawnmower thru a 25 acre patch of young timothy—clad in one of Dorothy Lamour's old sarongs. In seriousness or in jest—the governor never explained which—it brought $460,000 in war bond sales.

The governor's role was the feature of a war bond auction sponsored by the Springfield Rotary club during which individuals and corporations put $877,800 on the line to pledge dignitaries to humble tasks.

Gov. Green promised to mow a lawn for the corporation or person buying the most war bonds for his services. Some one bid $100. It got up to $200 and was stalling, when the governor said: "I'll do it in Dorothy Lamour's sarong." The bidding became spirited and finally Don Schweitzer, Springfield manager for the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company, put in the $460,000 bid on behalf of the company.

"We're growing a 25 acre patch of timothy on the company's plant grounds," Schweitzer told the governor. "You can start on that."

New Successes for Red Armies

Chicago area home owners should have burned not more than 55 per cent of their fuel oil rations to date, Alex Elson, acting regional OPA administrator, said yesterday in announcing the 14th weekly fuel oil index report. Recent mild weather does not mean spring is here, and much colder weather is in prospect, he warned in urging that thermostats be kept at maderate temperatures.

Extension of dollar and cents ceiling prices on fresh fruits and vegetables, which are now in effect in the Chicago area, to rural areas of the middle west region also was announced by Elson. The flat maximums will be effective today. Prices generally will be revised monthly. Retailers covered by the rural order will be notified and will be required to post price lists either furnished them by the OPA or obtainable from local ration boards.

Yesterday was the last day for restaurants and hotels to register under the new OPA plan for obtaining food allotments. The plan, effective March 1, is designed to accomplish a more equitable allocation of food to commercial eating establishments by separating customers served refreshments only from those buying food in the individual establishment's tabulation of the number of persons served.

February rationing quotas releasing new cars and bicycles are the lowest since distribution of these items came under controls, the OPA reported in Washington.

The new passenger automobile quota was fixed at 10,000 units, with the number of bicycles available for sale reduced to 7,500. In January 15,000 cars and a like number of bicycles were made available.

The OPA said the reduction in quotas was necessary to preserve dwindling supplies of new cars and bicycles for essential uses.

Ration Point Payments Double Fats Donations

Kitchen fats salvage donations have doubled since the office of price administration last Dec. 13 arranged to pay 2 ration points for each pound of waste fat, the OPA said yesterday. Housewives are now turning in waste fat to their butchers at the rate of 200 million pounds a year, 30 million pounds less than the minimum goal.

ENLIST U. S. AID TO TRACK DOWN BIRD POISONER

New York, Jan. 31 (AP).—The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals announced today it has enlisted the aid of the United States and the New York state departments of agriculture in tracing strychnine contamination of a scratch feed bin which reportedly caused the death of at least 81 pigeons in New York City.

Miss Anne L. Carmody, chief clerk of the humane work division of the ASPCA, said she also planned to ask the help of the federal bureau of investigation, because the downtown stores where the contaminated feed was found is a public market.

She said that altho the feed probably was contaminated accidentally, and a test of feed disclosed the supply there now was pure, farmers who purchased feed previously might endanger their stock by its use. Miss Carmody said there had been no new reports of pigeon deaths since yesterday, when 18 of the birds dropped from flight and died on a midtown street.

BYRD TO DEMAND PARTY APPROVAL ON GUFFEY POST

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—Sen. Byrd [D., Va.] said today he would insist that the senate Democratic conference approve the choice of a successor to Sen. Guffey [D., Pa.] as chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee.

Guffey said yesterday he had been removed as chairman of the committee, altho Democratic Leader Barkley [Ky.] previously told reporters Guffey had resigned, subject to selection of his successor. Altho appointment of the chairman rests by custom with Barkley, Byrd said he thought the majority leader ought to submit the selection to the conference.

Sen. O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.] is mentioned most frequently as a successor to Guffey, who incurred the wrath of southern Democrats when he accused them of joining with Republicans in an "unholy alliance" to defeat an administration service vote bill.

WPA's 8 Year Spending Total Nearly 13 Billion

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—The work projects administration spent $10,136,743,293 in WPA funds and $2,837,713,394 in sponsors' funds during its eight year existence—from June 30, 1935, to June 30, 1943—and supplied employment to 8,500,000 persons, Administrator Philip B. Fleming said in a report transmitted to congress by President Roosevelt. The WPA has been liquidated under direction of the President.

CRITICAL LABOR SHORTAGE FOUND IN ARMY DEPOT

The army's quartermaster depot in Chicago, which buys, inspects, and tests three-quarters of all the food and nonordnance supplies for the army and sends them all over the world, has a critical labor shortage that must be overcome at once.

Brig. Gen. J. E. Barzynski, commanding officer, yesterday listed a dozen worker classifications that the huge depot—pronounced "depp-o" in the army—must have immediately, ranging from real pistol packin' mamas to food technicians. The lady-gun toters really tote 'em, too, because the shortage of men forced the army to put women in guards' uniforms.

More women guards are needed. Gen. Barzynski said he could take on a couple of dozen this week. Expert shots are preferred, but that qualification is not necessary.

More Civilians Needed.

Ninety-nine per cent of the thousands of persons who work in the depot, which covers several square blocks, are civilians, all under civil service. This has released many officers and men for combat duty, but has made the need for additional civilian workers more imperative, the general said.

The army could not get along without the QM depots, he said, particularly the one in Chicago. It buys millions of dollars worth of clothes, food, furniture, medical supplies, and what it calls "housekeeping" items every day, including such odd things as ecclesiastical appointments, skis and snowshoes, horse clipping machines, safes, and chairs.

Laboratories Want Help.

Food technicians are needed in the two acres of laboratories, which have produced the C, D, and K rations, and the new "10 in 1" ration, a 45 pound box of food, minerals, and vitamins that provides a full day's supply of food for 10 men. These rations keep indefinitely, and contain nearly twice as much nourishment as the average adult civilian gets.

"Our laboratories develop, create, and do the research on all types of food used by the army, navy, and marine corps," Gen. Barzynski said. "Well, not all the research, because we send men all over the world checking up on how the troops like the stuff we send them, how much they gripe about it and what they want us to replace with something more to their liking. The army itself really is our research staff.

"Guinea Pig Club" Critical.

"But our own 'guinea pig club' does the preliminary testing. It has 125 voluntary members. All they eat every noon are army rations. They are pretty critical, and, if a new product doesn't appeal to them, we throw it out. Some go on a given ration for 5 to 15 days, eating nothing else, to see how it works out.

"We roast 50,000 pounds of coffee every day, and we supervise the cutting of meat. The army doesn't get any bones now. Every bit of meat is boned, processed, packed, and frozen, and all is edible. We know that by a 90 per cent reduction in demand for garbage cans."

Supervision Is Maintained.

Only about 10 per cent of its purchases are inspected at the depot. All are tested by army inspectors at the point of manufacture, and most are sent directly to camps or overseas. Just enough are sent here for analysis to make sure that manufacturers keep up quality. Even the 10 per cent takes thousands of testers and analysts.

The tremendous amount of clerical work has brought about a critical shortage of stenographers and secretaries, the general said. More than 200 of these are needed immediately. Other workers who are in demand are accountants, chemists, statisticians of many kinds, and laborers.

"They are all just as important as a man with a gun," Gen. Barzynski said. "If we don't get them, we will have to use soldiers, and we are trying to build up the army, not rob it of trained men."

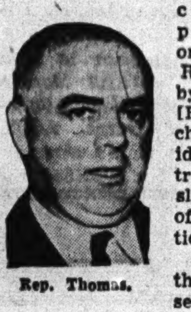
CHARGES F. D. R. BETRAYED LABOR TO GET 4TH TERM

Thomas Blames Him for War Strikes.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—The blame for wartime strikes in this country was placed directly on President Roosevelt today by Rep. Thomas [R., N. J.], who charged the President has "betrayed labor thru slipshod handling of labor relations."



Rep. Thomas.

Appealing to the President to set up a single agency to handle war labor problems, Thomas declared in a statement that the President has "run out" on his own labor policy chiefs in order to further his fourth term ambitions.

"The blame for these strikes and work stoppages," Thomas said, "belongs squarely on the desk of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, that great humanitarian who the Democratic national committee tells us must be reëlected because our allies want it that way.

Surrenders to Pressure.

"I charge that President Roosevelt, having built his administration on labor's support, has betrayed labor thru slipshod handling of labor relations in time of war, thru too great diffusion of too little power, thru too many boards and agencies, and thru a craven surrender to pressure exerted by one powerful union head who didn't see any reason why the war should stop his men from getting what he had promised them.

"Under President Roosevelt, the labor policy of the federal government has been administered by some 25 different boards and agencies. Their powers and authority conflict all over the lot. None of them is sure just what they can or can't do."

Chance for Applause.

Thomas declared the President's surrender to Lewis in the coal wage dispute was a betrayal of AFL and CIO heads William Green and Philip Murray because it put "unbearable pressure" on the latter two to get something for their members too.

If, however, the President had backed the WLB in resisting Lewis' demands, the congressman said, "organized labor would have applauded him and our war effort would be farther along."

"The President is running so hard for a fourth term," Thomas said, "that he wouldn't dream of going to the mat with any labor leader who might hurt his vote next November, and that explains why he let John L. Lewis get away with it. Organized labor has been hit a body blow thru the cynical political maneuver of letting it take the rap in the public mind."

'GUNNER'S MATE' IN GLASSES HELD TO FEDERAL JURY

Eugene S. Boxer, 25 years old, New York City, a bespectacled pharmacist, was held to the grand jury by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker on a charge of illegally wearing the uniform of a gunner's mate in the United States navy. His masquerade was ended by shore patrol officers who knew that a gunner's mate cannot wear glasses. Boxer said he bought the uniform to facilitate a hitch-hiking trip to Texas, where he intended to join the merchant marine.

CIVILIAN SUPPLY OF FATS AND OILS REDUCED BY WFA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—The war food administration today broke the news to civilians that they are being allotted this year the smallest per capita stocks of butter and shortening in the last decade.

The WFA said 21 per cent of the supply of fats and oils will go to America's allies and that Russia and Great Britain will receive 16.3 per cent of the entire supply.

Under the present schedule this year, each American civilian will be allocated approximately 43.9 pounds of edible fats and oils, including butter, lard, shortening, and other oils, and margarine. This compares with a per capita consumption of 46.5 pounds in 1943, 48.8 pounds in 1942, and 51.3 in 1941.

Shortenings to Be Reduced.

Civilian allocations of cooking oils and vegetable oil shortening will be reduced to 14.3 pounds per capita, the WFA said. The agency reported that the per capita consumption of these was 16.4 pounds in 1943, 17.3 in 1942, and 18.9 in 1941.

The announcement said per capita stocks of lard, while not as large as last year or in 1941 or 1932, will be slightly larger than in the years immediately following 1933. The allocation program calls for 13.9 pounds of lard per person in 1944, compared with 14.3 pounds in 1943.

Shipments to Be Heavy.

"Shipments to our allies will continue at a high level and military requirements will expand," the WFA announcement said. "Relief requirements for Europe may be fairly large. It is possible the domestic supply situation for fats and oils, after becoming somewhat easier in the next few months, may grow more stringent again before the end of the year."

ASSERTS SPAIN TO BREAK WITH AXIS THIS WEEK

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 31 (AP).—Spain will break relations with the axis this week, an informed source forecast tonight. According to this source, the move will be forced by increasing pressure from Britain and the United States, which it is said, includes a threat that those powers will break with Spain if she does not break with the axis. The informant, an important South American diplomat, said Spain would yield to the allied pressure, which already had included intimation of a blockade that would cut Spain off from vital supplies and foodstuffs.

POLICE SHAKEUP ORDERED; SHIFT 48 LIEUTENANTS

24 Sergeants Moved with 71 Patrolmen.

In a sweeping transfer order, the first since the October grand jury began an inquiry into syndicate gambling in Chicago and Cook county, Police Commissioner Allman last night ordered the reassignment of 143 men—48 lieutenants, 24 sergeants, and 71 patrolmen. Five of the lieutenants and 16 of the sergeants had been promoted to those positions in an earlier order.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

[This department answers questions covering problems related to the social welfare of relatives of service men, both in the column and by mail, if stamped, addressed envelopes are sent with inquiries to Sally Joy Brown.]

Mrs. B. writes: "Is it possible for me to send 50 feet of movie film thru the mails to my husband overseas? They are pictures of our daughter, whom he has never seen, and he has informed me that there is a projector available."

ANSWER: Yes, films such as you describe may be sent to army men overseas by regular mail if you have a written request. If the film weighs less than 8 ounces it may be sent by first class mail without a request.

Mrs. F. F. writes: Will you please advise me? I have a son in service who provides me with an allowance of $37 a month. If I obtain work, will that check be discontinued?"

ANSWER: If you obtain employment it will be necessary for you to report that fact to the headquarters of the service which provides your family allowance. If your salary is sufficient to maintain you and you can no longer be considered dependent upon your son, your eligibility for the allowance ceases.

Mrs. T. G. writes: "My husband is in the navy. We have one child, a baby 9 months old. At the time of his birth I did not request assistance from the navy in order to obtain free maternity care. However, the child was born with a deformed foot and I am faced with the prospect of a series of operations and other expensive medical care for him. He has been having such treatment, but it must be continued for some time, and I can no longer afford it. Do you suppose that the navy will help me?"

ANSWER: I believe that if you will contact the Navy Relief society, Great Lakes, Ill., and explain the circumstances, that society will help you. There is a government provision for free pediatric care for service men's children under 1 year of age. That agency will provide details concerning the plan.

S. F. writes: "My brother has been in the army for almost two years and is now stationed overseas. He never applied for an allowance for my mother but, due to her recent illness, it is now necessary. Does my brother have to get the necessary papers, or may she file?"

ANSWER: If at all possible, it would be best to have your brother file the application for the family allowance for your mother. If that is not feasible, have her contact the Army Emergency Relief society, room 1109, 20 North Wacker drive. That agency can supply the necessary government forms.

Mrs. I. M. writes: "Will you advise me if I am entitled to a family allowance? Before my son enlisted in the navy he was working and contributed a substantial amount toward the maintenance of our home. I am earning a small salary but I have had numerous medical and dental expenses and find it insufficient to support me at the present time. My son is willing to provide his contribution, and I wondered if you would advise me to apply for assistance.

ANSWER: Decisions as to the eligibility of class B dependents are made by the navy department on the basis of information supplied by the service man or, if necessary, by investigation. Your son may apply for an allowance for you and the application will then be considered and either accepted or rejected by the navy department.

N. Y. Attorney Wins Stay in His Extradition Fight

Atty. Joseph T. Nielson, who is charged in New York City with embezzlement of $35,000 from the Texas Oil company, was granted 30 days by Judge Harold G. Ward in Criminal court yesterday to appeal in Appellate court from an extradition order removing him to New York. Nielson was arrested Sept. 9 at 2270 East 70th place.

CHICAGO LAWN COP INDICTED IN RAPE CASE

George Peterman, 35 years old, suspended Chicago Lawn policeman, was reported indicted by the grand jury yesterday on a charge of attempted rape and four charges of assault alleged to have been committed while he was on a drunken spree in South Holland Jan. 18. His bond was fixed at $13,000.

The rape complainant is Miss Rose Reidy, 27, of 6118 Morgan street, who had accompanied Peterman on a tour of taverns. Edwin Shapiro, assistant state's attorney, said Miss Reidy had testified the suspended policeman beat her with his revolver.

Peterman also was accused of assault by Kenneth Dailey, 26, of 228 157th street, Harvey, a passing motorist who reported he was slugged when Miss Reidy appealed to him for aid. Two South Holland policemen signed complaints that Peterman threatened to shoot them.

JURY COMMENDS COP IN SLAYING OF JAIL BREAKER

Policeman Clark Scurrah, 36 years old, rookie of the Glen Ellyn force, was commended by a Du Page county coroner's jury yesterday for killing Michael Cerese, 28, a Chicago fugitive, in a revolver duel in Glen Ellyn Friday.

Cerese, under a life sentence as an habitual criminal, escaped from the Cook county jail Jan. 12. Scurrah surprised Cerese and two accomplices attempting to rob a coal company.

After killing the fugitive, Scurrah, who was wounded in the left arm, captured William Spotnik by pointing his empty pistol at him. Spotnik, who lives at 5122 Sunnyside avenue, will be arraigned in Wheaton, Feb. 9, on a charge of burglary.

WHAT MEDICAL, DENTAL EXPENSE YOU MAY DEDUCT

Must Exceed 5 Per Cent of Your Net Income.

[Copyright: 1944: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Medical and dental expenses are deductible to a limited extent in arriving at the amount of net income subject to normal tax and surtax, but are not deductible in determining victory tax liability.

To be deductible the medical expenses must have been actually paid during the year, and if any reimbursement was received in the form of insurance or workmen's compensation, it must be subtracted from the expenses.

Medical and dental expenses are deductible only to the extent that they exceed 5 per cent of net income before allowing for this deduction. Net income is the figure shown as item 18 on return form 1040, page 1, after subtracting all the deductions listed as items 11 to 16. In determining the amount of deductible medical expenses, however, net income would be the figure arrived at after deducting only items 11, 12, 13, 14, and 16.

Limit on Deductions.

The total deduction for a married couple or a head of a family is limited to $2,500, and for single individuals it is $1,250.

A special schedule, schedule H, is provided in the 1943 version of form 1040, to assist taxpayers in arriving at the correct amount that may be deducted for medical and dental expenses. The name and address of the person to whom payments were made, the approximate date of payment, and the amount, must be listed.

To illustrate the method of computing the medical expense allowance, suppose a single person has a net income for 1943 of $2,000 after all allowable deductions except medical expenses. Suppose too that he had medical expenses of $500, and received reimbursement of $250 on an accident and health insurance policy, leaving net expenses of $250. Five per cent of the $2,000 net income is $100. Therefore, $150, the excess of the net medical expense over $100, is deductible.

Types of Excuse Defined.

The instructions accompanying form 1040 define medical and dental expenses, as amounts paid for the "diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease, or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body [including amounts paid for accident or health insurance] of the taxpayer, his spouse, or a dependent of the taxpayer."

Under this broad definition the treasury department allows deductions for artificial teeth, artificial limbs, eye glasses, X-ray or therapy treatments, ambulance service, nurse's board paid by the taxpayer, amounts paid for hospitalization, accident or health insurance, and the cost of membership in an association providing coöperative or free-choice medical service, or group hospitalization, and clinical care. Travel expenses are deductible as medical costs if "primarily for and essential to the rendition of the medical services or to the prevention or alleviation of a physical or mental defect or illness."

Funeral and burial expenses are not deductible.

If a medical expense deduction is taken in one year, and reimbursement for that specific expense is received in a later year, the reimbursement must be added to the taxpayer's reported income for the later year.

[Tomorrow's article will be on deductions for contributions.]

TWO HURT IN GARAGE BLAST.

"I'd started working nights, and with my way of living changed around, I soon found I was taking 3 or 4 laxatives a week, and feeling terrible. Then I heard about KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN through your radio program, 'The Breakfast Club.' Since taking my daily helping of ALL-BRAN, I am regular as clockwork. Thanks for what your ALL-BRAN has done for me!" Mrs. Myrtle Wood, 274 Baumanville St., Akron, Ohio.

Yes, it does seem like magic, the way KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN helps so many people. "Gets at" one common cause of constipation—lack of enough dietary "cellulosic" elements! That's because ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements—which help the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic contents for easy, natural elimination! KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

SOLDIER IS HELD IN SIX SLAYINGS IN LOVERS' LANE

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 31 (AP).—Mercer County Prosecutor Walter W. Cougle today said Clarence Hill, 33, a Negro army private, since March, 1943, was being held at Fort Dix in the investigation of six shotgun slayings in a "lovers' lane" on Duck Island.

No charges have been filed against Hill, the prosecutor said, altho he revealed the soldier had made several statements.

Violent death visited the lonely area about the dismal island, part of Hamilton township, during the autumns of 1938, 1939, and 1940, striking in each case at couples in parked automobiles. Twice shotgun shells found near the bodies showed the same weapon was used, and the police theorized the same person committed all six murders.

The soldier in custody was reported to be a former resident of Hamilton township and the father of two children.

HOW THREE CENSORS TOOK PRECAUTIONS TO ESCAPE CENSURE

MADRID, Spain, Jan. 31 (AP).—It takes a censor to expect the worst from a censor, and the three operating between Spain and the United States apparently want to be sure they are not blamed for what the other fellow does—even if he does nothing. Letters received in Madrid from the United States recently contained:

First, a slip saying, "The United States censor is not responsible for mutilation of this letter;" then another saying the British censor was not responsible, either, and finally a note stamped on the envelope in Spanish saying the Spanish censor also disclaimed responsibility.

The payoff was that all of the letters thus received were in perfect condition.

8 WOMEN PICKED ON JURY FOR GAS SLAYING TRIAL

Eight women jurors qualified to inflict the death penalty were chosen yesterday at the trial of Edward Damiani, 28 years old, and Alvin Krause, 29, for the gas asphyxiation murder of Miss Agnes Olson, 54, a currency exchange cashier in a holdup attempt July 3.

The venire of prospective jurors was exhausted as defense attorneys challenged all men successfully in what appeared to be a move to select an all woman jury. Judge Ward summoned a special venire of 100 prospective jurors to report today.

Judge Ward denied motions for separate trials on the ground that the defendants had become bitter enemies, and could not be tried fairly together. As a precaution, Judge Ward assigned extra bailiffs to stand guard, and one officer sat between Damiami and Krause at their counsel table.

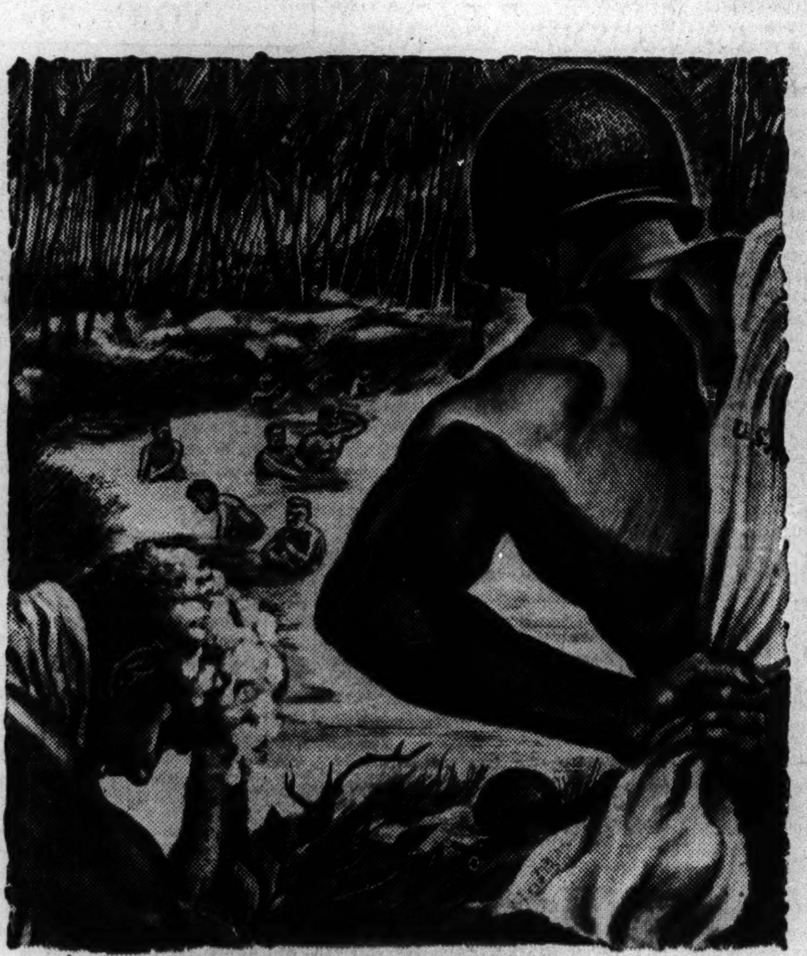
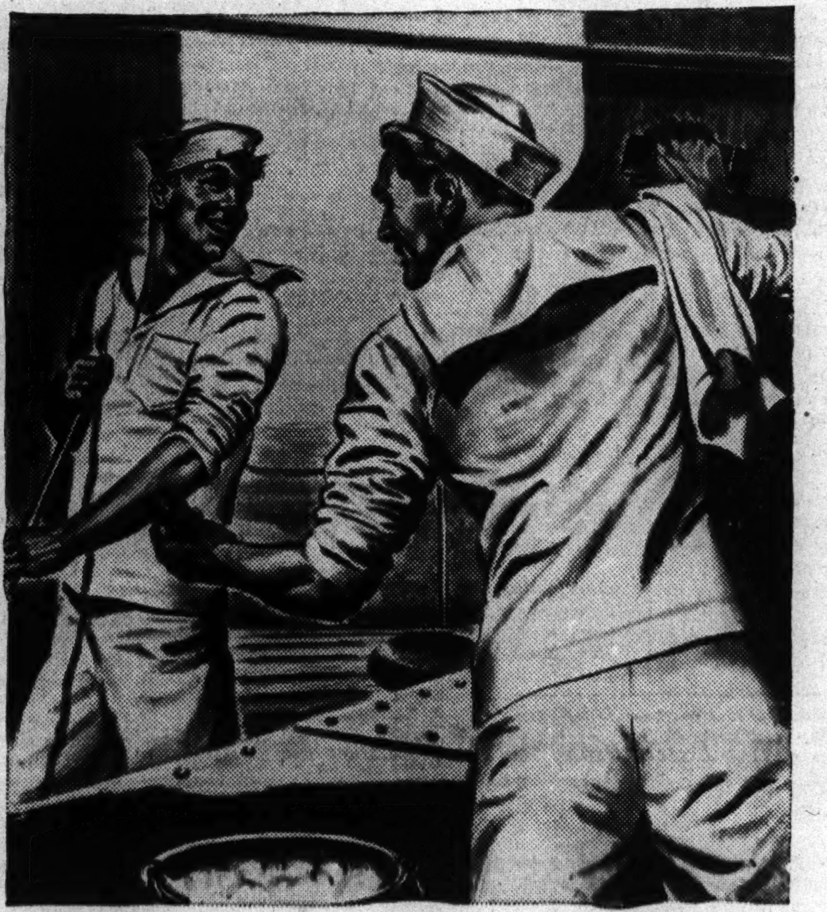
SOAP plays a big part in the lives of our Fighting Men!



SOAP GOES INTO THE JUNGLE. You'll find it with our victorious troops in New Guinea—and it landed with the "leathernecks" at Guadalcanal. Like a letter from home, a good wash-up with Ivory or Camay does a lot to make a weary, grimy soldier or marine feel like a human being again.



THE NAVY IS A CLEAN NAVY. Cleanliness is traditional at sea or ashore. You could dine off the decks of our dreadnoughts and destroyers and our men are just as clean as the ships they sail!

SOAP—plain, everyday soap—is a war material today, a material almost as vital to victory as iron and coal and oil and synthetic rubber.

Soap is a material to be used wisely, not wastefully—to be conserved with patriotic care.

For it's soap that helps guard the health of men in the mud and muck of the battlefields—helps control infection in the sick bays of a thousand ships.

It's needed to keep war workers clean and healthy and "on the job." It's needed to help make production records—inspiring records of planes and ships, tanks and guns.

At Procter & Gamble today we are turning out glycerine for explosives. We make shortening for field ration kits. We produce cellulose which goes to make guncotton for our Armed Forces.

But we are also working night and day at our "regular job" of making Ivory and Camay, Oxydol and Duz! For soap is vital to victory in this war!

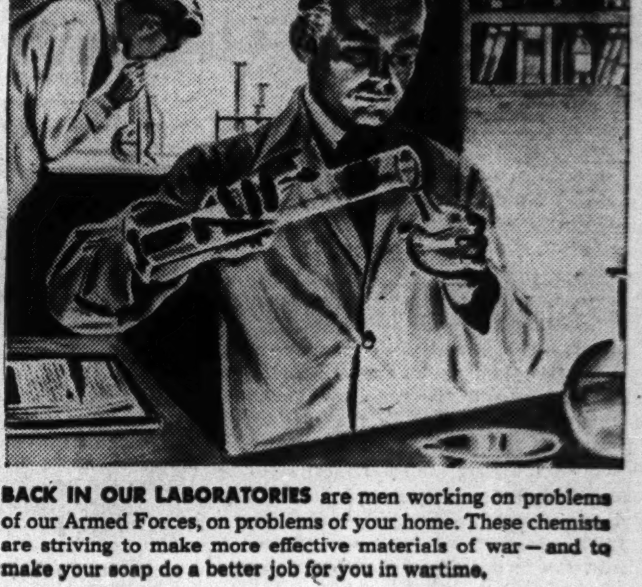
NEEDED MOST OF ALL IN THE HOSPITAL, of course, are Procter & Gamble soaps. Bathing, soothing, refreshing—they're weapons against dirt and disease wherever our armies fight.

PARACHUTE FABRICS ARE TREATED WITH SOAP. So are uniforms and leather and a long list of things our Armed Forces must have. Soap helps to preserve materials used under tough conditions in the field.

...AND ON THE HOME FRONT!

SOAP IS A MAJOR WEAPON on the long home front and at Procter & Gamble we are bending every effort to keep you and your family supplied! Soap is cleanliness. Soap is health. Only a healthy, on-the-job America can produce the weapons needed for victory. Don't waste soap—use it wisely and well!

OUR FEMININE FIGHTERS STAY FEMININE. They're nurses, WACS, WAVES, SPARS, Marines. But first and foremost—wherever the war may take them—they'll always remain girls, dainty girls.



BACK IN OUR LABORATORIES are men working on problems of our Armed Forces, on problems of your home. These chemists are striving to make more effective materials of war—and to make your soap do a better job for you in wartime.

THE FOURTH TERM CLAQUE.

The resolutions adopted by the Democratic national committee at its meeting in Washington, asking Mr. Roosevelt to continue his great humanitarian work, had every resemblance to a prayer and humble petition from the courtiers, sycophants, and privileged hangers-on to the head of the dynasty, asking for a continuance of his glorious rule and his gracious good favors. To such condition has the protracted tenure in the White House reduced the managing body of one of the great American parties. These managers now present the picture of deferential but highly self-interested persons, crowding into the anteroom to the bed chamber, seeking by obsequiousness to retain the privileges the ruler has granted them and to maintain themselves in his good graces.

Every warning which has been given the American people from the time Thomas Jefferson perceived so clearly the dangers of unrestricted tenure, a warning repeated all thru the history of the Republic, has been personified in Franklin D. Roosevelt, the first man deliberately to break down the well established traditions of his office and the well recognized unwritten law which limited the tenure of the White House to two terms.

The people were warned that the man, when he arrived, having lost his sense of the country's good in his own aggravated ambitions, might so entrench himself that he would be able to carry elections and continue in office regardless of the damaging effect upon the country's institutions and its republican establishment. The man did not arrive until Franklin D. Roosevelt, trying to conceal his intentions, used all the resources of his office in times which he had contrived to make unusual and succeeded in capturing a third nomination with pretended reluctance to accept it. Then, with a war in the offing and a make-believe rival running against him, he took the third term for the first time in our history.

The evil of this protracted tenancy is fully illustrated in the conduct of the Democratic party managers. They have reached such a poverty of material and such an itch for political goods that they now act as if they were the time serving adherents of a royal line, from the prerogatives of which they maintain their place in the world.

Mr. Roosevelt is now pursuing the same course he pursued in 1940. He undertakes to withdraw himself from the paramount political issue and retreat into the reticence of a man too occupied by higher things to permit a discussion of the one thing he has most at heart, which is his retention of office. He pretends to resent the suggestion that he has a fourth term in mind, altho any knowing person seeing how he enjoys world acclaim, the romantic exercise of great authority, and association with the chief actors in the world drama and participation in the historic scene must be aware that the one thing preying upon the mind of the chief executive of the United States is the possibility that he might by some political upset be put aside and have no further part in the great events which he sees maturing.

His party managers know that and they obsequiously further his purposes by pretending they are in doubt and fearful lest he decide to retire and leave them without their great patron. He has set a new precedent which invites every other overambitious man to seek just what he himself has sought. If the fourth term became a reality there is no need for any other person, once gaining access to the powers of the chief magistracy, not to use them all to further ambitions and to become a potentate of unrestricted occupancy of office. Mr. Roosevelt has demonstrated how powers and prerogatives, backed by the public funds, can be used to serve such ends.

If this is to be stopped congress must submit to the people a constitutional amendment putting into the organic law the rule that was supposed to prevail because of the patriotism and the self-discipline of the man honored with the office. Congress has been laggard in this matter, altho fears of the situation are freely expressed in debate. Only a constitutional amendment now will prevent a recurrence of such activities and consequences as the nation has observed.

LIFTING THE TIGER'S FACE.

Tammany Hall is busted and in ill repute. It recently had to move out of its sumptuous clubhouse. It has been in the political wilderness for a decade, subsisting on such federal pap as Mr. Roosevelt allows it from time to time. Mayor La Guardia has the jobs, and it is the La Guardia machine and the Communist dominated American Labor party that is relied upon to deliver the votes in New York for the fourth term, but Tammany still has the Democratic party machine. It may not be the power it once was in the election, but it still is to be reckoned with in the convention.

And so the New Dealers have undertaken a face lifting operation on the Tiger. Michael J. Kennedy, the leader of the hall, got a public black eye in the Aurelio judicial scandal. In the course of that affair it was disclosed that Frank Costello, the slot machine racketeer who sponsored Aurelio for the bench, also had had a hand two years before in putting Kennedy at the head of Tammany Hall.

So Kennedy is out as leader, and Edward V. Loughlin is in. Loughlin is Judge Ferdinand Pecora's man. He is on the pay roll as Pecora's secretary. Pecora is the machine lawyer whom Tammany put on the bench after he had had a brief career as a fake reformer. He showed his true colors when District Attorney Dewey prosecuted his brother Tammanyite, Jimmy Hines, before him as a gambling grafter. Pecora persistently harassed the prosecution, and finally granted a mistrial on a trivial technicality. Prosecutor Dewey later took the case before an unprejudiced judge and sent Hines to Sing Sing for eight years.

The face lifting won't work. There is no difference between Costello's man Kennedy and Pecora's man Loughlin. The New Deal machine in New York stands unmasked as a combination of Communists and corruptionists. La Guardia furnishes the Communists. Loughlin is field marshal of the corruptionists.

HITLER AND EUROPE.

Herr Hitler in making his anniversary appearance before the German people, marking the time when the then feeble minded Hindenburg accepted him as chancellor, had very little to add to what he has said on other occasions. Of late he has begun to concede the possibility of defeat and to dwell upon what it would entail, not only for Germany but for continental Europe and nearly all of his present enemies. He must freely concede the military power of the soviet union which he started out to destroy in June, 1941. That he nearly succeeded is no consolation now when the initiative is everywhere in the hands of the Russians, who are slowly delivering their country from the invader.

Hitler never speaks without revealing a European phenomenon which remains forever strange to Americans. How is it possible for such a man, with such a program, to gain control of millions of people who have a deep rooted culture and are capable of great achievements in the arts and sciences? This reference is not to the Germans alone but to nearly all the peoples of Europe, with the exceptions notable for their proportionately small numbers.

Hitler is self-demonstrated as a creature who, at the best, would be a border line mental case. Without any violations to individual liberty he might well have spent all his mature life in an institution for potentially dangerous mental morbidity. He is entering his 12th year in supreme command of 80 million Germans, most of whom apparently have supported him as an inspired leader of their destinies. Many of them have fanatical faith in him which still remains proof against adversity. He was permitted to create a repressive organization and to exterminate where he could not persuade.

These people, highly gifted in many respects in what is called civilization, have never made a serious effort to rid themselves of the individual many of them have deified. Now the German people have little alternative to continuing on their present course. They hear nothing except words which would compel them to believe that defeat means an unendurable catastrophe, worse even than the prolongation of a desperate war with diminishing chances of escape. But there is little evidence that Hitler, the semi-maniac, ever deeply offended the sensibilities or the intelligence of a majority of the people he has led as he willed and to whom he has attached a name for great savagery.

It is not, however, the German people alone who in Europe display this incompetence in the management of their own affairs. The centuries which have allowed the people of Europe to develop a culture did not permit them to learn the science of self-government. A few of the smaller nations are models of excellence in this respect, but even France has oscillated violently from one extreme to another, and up to the very outbreak of the war was so ruptured by political dissension and so ill at ease socially, that it became an easy victim to Hitler's malignant power.

We pin our faith for a better future on the illusion, if not a fantasy, that the various peoples of Europe need only a better opportunity to display a competence in their own affairs which they never have shown. It's hard for us to understand this because, in spite of our mistakes, we have until now managed to carry essential principles safely thru conflict and various internal dissensions.

Europe has nurtured many ideas of self-government and has gone thru many historic episodes in trying to create conditions in which the consent of the governed would be needed to the stability of government. Always the return has been to some form of little restricted authority. All these people seem to have done better when they could trust themselves to the permanency of hereditary government. When they have overthrown that they have been subjected to the tyranny of some individual will, operating ruthlessly with his warrant of office written in the force he was able to command.

Hitler is probably the most unbalanced mind which has been able to achieve this, but the phenomenon in general presents him only as the most fanatic and least composed of the rulers. Europe has little experience with and probably little tolerance for the forms of government which we, full of our own illusions, think must be the basis for the future security of the world.

Test Your Horse Sense
By Dr. George W. Crane

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 14.

1. If the usual air pressure in your auto tire is five pounds less than that which is recommended, the tire life will be reduced by approximately 5 pct. 13 pct. 21 pct. 32 pct.
2. If you inflated your tires to 32 pounds of pressure when the outside temperature was 20 above zero, which one of these readings would most likely apply to them next day if the temperature rose to 70 degrees?
   29 lbs. 34 lbs. 30 lbs. 31 lbs.
3. Which of these berries are usually the first to become marketable? Strawberries Raspberries Gooseberries Blueberries.
4. Which one of these female animals usually bears the most young?
   Ewe Gilt Heifer Mare.
5. Timothy should be associated with which one of these names?
   Bossy Billy Fido Dobbin.
6. This is a True-False problem in which you are to encircle the T in front of a statement if you consider it true, or the F if you deem it false. You deserve one point for each correct judgment.

T F [a] Two pounds overinflation of your tires is less damaging to them than two pounds underinflation.

T F [e] To prevent your wheels from spinning when starting your car on an icy pavement, high gear is better than low gear.

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

THE DOUBLE STANDARD.

"Ah, a double!" sighed the tired income tax returner as he surveyed the parallel columns on the fearful financial fantasy called Form 1040. "Double, double, toil, and trouble." Then he turned to Mr. Lasser's yellow book of interpretations and read:

"Your income tax is actually the sum of three and possibly four separate taxes—the normal tax, surtax, victory tax, and unforgiven tax."

Verily, a double double, and a freak of nature almost equal to the Dionne quintuplets. A fine public document to bury in cornerstones.

The German front across Italy is also a double. One part of it is named the Hitler Line and another the Gustav Line. Thus far we have seen no explanation of the origin of the latter name. Could it be possible that the Nazis have fallen back on the military reputation of Gustavus Adolphus, a Swede?

* * *

The Good Book says that the instructions of the High Command to Noah, the first shipbuilder, were: "Of every living thing of all flesh, two of every sort shalt thou bring into the ark."

* * *

Then there is Double Dutch, a mysterious language for which no dictionary exists. Many of its idioms may be found in Form 1040 instructions.

* * *

Diplopia or double vision is an affliction that is caused by certain derangements or infections of the central nervous system, and is a familiar consequence of overindulgence in double Martinis. This ocular disturbance may also follow concussion with dull, blunt instruments, such as Form 1040.

* * *

The parlor or dinner table game called "philopena" is played with the twin kernels of nuts. There seems to be some relation here with Form 1040, but we can't work it out clearly. Perhaps the evasive idea can be communicated by repeating with a cynical inflection: Nuts!

FIRST SPRING POEM.

Who whispers in aging winter's ear,
"Old man, why do you linger so?

All specked with early daffodils,
And dances with young, impatient feet
Upon the wet and muddy hills.

So youth impetuously claims,
At once, its own place in the sun!
Urging upon reluctant age
This bitter truth—its day is done.

But wisdom knows the too quick bud
Dies by the unexpected frost,
And fame, alas, too swiftly gained,
Is by its easy victor lost.

Praise the Lord and Pass the Pork.

Quite a to-do a while back over some idjit claimin' mincemeat wasn't s'posed to have no meat in it. Gosh all fishhooks, how the mincemeat experts come screechin' outa their bungalows! Brother, the state of the nation is okeh when that many Chicago folks still know what's what. Wish I'd got one of them to do my butcherin' 'stead of the city slicker I got stuck with.

Y'see, last spring I bought me a dandy little Duroc pig. Planted a patch of rape for pasture an' gave him the run of our oak woods, thick with acorns. He got plenty of skim milk slop, an', come fall, I poured the corn into him. No garbage fattened critter for me. He was as pretty a bacon hawg as you ever see; high-arched back, nicely rounded, deep, firm sides, not too fat. Weighed 243 pounds the day we killed him.

On that very day I would have to bang my kneecap into a big rusty nail an' go to the hospital. Then the weather turned drippin' warm an' there we was with that pig not even cut up, sausage an' mincemeat to make, lard to render, hams, an' shoulders, an' bacon to cure an' smoke, an' so forth. So I called up the old woman an' told her to hire somebody, somebody, to cut up that pork an' help her take care of it. An' get him quick! All week I lay there tastin' the fried slices of tenderloin an' the juicy hunks of roast backbone I was goin' to have.

Soon's I got home an' in my big chair I laid my crutches down, took a long swig of hard cider, an' says, "Baby, I'll take some fried tenderloin for lunch, an' let's have the Streibichs an' the Madigans over tonight for a backbone feed. I'll break out that jug of—of—huh?"

There she was, arms akimbo, madder'n a wet hen. "There ain't none," she snaps. "An' jest remember that while you been lallygaggin' with them nurses all week I been out here wrastlin' with that dratted hawg meat. Afore I could say Jack Robinson, that man hung that carcass an' sawed it in two right smack-dab down the middle of the backbone. He left the tenderloins stickin' to the ribs. What you got now, mister, is reg'lation pork chops, which you'll eat an' like it!"

PHLEBITIS TAKES TIME FOR RECOVERY.

We are all dependent upon our veins and arteries. When these conduits become narrowed, inflamed, or blocked—trouble is in prospect.

We are concerned particularly with the structures which deliver used up blood to the heart. When the current undertakes its return trip it is sluggish. Like a meandering stream, it depends for propulsion upon muscular activity. Only by contractions which squeeze these vessels can the backward journey be sustained. In this sense, tossing about during sleep is of some value.

Let us assume that bacteria have attacked a segment of one of these tubes. Swelling of the walls results. In consequence, cells adhere to the lining and the process of coagulation begins. This increases steadily until the caliber of the pathway becomes greatly reduced. Within a day or two, if the situation persists, complete obstruction may ensue.

Sometimes the condition starts because of too much quiet or because the "pipes" have been pinched. If much fluid has been lost, the chances are that the blood has become thicker and hence is more likely to clot. This explains why we do not place hard pillows beneath the knees of those who are obliged to rest in bed. This type of pressure may interfere with the reverse flow to the "pump."

Of course, we must think of infection. Tonsilitis, inflammation within the pelvis—in fact, any germ may be responsible. If beverages are restricted unduly, if excessive vomiting occurs, one of the first things the physician will do is to supply liquids to keep the circulation at par.

Because these plugs tend to extend [some may be a foot or more in length], we keep the affected region as motionless as possible. In time, the deep veins will take up the load or, as the acute symptoms recede, the thrombus [plug] may become grooved. The blood will find its way thru, restoring function to the channel—at least, in part.

As soon as the diagnosis is made, the patient is told to remain in bed. It is well to elevate the affected limb and every voluntary movement is strictly forbidden. Under no circumstances is massage allowed. A tiny fragment may break away and lodge in the lungs. For warmth, the leg is wrapped in cotton and covered with a cradle to which electric light bulbs are attached. Care must be taken not to permit burns. After the mass has become firm [fibrous], light exercise may be permitted.

In the meantime, the leg will swell and various measures are adopted to eliminate the surplus fluid. Here the old fashioned leech [bloodsucker] will accomplish much. But these aquatic animals are not pleasant to look at and esthetic reasons may prevent their employment. If the puffing can be reduced in this manner, however, pain and tenderness will subside more rapidly, the clot will soften, and the duration of the disorder will be abbreviated.

Phlebitis is not a disease of youth. The largest number of cases will appear between the ages of 50 and 60. It behooves all in middle life to watch the state of the blood vessels and to attempt to preserve the circulation at par. One who has a tendency to varicose veins should wear elastic stockings if standing is necessary. Straining at stool should be avoided.

TOO DAMP.

Mrs. Z. writes: You have written several articles on humidity but I would like to ask if it can be overdone. Our house is concrete block and wallboard—no insulation. During the winter the frost on the storm sash is so thick we can't see out. Mildew forms on the woodwork and the furniture.

REPLY.

Yes. A winter time relative humidity of 30 per cent is reasonably comfortable. The chances are that in your home the reading would be 50 or even higher. Why not check with an accurate instrument.

ENLARGED VEINS.

G. W. writes: Can a person have varicose veins anywhere in the body?

REPLY.

Altho the lower legs are favorite sites, dilated veins may appear in many regions. In fact, overstretched capillaries may constitute an important skin blemish. They may be observed on the face, in the neighborhood of the cheek bones, or on the fleshy part of the nose. If they occur on the abdomen we must look for some obstruction in the portal circulation.

MEEK.

H. K. writes: When some one intrudes on my rights I don't become angry and don't feel like fighting. Could something be wrong with my glands?

REPLY.

A placid disposition is the best guarantee of a long life. The adrenals have much to do with pugnaciousness. The chances are that you are saving them for a real emergency.

No Buggy Ride!

It is certainly ungracious, when University of Chicago scholars have just completed the 19 year job of building "A Dictionary of American English," to snoop thru its thousands of pages in quest of things left out. But—leave us face it—the good old American "buggy ride" just isn't there. It is missing not only in its original romantic sense, with the connotation of love and moonlight, with the reins draped over the dashboard to free the amorous arms, but also in the slangy modern usage, as in "Thanks for the buggy ride." And it is just too bad.

We searched in vain and we searched two ways, first under "buggy" and then under "ride." There was fresh disappointment, too, under "ride." For while we did find a citation about some gamblers who "were honored with a ride upon a rail," the lethal "one-way ride" of the Volstead era was not to be found.

As for the buggy itself, however, American pride may take satisfaction in learning that the American buggy is superior to its English namesake in having four wheels instead of only two.

It may also be noted that the buggy whip, familiar sight in the '90s, is with us again in appearance [but appearance only]. It is made of steel and its function is that of radio antenna for the automobile. But it looks like the same old whip.

Upside Down Story.

The old story of Charles MacArthur, the playwright, winning a bride by pouring peanuts into the lady's lap and "wishing they were emeralds" has been turned upside down lately. The new version, inspired by rationing, is about a gallant wooer presenting emeralds and whispering tenderly, "I wish to heaven they were lamb chops."

Tempus Fortunately Fugit.

Deaf to love in chill October
Was our Phyllis, grave and sober;
Heedless, too, in bleak November
And thru all of drear December.
January? . . . February?
Prudent still was she, and wary;
And in March 'twas just the same.
But April came!

Let Shine the Light.

Scout W. S., who never misses a thing pertaining to sartorial elegance, sends in by special messenger the news that a "Victory Necktie" is now available for fastidious gentlemen whose draft status deprives them of the privilege of wearing the nobler but riskier G. I. cravat. The special distinction of the Victory Tie is its adornment with 13 beautiful victory symbols—a pattern of V's which by some luminous magic "glow in the dark." There are also glowing red dots and dashes which convey the same idea in Morse code.

Naughty?

A slightly confused—or was he inspired?—seeker of tickets last week for the W-G-N production of "Naughty Marietta" scrambled the title: "Merry Naughty Etta."

Byron on Bourbon.

From a letter signed "Still Thirsty":

"There's no escape from the horrors of the liquor shortage. Seeking sanctuary or oblivion in literature, I opened a volume of Byron at random and the very first lines that leaped at me were these:

"'The Bourbon! The Bourbon!
Sans country or home,
We'll follow the Bourbon
To follow old Rome.'"

Social Security.

Fellow getting assistance with his income tax return was asked for his social security number. Absently he replied: "4-F." Right!

IT'S CONSTITUTIONAL, TOO.

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 27.—Since the President thinks that no Constitutional plan can be devised that will be effective in enabling soldiers overseas to have their votes for the next President counted, and since all qualified voters ought to be equally represented in respect to the privilege of voting, wouldn't it be a good idea, in this emergency, for the state legislatures to revert to their former practice and themselves in joint session, as representing all the people of the state, appoint the Presidential electors for their state? This would insure a Republican majority in the electoral college, and at once relieve the present administration of anxiety and responsibility regarding their successors and leave them free to devote all their effort to winning the war. It would also save the people from the distractions of a political campaign, and they, too, could devote their energy to war work. NONPOLITICUS.

INCOME DOWN; TAXES UP.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—What is going to happen to the small property owners? Is the property going to be confiscated by our taxing bodies? For example, my property:

With the OPA sitting on our rent ceiling and no increase in rent for eight years—don't we need more than the "thoughts" the President offered the fixed income group in his last speech?

I'm afraid the grocery clerk wanted cash for his 35 cents a pound beans and tomatoes today, but maybe I could use those kind "thoughts" to pay my next taxes based on full valuation. Victor Schlaeger warns property will be sold if taxes are not paid [it's a poor buy for any one, I'd say]— but maybe we fail to understand the present administration and they are only following the Bible—" . . . and he that hath not, from him shall be taken away even that which he hath." H. P. M. PAYBERG.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NOTE.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—In an editoral today you asked "What's Los Angeles got, in fact, that we haven't?" I know nothing about earthquakes, but I was present in Santa Barbara and Los Angeles on Dec. 7 and 8, and I have seen with my own eyes and have pictures to prove that southern California then had a hurricane from the southwest that delayed transportation facilities, grounded all planes, impeded wire communications of all kinds for nearly 24 hours, resulted in waterspouts in San Pedro harbor, and other unusual phenomena, which received but little, if any, newspaper publicity.

HUGH W. MCCULLOCH.

PRAISE FOR THE POSTOFFICE.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—Our postal authorities deserve a lot of credit for the manner in which they handle our mail to the boys overseas. Not only do they speed this mail to the lads as fast as they can, but they even go to the trouble of returning mail which is undeliverable, charging no extra postage. I have received a total of 31 letters which were undeliverable owing to the fact that the person to whom they were written had been taken prisoner by the enemy, also three packages and each of the packages was in excellent condition. MISS M. E. K.

THE POOR MAN'S BURDEN.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—In one of the daily papers this week there was printed the annual appropriation ordinance of the city of Chicago for the year 1944, eight pages of it, amounting to $65,217,509.39.

Do the people of Chicago realize that it will cost more than 5 million dollars monthly to operate their city? Whee! I thought the Roosevelt administration was extravagant, but it has nothing on Chicago when it comes to spending the taxpayers' money.

It would be a good idea to have those eight pages printed in pamphlet form and sent out to the people, so they can find out for themselves where the money goes. I was shocked at the vast list of employees.

I have been a Democrat all my life and never voted for a Republican President, but this time you can bet, not one Democrat gets my vote. I come of a poor family and it was always believed by my folks that the Democratic party was the "poor man's friend." Instead, it is a poor man's burden.

JUST A TAXPAYER.

"HE WAVED THE WRONG FLAG."

Chicago, Jan. 28.—The caption of the editorial in this morning's paper about Mr. Chauncey McCormick said: "He Waved the Wrong Flag." I believe it should have been "He Waved the Right Flag."

Every American citizen should be interested first and last in America, and as a good American he should do everything in his power to help to win this war. After we accomplish that, then we of Polish descent and American citizens like Mr. McCormick who is as good a friend as Poland ever had, and many others, will no doubt see to it that Poland will again become a free and independant nation as it has been before.

My personal opinion is that this is no time for us on this side of the Atlantic to discuss the boundary lines of Poland that we know nothing or at least very little about. Let's win the war first. FRANK J. TOMCZAK.

WHERE A LITTLE MEANS A LOT.

Somewhere in Europe, Jan. 18.—Just a few lines to let you know I received a couple of copies of THE TRIBUNE. It sure was good to read of the town I grew up in and learned to think a lot of. It seemed funny to look at the pictures showing frozen water from a fire hydrant at 18th street and Wabash avenue. It is warm as July down where I am. Some of the other lads got quite a kick out of the news from the states.

DEMOCRATS PIN STATE HOPES ON COURTNEY RACE

Urge Chicagoan to Run for Governor.

BY THOMAS MORROW.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 31.—Frantic search for a Democratic candidate for governor centered in the St. Nicholas hotel here today as 400 Democrats from surrounding communities urged the race on State's Atty. Thomas J. Courtney of Chicago.

Speakers at the meeting, which was sponsored by an organization of Democratic downstate state's attorneys, pointed to Courtney as the leading vote getter of their party. They contended his appearance on the ballot would attract strong candidates who otherwise could not be flushed from their homes into a bitter campaign.

Plans were made to appoint a committee tonight or tomorrow to notify Courtney of his indorsement by the group, whose status, of course, is unofficial.

Courtney or No One.

While the meeting assembled in the hotel, political gossip in Springfield vowed it was Courtney or no one as a last ditch hope for the Democrats. Aside from meager mention of John E. Cassidy, former attorney general, and Warren H. Orr, former state Supreme court judge, as candidates for governor, politicians said they hadn't heard of any activity.

First tentative bid for a place on the state ticket came from Laurence P. Arnold of Newton, former member of congress. It came in the form of endorsements from 10 county chairmen, but Newton said "he didn't want to get in any bitter primary fights," and indicated that his candidacy depended on party harmony.

Hershey Lauds Courtney.

On the platform at the Courtney meeting was Blanche Fritz, state Democratic chairwoman; Harry Hershey, candidate for governor in 1940; T. J. Sullivan, state representative from Springfield. Hershey lauded the candidacy of Courtney.

Ward P. Holt, state's attorney of Marion county and chairman of the meeting, did not report the number of counties represented in one hundred telegrams of endorsement, but said "they came from all over the state." There are 30 Democratic downstate state's attorneys.

The meeting shouted endorsement of Courtney which characterized him as "of sterling character, proven ability, political independence and one who is acceptable to all parts of the state." It also paid tribute to President Roosevelt and endorsed a fourth term.

DECISION AWAITED.

State's Attorney Courtney's decision as to whether he will be a Democratic candidate for governor is expected today in political circles. It will provide the keystone for a state ticket.

Most of Courtney's friends believe he will consent to run on the heels of yesterday's downstate draft movement. However, a minority argues that Courtney regards the odds against him too great on the basis of political trends this year, in comparison with a race for his fourth term as Cook county prosecutor.

Downstate Democrats are most concerned over the delay in getting state candidates into the field. Next Saturday is the first day for filing petitions of candidacy. The downstaters are having difficulty in getting county and congressional candidates in many instances. Some have even said they will not attempt county contests unless Courtney is the candidate for governor.

2 NEGRO PUPILS WIN COURT TEST TO JOIN WHITES

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 31 (AP).—Two Negro children, compelled by the Trenton board of education to travel 16 blocks to an all-Negro junior high school, today won in the state Supreme court the right to attend an all-white school two blocks away from their homes.

"The only reason the admission sought is denied them is because of their race," Justice Newton H. Porter asserted in a written opinion. "We think it clear that the children are unlawfully discriminated against. It is unlawful for boards of education to exclude children from any public school on the ground that they are of the Negro race."

The children, Janet Hedgepeth and Leon Williams, both 12 years old, were promoted last June from different elementary schools and were assigned to the all-Negro Lincoln school. When they applied for and were refused admission to the all-white school they appealed to the Supreme court thru their parents.

CHARGE CANADA BARS WOODSMEN FROM U.S. WORK

Say Right to Cross the Border Denied.

"In this and dozens of other French Canadian towns today hundreds of able bodied young men may be seen loafing on the streets, in garages, and in stores, while a few miles away, over the American border, man power is so scarce that wood, vitally needed for munitions and pulp, can't be cut and taken to the mills.

Can't Go to U. S.

"The men are not permitted by Canadian authorities to go to the United States and cut wood. They want desperately to do so. They would be paid well. But Canada will not give them permits to cross the boundary.

"Those who have pleaded in vain with Canadian authorities for permission to work charge they are being forced on the relief rolls. Others say they are among several thousand discharged from an aluminum company which is reducing its war production.

"That this great reservoir of man power exists alongside an area pleading for labor is verified by a dozen or more mayors of French Canadian communities in this area. The mayors of four communities, St. Zacharie, Aubert-Gallion, St. Prosper, and St. Come, say nearly 1,700 men in these places have sought unsuccessfully to get over the border and go to work.

Quota Set Low.

"Canada has set the quota of men it will allow over the boundary so low that it is impossible for America to make use of this substantial man power source. Only 3,600 Canadian men are permitted to go into the northeastern section of the United States and cut wood.

"The 3,600 quota is not a true figure. This is the maximum Canada says it will permit to work in the forests of Maine and other areas. Because of a maze of restrictions and time limits virtually impossible for a Canadian worker or an American company to untangle, the actual quota is approximately 2,000 men.

"Canada does not want the men for military service. The thousands of idle men in this section of Canada either have been rejected for service or assured they will not be called in the immediate future.

Must Obey Regulations.

"The man who issues the exit permits in this area is Hilaire Gregoire, national selective service officer. He is sympathetic to the men, but must obey the regulations and not issue points above the quota and to any one of military age, he says.

"Gregoire agrees Canadian men can be placed easily when they are given permits to work in the woods across the border. This is no barrier, he agrees, since the companies must furnish a bond for the safe return of every Canadian employed. The fine is $500 for each man not accounted for.

"A total of 315 men in St. Come signed a petition urging the Canadian government to give them a chance to go to work in the Maine woods, but were rejected."

"Guarantee" 3,500 Men.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 31 (AP).—A labor department spokesman said tonight that Canada is "guaranteeing" the United States 3,500 men to cut wood for munitions and pulp, and is allowing the United States "leeway" to take care of the turnover in this type of work. "We can't allow able bodied men to float over the border," he said. "We have to make sure they get back to their farms."

70 Years Old

An old three story brick rooming house at 19 West 21st street collapsed yesterday, injuring three Negro occupants: Charles Smith, 48 years old; Mrs. Liza Wisdon, 45, and Miss Beulah Love, 33. They were taken to nearby hospitals and treated for minor injuries. Chief John Prendergast of the uniformed police described the building as a scarred veteran of the old levee. He said it was about 70 years old.

Primaries Are Merged to Aid Soldier Voting

Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 31 [Special].—The California legislature in special session today merged the Aug. 20 state primary and the May 2 Presidential preferential primary so that Californians in the army and navy might be sure of having an opportunity to vote in the 1944 elections. The combined primary elections will be held on May 16.

EX-AID OF ICKES DENIES FORGING HOPKINS LETTER

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—George N. Briggs pleaded innocent today to charges that he forged the celebrated "Hopkins letter."

Appearing in the federal District court of the District of Columbia to answer indictments which alleged forgery, false pretense, and use of the mails to defraud, Briggs, a former confidential aid to Interior Secretary Ickes, entered a disclaimer to all these charges.

His attorneys were granted three weeks to file such motions or demurrers as they might decide to offer preliminary to trial.

Briggs, who is 55 years old, entered the plea in a voice that was almost inaudible. His bond of $3,000 was contiuued.

Four members of the jury which voted the indictments were government workers and four others were wives of government workers.

The indictments alleged that Briggs faked the so-called "Hopkins letter" which created a furor when it was made public by C. Nelson Sparks of Akron, O., author of the book "One Man—Wendell Willkie."

On White House Stationery.

The letter, on White House stationery, bore the name of Harry Hopkins, President Roosevelt's adviser, and was so worded as to give an impression that an understanding existed between Hopkins and Willkie.

Hopkins branded the letter a forgery and Willkie called it absurd. Sparks said he had accepted the letter from Briggs in good faith and had paid Briggs money in connection with its delivery.

The matter was aired at length in the senate and Briggs said he was a victim of "power politics."

JACKSON TAKES SEAT IN U. S. SENATE; PLANS FOR FALL UNCERTAIN

Sen. Jackson.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—Samuel D. Jackson was sworn in as Democratic senator from Indiana today, but in a statement immediately afterwards left open the question of his political future.

"No decisions have been made as yet," the 48 year old Fort Wayne lawyer replied when asked whether he planned to seek election to the senate this fall or return to Indiana to try to succeed Gov. Henry Schricker.

Schricker, who appointed Jackson last week to serve until November as successor to the late Sen. Van Nuys [D., Ind.], cannot succeed himself under Indiana law and has been endorsed by several party leaders as a senatorial candidate.

GREEN APPOINTS YOUNGBERG TO COL. DAVIS POST

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 31 (AP).—Gov. Green announced today appointment of Walter R. Youngberg of Elmhurst, as state purchasing agent in the department of finance, succeeding Col. Edward Davis of 1430 Hinman avenue, Evanston.

Youngberg has been assistant purchasing agent since June, 1942.

Col. Davis, whose resignation the governor said was effective today, recently announced his Republican candidacy for congressman at large in opposition to that of the regular Republican organization candidate, Stephen A. Day, of Evanston, incumbent.

SECT DENIED USE OF CHILDREN AS TRACT SELLERS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—Parents may become martyrs themselves, but that does not give them the right to make martyrs of their children, the United States Supreme court asserted today in upholding a Massachusetts law prohibiting parents or guardians from giving literature to children for sale on the streets.

The 5-4 decision, representing a reversal for Jehovah's Witnesses, who raised the issue of religious freedom, asserted that such a regulation is a valid exercise of a state's police powers over child labor.

Specifically, the decision applied to Mrs. Sarah Prince of Brockton, Mass., a member of Jehovah's Witnesses, who was convicted of supplying the organization's magazines to her 9 year old niece for sale on Brockton streets. She had custody of the child.

Can't Impose on Children.

"Parents may be free to become martyrs themselves," Justice Rutledge said in the majority opinion, "but it does not follow they are free, in identical circumstances, to make martyrs of their children before they have reached the age of full and legal discretion when they can make their choice for themselves."

The opinion noted what Rutledge termed the "crippling effects" of child employment, especially in public places, and added:

"We think that with reference to the public proclaiming of religion upon the streets and in other similar public places the power of the state to control the conduct of children reaches beyond the scope of its authority over adults, as is true in the case of other freedoms, and the rightful boundary of its power has not been crossed in this case."

Answer Religious Argument.

Taking up the contention that Jehovah's Witnesses believe that the street is their church and to deny their children the right to it is the same as excluding altar boys from regular churches, the court said:

"However Jehovah's Witnesses may conceive them, the public highways have not become their religious property merely by their assertion. And there is no denial of equal protection in excluding their children from doing there what no other children may do."

Dissenting, Justice Murphy called Jehovah's Witnesses a "militant and unpopular faith harassed at every turn," and asserted that the dangers to the children in selling literature on the street were so "exceedingly remote" that there is no excuse for prohibiting them from doing it.

U. of C. Winter Enrollment Drops from That of '43

A 15 per cent decrease in the University of Chicago's winter quarter enrollment below the similar period of 1943 was indicated yesterday as 2,706 women and 1,540 men matriculated.

ACCIDENT VICTIM'S KIN SOUGHT.

A search was made in Chicago yesterday for relatives of Aloysius J. Wallace, 45 years old, a former resident of this city and of Milwaukee, Wis., who was killed Thursday while at work in Birmingham, Ala. His funeral will be held at 2 p. m. today in the chapel at 1820 Michigan avenue.

COMDR. PEABODY WILL MAKE TOUR IN SOUTH PACIFIC

Navy's Entertainers to Visit Bases.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Lt. Comdr. Eddie Peabody, banjo wizard, star of the Meet Your Navy program and boss of the band, music, and entertainment division at the Great Lakes Naval Training station, is setting out next week for a tour of South Pacific submarine bases. He will take a group of navy entertainers with him: Chief Specialist John Carter, former Metropolitan opera tenor; the Tune Toppers, instrumental quartet, and Magician Bill Baird. Peabody was stationed on a submarine during World War I. Lt. Bob Elson, former W-G-N sports announcer, now executive officer of the division, will look after Peabody's duties while he is away.

Sixty million radio receivers are operative in the United States, the Institute of Radio Engineers was told at its winter meeting the other day in New York. This estimate was given to the engineers by Arthur Stringer, director of circulation of the National Association of Broadcasters.

Stringer said that 46,000,000 sets are in 32,500,000 homes. Nine million sets are in automobiles, and 5,000,000 in institutions, shops, offices, and other public places. The average family listens four hours and 22 minutes each day, Stringer said. Thus Americans are devoting more time to radio listening than any other activity except working and sleeping.

Off a live mike: The new Luncheon with Lopez series will bow in over W-G-N at 12:30 p. m. next Monday. Vincent's singers are Bruce Hayes, Karole Singer, and Garry Larson. Army and navy heroes are to be interviewed. . . . Marine Sgt. John F. Basilone, first enlisted man to receive the congressional medal of honor during this war, will be saluted on W-G-N's Freedom of Opportunity at 7:30 p. m next Friday. Brig. Gen. R. L. Denig will present a scroll of achievement and gold key to the hero. . . . The Capt. Midnight serial, aired over the Blue at 5:45 p. m. weekdays, has introduced a policy of presenting interviews with American heroes.

Janis and Marilyn Malone, who sing and play on W-G-N's Musical Milkwagon series, are to make personal appearances for the army-navy shows at Purdue university on Lincoln's birthday, and at Indiana university on Feb. 19. They will appear with Henry Busse's orchestra on Feb. 19.

HOUSE IGNORES F. D. R.; CUTS FCC FUND A MILLION

BY LAURENCE BURD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—The house passed and sent to the senate today a bill appropriating 8½ billion dollars for 20 independent federal departments for the fiscal year starting next June 30.

All recommendations of the house appropriations committee were approved without change, except for a $500,000 reduction in the committee's original allotment of $11,353,825 for the federal home loan bank administration.

Without debate, the chamber approved on a voice vote the committee's proposal for liquidating the military intelligence division of the federal communications commission, by refusing to grant one million dollars requested by the division.

Overrules F. D. R. Request.

In taking this action, the house overruled a request from President Roosevelt that FCC intelligence work be continued, but it upheld the position of the joint chiefs of staff that all such activities should be in the hands of the army and navy. The staff chiefs have publicly stated that FCC intelligence operations have "endangered" the security of military radio intelligence work.

As adopted, the bill totals $8,500,590,352, or 5½ billions in excess of that for the current fiscal year. The boost is chiefly accounted for by an increase of nearly 5½ billions in the ship construction fund of the maritime commission.

Dirksen Move Beaten.

By a margin of 10 votes, 55-65, the house defeated a proposed amendment by Rep. Dirksen [R., Ill.] which would have prevented the maritime commission from paying in excess of "fair cash value" for merchant ships purchased from private companies.

Dirksen submitted figures on the floor showing that in some instances the commission has paid five or six times the depreciated value of used vessels, as computed on the commission's own books.

A proposed amendment by Rep. Case [R., S. D.] to save money and paper by paying government employes monthly instead of twice a month was killed on a voice vote. Other members argued such a change would upset family budgets of federal employes and hurt their morale.

HOLD 2 SOLDIERS CAUGHT LOOTING FILLING STATION

Two soldiers who were arrested early yesterday in a gasoline filling station which police said they were attempting to burglarize were being held without charge last night in the Pekin Inn police station. Police said they admitted being AWOL from Camp Wallace, Tex., since Jan. 23.

The soldiers, who gave their names as Pvt. Robert Ryan, 19 years old, of 2817 Union avenue, and Pvt. Edward Lowry, 21, of Centralia, were discovered in the washroom of the Goodman Texaco station, 2600 Michigan avenue, by Detectives Michael McMahon, Louis Green, and Thomas Rodden of the Pekin Inn station after they had noticed a broken window in the station.

Parked near the station was an automobile which police said the soldiers admitted taking Saturday in Chicago. Police said they also admitted taking and later abandoning three other automobiles en route to Chicago.

113 YEARS OLD TODAY, WOMAN IS NEAR DEATH

On the eve of her 113th birthday, Mrs. Sarah Jane Swanson, matriarch of six generations, last night was pronounced by members of her family to be "so ill she may not live thru her anniversary." Mrs. Swanson became ill two weeks ago at the home of a daughter, Mrs. John Schlossman, 9855 Exchange avenue, with whom she resided.

Born in 1831 in a small settlement in Indiana, Mrs. Swanson often recalled stories of pioneer days told by her mother. On one occasion, she related, Indians surrounded the log cabin in which Mrs. Swanson, then an infant, lived with her parents.

MRS. DOROTHY HORVATH.

Albert Horvath, 22 years old, 1613 Dayton street, a musician, lost his wife, Dorothy, in the divorce court yesterday, and may also lose his present draft status as a result.

Horvath appeared among the spectators in the Superior court of Judge William J. Lindsay while Mrs. Horvath, who is 19 and lives at 739 Weed street, was getting a divorce. She charged cruelty. The judge allowed her $8 a week for support of a child, Robert, 3, in ending her marriage, then spotted her husband, and called him before the bench.

Under Judge Lindsay's questioning, Horvath admitted hitting his wife. "Why aren't you in the army?" queried the judge. "I'm in 3-A," Horvath replied. Judge Lindsay turned to Mrs. Horvath's lawyer, Samuel M. Starr, and instructed him to notify Horvath's draft board of the change now in his marital status.

LAWYERS BLAST U. S. LIQUOR PLAN AS EVADING LAW

Wholesale liquor dealers are being coerced into "hanging themselves" by the demand of the federal alcohol tax unit that they sign new contracts authorizing distillers, rectifiers, and importers to cut off their supplies if the tax unit accuses them of violating liquor laws, prominent members of the Chicago bar asserted yesterday.

Edward B. Casey, former judge and a constitutional authority, pointed out that under the proposed contracts that have been mailed to Chicago area distillers by E. C. Yellowley, district supervisor of the alcohol tax unit, the suppliers need not wait until a customer is convicted of a crime to cut off his supplies, but may do so as soon as he is accused.

Called Evasion of Rights.

"The government is asking the distillers, rectifiers, and importers to make contracts to do what the government itself is prohibited from doing under the Constitution," Casey said. "In this way neither the government nor any of its representatives has violated the constitutional rights of those who are put out of business—convicted without due process of law, so to put it—but the distillers have done it for them."

Other lawyers also viewed the new contract proposal as "a clever scheme to circumvent civil liberties as guaranteed by the Constitution." One called attention to a paragraph in a letter Yellowley sent distillers Jan. 17 in which he said: "You are therefore requested to discontinue immediately all sales of distilled spirits to the following dealers [Yellowley listed 50] until such time as further notice is received from this office to the effect that the dealer named has been absolved of the charges preferred."

"What will happen to this man's business while he is being absolved?" the attorney asked. "He will have to close his shop when his stock is gone."

In his letter to the distillers and rectifiers Yellowley said the tax unit had formulated the plan to protect the industry "against this lawless situation—the black market." He added that compliance with the program will constitute a voluntary act in the distillers' own interests.

Casey said he was particularly intrigued by a clause in the suggested contract which provides that a wholesaler's supplies may be cut off if he is reselling to a purchaser who "intends" to resell at wholesale altho not holding a permit for such transactions.

"In other words, a man is expected to know the 'intent' of those he does business with," Casey commented.

BRITISH DECREE ON PALESTINE LASHED IN HOUSE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—The white paper of 1939, issued by the British colonial office restricting immigration of Jews into Palestine to 75,000 in five years and banning their entrance by March, 1944, "must be destroyed," Rep. Celler [D., N. Y.] told the house today.

"This offending white paper was not only rejected but also condemned by the permanent mandates commission of the league of nations as a violation of Britain's mandate over Palestine," he said. "Scores of nations denounced Britain for her perfidy.

BARRETT CITES SEWAGE PLANT RULE BY INDIANA

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 [Special].—Control of sewage disposal plants in Gary, Hammond, Whiting, and East Chicago, Ind., by the Indiana state health department was cited by Atty. Gen. George F. Barrett of Illinois in a brief filed today in the United States Supreme court.

The brief opposes a motion by Indiana for dismissal from an injunction suit started by Barrett seeking to restrain Indiana and the four cities from dumping raw sewage and industrial waste into Lake Michigan. Indiana contended that it has no direct control over the sewage disposal systems of the four cities.

Barrett also filed replies to answers of the Indiana cities. He charged that the health of hundreds of thousands of war workers in the Chicago area is affected by drinking water polluted by dumping of sewage into the lake by the Indiana cities.

TWO BRIDEWELL FELONS SHIFT CELLS; 1 ESCAPES

After conniving with another prisoner to exchange sells with him, Norman Austin, 23 years old, Negro, 3100 Ellis avenue, serving a nine month sentence for larceny, escaped early yesterday from the Bridewell by scaling an 18 foot wall with a 12 foot rake.

Frank Vojtch, captain of night guards, said James E. Law, 19, Negro, 3130 Vernon avenue, agreed to permit Austin to enter his cell when they returned from dinner, and Law stepped into Austin's cell. Law worked in the power plant outside the cell house and when called to work, Austin, undetected by guards, took his place.

Later, Austin took a long rake used to pull fires from a furnace. He hooked this over the wall, pulled himself up, then jumped. Law, who admitted he abetted the escape, was placed in solitary confinement.

The origin of a fire which caused damage estimated by Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan at $50,000 or more to the plant of the Gary Steel Supply company, 2300 South Springfield avenue, Sunday night, still was undetermined yesterday.

Production is expected to be resumed in the plant before the end of the week, H. B. Herring, secretary of the company, said. The company cleans and warehouses steel on army and navy contracts.

No workers were in the plant when the fire started, shortly before midnight. The blaze was discovered by a watchman, John Izzo.

Poetry's Aids Arrange New Lecture Series

BY JUDITH CASS.

BECAUSE of the success of last year's series of benefit lectures, the committee to raise funds for Poetry magazine has decided on a similar project for this year, to be held again on alternate Saturday mornings at the Arts club. Opening the series will be James Johnson Sweeney, art critic and writer for the Museum of Modern Art in New York, who will appear Feb. 26.

Oliver St. John Gogarty, Irish poet and wit, will give the program March 11, and two Saturdays later, on March 25, Stanley Fletcher will illustrate his talk on modern music with his own piano accompaniment. James Thurber enthusiasts will be looking forward to April 8, when the noted cartoonist and writer will speak at the club. With him he will bring a number of his cartoons to show his audience.

The benefit committee will meet Thursday for tea in the Lake Shore drive apartment of its chairman, Mrs. Augustine J. Bowe, to talk over plans for the series. Some of those helping Mrs. Bowe are Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, Miss Florence Dibell Bartlett, Mrs. Rudolph Ganz, Mrs. George Channer Jr., and Mrs. James Bremner.

Hull House Officers.

For the first time since the death of Hull House's founder, the late Jane Addams, the destinies of its board will not be guided by Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen. Last week when the board met to elect new officers, Mrs. Bowen retired from the presidency, an office which she has held since the death of Miss Addams. However, Mrs. Bowen, who will be 85 Feb. 26, will continue as treasurer of the board, and at the same time she was named honorary president.

The board's new president is Thomas H. Beacom Jr., who will be assisted by three vice presidents, John E. Blunt III., Marshall Field, and Mrs. William F. Petersen. Also on the new board are Willard Boyden and Mrs. Hermon D. Smith.

Engagement News.

Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Neill of Evanston have announced the engagement of their daughter, Ruth, to Lt. Langdon Laws Barber, son of Mrs. Albert Harris Barber of Hubbard Woods and the late Mr. Barber. The announcement was made at a small dinner party last week at the South Shore Country club for members of the immediate families.

Miss Neill is a senior at Northwestern university. Her fiancé was graduated from the North Shore Country Day school and from Yale university. He took his boot training with the marines at Parris Island, S. C., and received his commission as a second lieutenant at Quantico, Va. He now is stationed at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

News of Births.

Lt. and Mrs. Loy F. Peterson [Meredith Manning] became the parents of a son, Roger Franklin, Friday in Phoenix, Ariz. The baby's father is serving overseas with the army air forces, and his maternal grandfather, Lt. Col. Lucius B. Manning, is stationed in Savannah, Ga., with the same branch of the service. Mrs. Manning is in Phoenix with her daughter. The baby's paternal grandmother is Mrs. Roger F. Peterson of Chicago and Phoenix.

Mrs. David Henry Davis [Jane McWhinney] and her father, Curtis A. McWhinney, will leave for Pasadena, Cal., next Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Davis' new little daughter, Deborah, who went home from the Cradle in Evanston with her new mother last Saturday. Mrs. Davis and the baby will be with Mr. Davis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Zachary Taylor Davis, until they go west. Young Mr. and Mrs. Davis also have an adopted son, Curtis Taylor, who is 2½. The Davises and the McWhinneys now live in Pasadena.

The infant daughter born Sunday in St. Luke's hospital to Lt. and Mrs. William E. Dunshee [Elizabeth McArthur] has been named Joan Gillette after her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Selim W. McArthur, and aunt, Mrs. John C. Whiting [Joan McArthur]. Mrs. Whiting left last week for Brattleboro, Vt., where she will be at home until the return of Sgt. Whiting, who is serving with the army in India. Mrs. Dunshee and the baby will be with her grandparents while Lt. Dunshee is overseas with the navy. Dr. McArthur is chief of staff of St. Luke's hospital.

Cut This Out and Save It as a Practical Guide to Rationing

Following are recipes for some of the dishes included on Mary Meade's ration budget menus this week:

Cheddar Pudding—Cook 1 pint of milk, ½ cup yellow cornmeal, 1 tablespoon margarine, and ½ teaspoon salt in top of double boiler until thickened. Remove from heat and add 1 well beaten egg and ½ cup of grated cheese. Pour into shallow greased pan to the depth of 1 inch. When cold, cut into squares and place in large shallow greased baking dish. Cover with tomato sauce made by blending 1 can condensed tomato soup, ¼ cup milk, ½ cup grated cheese, ½ teaspoon celery salt, and a dash of pepper. Pour over cornmeal squares and bake in a 375 degree oven for 20 minutes.

Parsley Glazed Turnips — Cook 1 pound turnips in boiling salted water until barely tender. Combine 3 tablespoons margarine and 3 tablespoons corn sirup, and when well blended add diced turnips. Turn frequently, cooking slowly, until turnips are well glazed and lightly browned. Sprinkle with parsley and serve.

Creole Eggs with Cheese—Cook 1 cup canned tomatoes, ¼ cup chopped green pepper, ¼ cup chopped onion, and ¼ cup chopped celery together until tender. Add 1 teaspoon sugar, 1½ tablespoons flour blended with a little cold water, ½ teaspoon salt, and dash of pepper, and cook until thick. Cover 4 slices of toast with slices of American cheese and place under moderate broiler heat to melt. Place a poached egg on each piece and serve with hot Creole sauce.

WPB to Allow 400,000 New Food Cookers

BY LLOYD NORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—Production of 400,000 aluminum pressure cookers—the first in two years—was authorized today by the war production board in time for the 1944 home canning season. The output will be concentrated in Illinois and Wisconsin.

WPB said the scheduled production must be completed by July 1 and will be limited by the availability of materials, facilities, and man power.

The war food administration has estimated that housewives will require the 400,000 cookers in the first six months this year. The cookers, WFA said, are needed to assure efficient canning of home grown vegetables and home preservation of fruit. The cookers will not be rationed and will be offered for sale without restriction to housewives, WFA said.

Use of aluminum in the cookers has been banned since Jan. 7, 1942. Last year 339,000 pressure canners were manufactured from carbon steel. Normal pre-war output of the aluminum cookers was approximately 200,000 a year, WPB said.

Burpee Can Sealer company, Barrington, Ill.	39,500	10,000
National Aluminum Manufacturing company, Peoria, Ill.	34,000	22,500
Wisconsin Aluminum Foundry company, Manitowoc, Wis.	53,000	5,000
Lakeside Aluminum company, Minneapolis, Minn.	14,000	.....
Pressure Cooker company, Denver, Colo.	6,000	.....

WPB emphasized that completion of the pressure cooker schedule would not be permitted to interfere with war production. It said that only permanent mold facilities not needed for war work will be released for making the cookers.

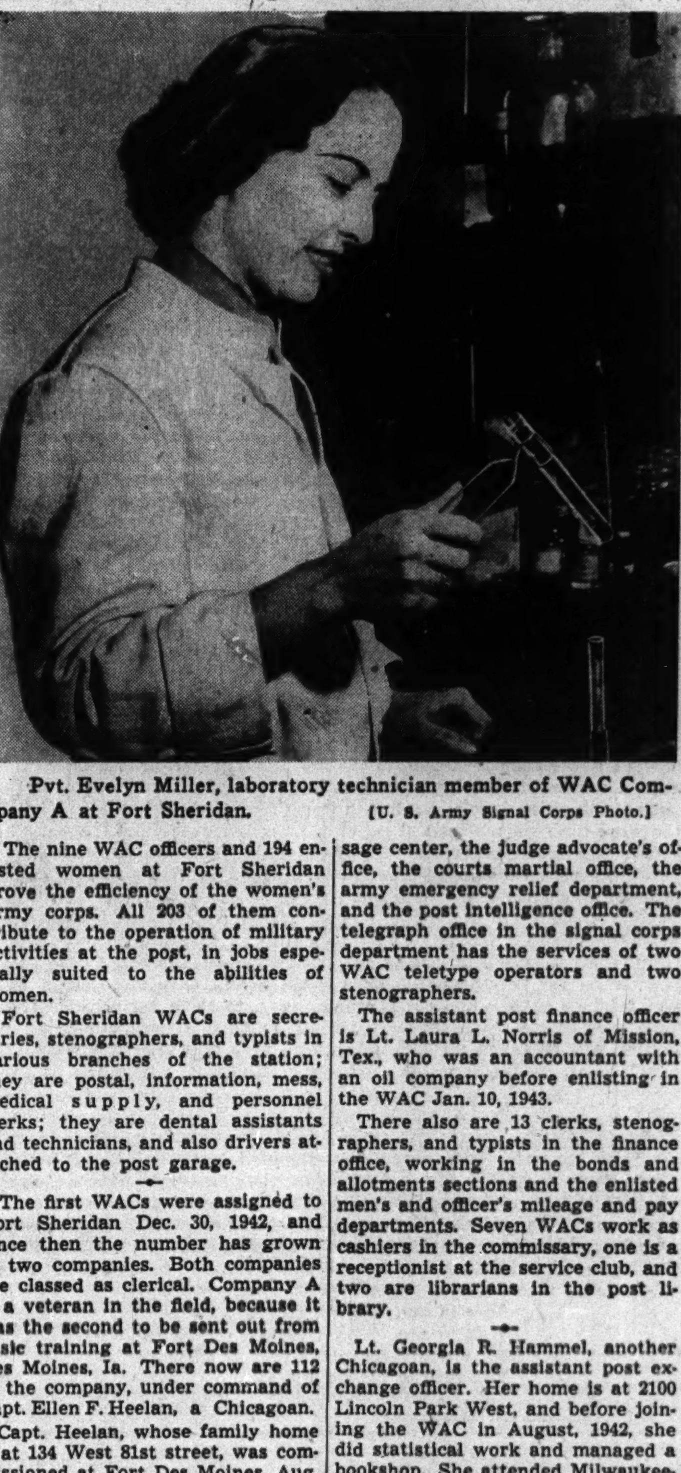
"A continuing supply of aluminum for the pressure canner program cannot be assured," WPB said. "Contrary to widely circulated reports, the supply of aluminum provides a smaller margin than is needed to insure that increasing military demands can be met.

"Permission to use aluminum for pressure canners at this time does not mean this metal will be available for other kitchen and household utensils. Reports from the industry indicate that manufacturers are too busy with war orders to resume any large scale production of aluminum cooking utensils."

WPB recently closed down three aluminum production plants reducing output approximately 14 per cent. Officials said there is a surplus of facilities for making aluminum in the raw ingot form but inadequate facilities for fabricating it.

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee



Pvt. Evelyn Miller, laboratory technician member of WAC Company A at Fort Sheridan. [U. S. Army Signal Corps Photo.]

The nine WAC officers and 194 enlisted women at Fort Sheridan prove the efficiency of the women's army corps. All 203 of them contribute to the operation of military activities at the post, in jobs especially suited to the abilities of women.

Fort Sheridan WACs are secretaries, stenographers, and typists in various branches of the station; they are postal, information, mess, medical supply, and personnel clerks; they are dental assistants and technicians, and also drivers attached to the post garage.

The first WACs were assigned to Fort Sheridan Dec. 30, 1942, and since then the number has grown to two companies. Both companies are classed as clerical. Company A is a veteran in the field, because it was the second to be sent out from basic training at Fort Des Moines, Des Moines, Ia. There now are 112 in the company, under command of Capt. Ellen F. Heelan, a Chicagoan.

Capt. Heelan, whose family home is at 134 West 81st street, was commissioned at Fort Des Moines, Aug. 3, 1942, and was a member of the second officers' candidate class. She was graduated from St. Xavier college. Before enlisting in the WAC, she was assistant personnel director of a Chicago calculating company.

Most of the members of Company A are secretaries, typists, stenographers, clerks, and technicians, in 17 offices on the post. The station hospital has the greatest number, with 19 working in the X-ray department, in the laboratory, at the information desk, and in various other offices and clinics.

Five enlisted WACs work in the military personnel office. Ten clerks and stenographers staff the post headquarters building in the message center, the judge advocate's office, the courts martial office, the army emergency relief department, and the post intelligence office. The telegraph office in the signal corps department has the services of two WAC teletype operators and two stenographers.

There also are 13 clerks, stenographers, and typists in the finance office, working in the bonds and allotments sections and the enlisted men's and officer's mileage and pay departments. Seven WACs work as cashiers in the commissary, one is a receptionist at the service club, and two are librarians in the post library.

Lt. Georgia R. Hammel, another Chicagoan, is the assistant post exchange officer. Her home is at 2100 Lincoln Park West, and before joining the WAC in August, 1942, she did statistical work and managed a bookshop. She attended Milwaukee-Downer seminary.

Two WAC officers work in the 6th service command training center, one as assistant to the mess officer and the other in the visual training aid section.

News Is Given of Weddings in Recent Weeks

Mr. and Mrs. Warren P. Beaubien of Whiting, Ind., announce the marriage of their daughter, Helen Jeanne, to Lt. William Hayford of the army medical corps. The wedding took place on Jan. 22 in the chapel at Lt. Hayford's post, Camp Tyson, Paris, Tenn.

The bride attended Ward Belmont and is a graduate of DePauw university. Her father is a great-grandson of Mark Beaubien, who operated the first hotel in Chicago, and her mother's aunt, the late Myra Bradwell, was the first woman to be admitted to the bar in Illinois. Lt. Hayford, a graduate of the University of Minnesota medical school, served his internship at Wesley Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Thielens Phillips of Beverly Hills announces the marriage on Christmas day of her daughter, Florine, to Lt. Robert Bruce Mancib of the air transport command, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Stuart Mancib of Winchester, Mass. The ceremony took place at Love field, Dallas, Tex., where Lt. Mancib is stationed. His bride attended the University of Chicago, and will be graduated in May as a woman army service pilot at Sweetwater, Tex.

The marriage of Miss Carolyn Reid Waring to Capt. Robert Fredric MacLeod, son of Mrs. Ernest F. MacLeod and the late Mr. MacLeod of Glen Ellyn, took place Jan. 29 in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Waring of Plainfield, N. J. Capt. McLeod and his bride will live in Quantico, Va., where he is on duty at the marine air station.

Fresher Vegetables Higher in Nutritive Value, Experts Say

The fresher the vegetable, the higher the nutritive value. If fresh vegetables are cooked lightly, fewer vitamins are lost.

These pointers to housewives were contained in reports and discussions on the national project for conserving the nutritive value of food at a meeting of agricultural experiment station workers from 12 midwestern states yesterday in the Hotel Sherman.

Clyde H. Bailey, director of the Minnesota agricultural experiment station in St. Paul and regional coordinator, is in charge of the two day conference. He said that vegetables gradually lose their food value when permitted to stand around after being picked and should be cooked or canned as soon as possible. He recommended cooking vegetables as little as possible, preferably in a pressure sauce pan.

Milstein Again Demonstrates His Brilliancy

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

The violin and the piano were well represented at Orchestra hall last night, with Nathan Milstein on the stage, and Vladimir Horowitz lurking in the depths of a box. These two Russians, who once made a trio with Gregor Piatigorsky, represent a fabulous realm of virtuosity, and they have so much musically in common it is one of the mysteries of concertgoing that while Horowitz sells out a house at the drop of an announcement, Milstein sometimes plays to a fringe of empty seats.

Milstein, from the day of his début, has been to the violin what Horowitz is to the piano. He has magnificent tone, technical equipment approaching wizardry, personality in performance, a comprehensive sense of style, and the spark that sets an audience blazing. He has to have all these things to play Bach as well as he plays Paganini, which is to say that no one does them better. The Partita in B minor for violin alone was played last night with the clear and flowing splendor of great sculpture, lucid in line, towering in conception, unerring in execution.

Paganini witchcraft, long quicksilver to the Milstein bow, glittered in the dazzling variations of the 24th caprice, which set Rachmaninoff on the last of his spectacular works for piano and orchestra, and in the first movement of the Concerto in D, which substituted the soloist's own vivid cadenza for the familiar Sauret version billed in advance. The new cadenza had the true Paganini flair, inescapable in Milstein performance.

The concert also held Mozart's Sonata in C, No. 24, exquisitely played with a slow movement that made you prick up your ears to catch its full charm, and it ended on unhackneyed Russian themes. There were two excerpts from Prokofieff's deft "Romeo and Juliet," which always seemed to me to be written for Trudi Schoop to dance; there was the little song, almost a waif on a street corner, that is Stravinsky's "Russian Maiden's Song," and there was the Russian dance from "Petrouchka," an extraordinary transcription by the composer with Samuel Dushkin's aid. All these were superbly played, not only by Mr. Milstein, but by his uncommonly sympathetic accompanist, Valentine Pavlovsky.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 31.—Margaret O'Brien in "Lost Angel" is the hit of London. A British correspondent for a London paper in New York was on the telephone three-quarters of an hour getting an interview with her to cable to his paper. Margaret and Jackie Jenkins will co-star in George Victor Martin's "For Our Vines Have Tender Grapes," with Roy Roland directing. I dare say Charles Laughton will be a frequent visitor on this set. He's mad about the girl. She's now 7. . . . Elyse Knox was taken under the wing of Lou Costello and Eddie Sherman and got the lead in "A WAC, A WAVE, and A SPAR," which starts in March. Lou hopes Elyse also will play the lead in "Harum Scarum," his Metro picture which starts in April. So the former Mrs. Paul Hesse's career has started at last.

Co-operation.

Paulette Goddard, before taking off to entertain our boys, took all her five shots in one day, and when M. D. asked where she wanted her vaccination, replied, "Hide it so Screen Guild can't find it." Said he, "Where does Screen Guild leave off and Miss Goddard begin?" And now she can't find it. She hears the boys like perfume—she's using it for the first time. . . . Wonder why Metro signed Hugh Marlowe from "Lady in the Dark," then gives him only nasty heavies. There's a fine actor, but nobody would know it from parts he gets. . . . Moss Hart isn't returning to New York until "Winged Victory" is ready, which will be bad news for one very fine comedienne back there.

Ramblings.

John Raitt, a solid hit on our Hollywood showcase, goes back east to understudy Alfred Drake in "Oklahoma!" and head the road company [if one is sent out] just as soon as he finishes "The Minstrel Man" with Binnie Barnes. . . . Jack Kirkland took ex-wife Nancy Carroll to see "Suds in Your Eye." Their daughter, Pat, is making a big hit in Chicago's "Kiss and Tell" company. . . . Frances Robinson rattled around here for a long time. Then she went east, got a bit in "Jack Pot," and is going places. . . . Victor Jory moved his wife and kids to Broadway, where he's a solid hit with "The Two Mrs. Carrolls." . . . Jimmy Lydon, our screen Henry Aldrich, leaves for personal appearances, after which he comes back to do two pictures for Republic. Jimmy has three brothers in the South Pacific. Up to date they've been lucky enough to remain together. They're in the infantry.

Here's the Dope.

Letters pouring in from all over asking why public can't see the movie I wrote about, "Report to the Nation." One writer insists: "Please start a movement toward having this picture released in every theater, not only in cities and towns, but in those remote stretches where inhabitants are far removed from the feel of war. Let's see what Germany has been doing to prepare for our undoing and what good use Japs have made of all materials we shipped them." . . . I called up Will Hays, who wired head of war activities committee. Here are excerpts from their reply. "Picture belongs to the army. It was made for their own purposes and nobody else so far has anything to do with it. The purpose was and is to indoctrinate workers in war production plants. It's being used so far exclusively for that purpose. They think it will have more effect upon war workers if they know it is being shown to them exclusively. If the time ever comes when they are willing to have it used otherwise, the matter will be taken up with OWI, who then will take it up with the WAC." . . . By the time that red tape's all cut, let's hope the war will be over.

Well, Well.

Ever hear of alfalfa soup? It's supposed to be wonderful for you. Lewis Stone is raising alfalfa on his ranch for that very purpose. Seems it's rich in iron and vitamins and has to be mowed down when only a few inches high. When it grows up, it goes to cows. . . . Jack Douglas says Hitler's astrological chart must be a horrorscope. . . . Wally Beery, playing a sort of Robin Hood two gun bunco artist in "Jingle Bill," robs a stage coach, then leaves a jingle behind. Here's a sample:

"Here in the forest primeval
I sit to explain in a verse
That while money's the root of all evil

INSTALMENT XX.

CHANCE MEETING.

"I've left Manners and Cotton taking statements from the staff," Supt. Vyner said, continuing his report, "I did the butler myself—you've got his statement there. He found the body. Then there's his wife—she's the cook; Louisa Holine, housemaid; two young girls, Polly Parsons, under housemaid, and Gladys Huggins, kitchenmaid.

"All their rooms are in the kitchen wing, on the other side of the dining room. None of their windows opens onto the terrace. The only occupied bedrooms whose windows do look out that way are Mr. Wray's at one end of the house, more or less over the study, and Mrs. Wray's at the other end. Mr. Wray would have been in the dining room, which looks the other way, at the time of Mr. Paradine's fall. But Mrs. Wray says she woke up with a feeling that she had heard some one cry out. She says she can't be sure just what she heard because she was dreaming, but she woke up with the feeling that she had heard something. She put on the light and looked at the time, and it was just after 12. I think there's very little doubt that she heard Mr. Paradine cry out as he fell."

"No, sir. Well, that's all the statements except the one we got from Miss Brenda Ambrose. I left her to the last, and I didn't expect to get anything out of her. And now I don't know whether I did or not."

"How's that?"

"Well, sir, you've got what she's put her name to. But there's more to it than that. She'd a kind of a manner with her every time she mentioned her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ambrose—and it's my opinion she went out of her way to mention her."

Col. Bostock whistled. He rummaged out Brenda Ambrose's statement and went thru it.

"Not so much the things she says as the nasty way she says 'em."

Col. Bostock whistled again, softly.

Miss Maud Silver was shopping. Even in war time, and with all the difficulty about coupons, children must be warmly clothed.

There were very good shops in Birleton, really quite equal to London. The girl at the wool counter, who looked about 15, could only offer Miss Silver a choice between dark gray, vivid magenta and a very bright emerald green.

As she stood by the counter in this unwonted state of hesitation voices reached her from the other side of a display of brightly colored scarves.

"The most shocking affair! Mr. Paradine of all people!" That was one voice.

"They say it's murder."

"O, no!"

"Well, my dear, Mrs. Curtin—you know, she works for me——"

"Yes?"

"Well, her niece, Gladys, is kitchenmaid at the Paradines, and she says all of them are sure that he'd never have fallen if he hadn't been pushed."

"Ssh! There's Lydia Pennington coming this way."

Miss Silver made up her mind suddenly. Little Roger should have a dark gray suit with collar, cuffs and belt of the emerald green.

Lydia Pennington was coming toward her dressed in a dark gray coat and skirt. The black felt hat which she had just bought was pulled well down over her red curls.

Lydia would have known Miss Maud Silver anywhere. The tidy, dowdy figure in the black cloth jacket and the elderly fur; the hat with its bunch of purple pansies; the neat mousey hair; the neat, inconspicuous features; the air compounded of mildness and self-possession—these, once seen, had somehow impressed themselves and were immediately recognized.

"Miss Silver! Do you remember me? No, of course you don't. But I did meet you about a month ago. You were with Laura Desborough, and she introduced us. She's a friend of mine. I'm Lydia Pennington."

"Indeed, I remember you very well, Miss Pennington."

Lydia said quickly, "What are you doing here?"

"I didn't mean that. I meant are you on a case?"

Miss Silver looked at her with attention.

"O, no. I am staying with my niece, Mrs. Burkett. Her husband has been transferred to the Birleton branch of his bank. He joined up, you know, but he is not very strong and they have sent him back to his work. So delightful for Ethel. They very kindly asked me for Christmas, but I was unable to come to them then, so I have been spending the New Year with them instead."

"Miss Silver—could I speak to you—would it be possible?"

"There is a nice tea room here. We could have a cup of tea."

"I don't know—I don't think so—too many people know me."

"We could walk—yes, certainly. My niece has a flat in Birleton Mansions."

"What!"

"They are quite new and most convenient—a restaurant on the ground floor, and most reasonable. Perhaps you know the flats?"

"I know some one who has one."

"Then I will just pay for my wool, and we will walk in that direction," said Miss Silver.

It was perhaps an hour later that Lydia emerged from Mrs. Burkett's flat, which was No. 12 Birleton Mansions, and stood for a moment on the landing. She looked past the lift shaft to the door of No. 12a, and thought how surprising it was that Miss Silver's niece should be living just across the landing from Mark Paradine. She wondered if there were any possibility that he would be in, and all at once she wanted him to be in so overwhelmingly that she found herself standing on Mark's threshold and ringing his bell.

College Choir Performance Is Outstanding

BY ALBERT GOLDBERG.

It remained for the Lawrence College choir of Appleton, Wis., in its concert at the Goodman theater last night, to give Chicago its first taste this season of the pleasures of a cappella singing. In fact, one might go further without exaggeration and add that it was the most stimulating choral singing of any sort that we have heard for many barren months.

The Lawrence College choir boasts 70 bright young voices, and it has sidestepped the curse of almost every other war-time chorus by virtue of the fact that the navy operates an officer candidate school at Lawrence college, enabling the choir to maintain a proper quota of male voices.

The outstanding characteristic of this excellent group is its legitimacy. Its gifted director, Carl J. Waterman, eschews with a purist's fastidiousness all the dubious "effects" and affectations which, barnacle-like, have weighed down a cappella choral singing in recent years. Instead, he strives for, and consistently achieves, clean contrapuntal lines, purity of diction, natural tone quality, and in consequence, the most substantial sort of musicianship. He does not even conduct like the average choral director, with a frenzied beating out of words and phrases, but instead, like an orchestra conductor, confines himself to the metrical beat, thereby instilling in his choristers a self reliance that tells in an impeccable ensemble.

It would be difficult to single out any of the fine examples of Russian choral music the choir sang as better than the rest, for all were of clean cut excellence. Two choruses from "The Peaceable Kingdom" of Randall Thompson, one of the best and least exploited of American composers, were of unusual interest as examples of modern choral writing. And in a beautifully sung arrangement of the Negro spiritual, "City Called Heaven," Shirlee Emmons won an ovation from the capacity audience for her rich and full voiced account of the solo part.

leave from his North Atlantic navy post is not keeping Mrs. Hamill from participating in the round of parties planned for this week to welcome Miss Evelina Pierce, headmistress of the Masters school at Dobbs Ferry, N. Y. Alumnae of the school will entertain Miss Pierce at their annual meeting and luncheon Friday at the Arts club, and later that afternoon Mrs. Hamill will be hostess at tea.

Miss Pierce, who will be staying at the Fortnightly, will be the special guest at a tea which Mrs. Scott Bromwell is giving tomorrow in Lake Forest, to be followed by a dinner which Mrs. Solomon B. Smith is planning. A group of Dobbs alumnae will assist Mrs. John Quincy Adams at a tea Thursday in her home. That night Miss Margot Atkin will give a dinner for Miss Pierce.

Taking a cue from the recent successful odd jobs war bond auction held in Winnetka, residents of the near north side will gather at the Boys' Latin school next Monday night to bid on the services of a number of Chicagoans. Instead of hiring snow shovelers and tree choppers by purchasing war bonds, however, the urban dwellers will bid for valets, waiters, pianists, dancing instructors, and story tellers.

Lester Winternitz will act as auctioneer. Some of those who will go under the gavel are W. Press Hodgkins, who will be a gentleman's gentleman; Neil Bondshu, who will give an hour's piano concert to a "lonely heart;" A. Bradley Eben, who will serve a dinner party; Mrs. Homer P. Hargrave, who will tell a child a bedtime story; Mrs. Otto Madlener, who will give a dancing lesson; Mrs. Hodgkins, a nurse's aid, who will give an invalid a bed bath; Frank Woods Jr., who will be a butler, and Miss Yvonne Hoskins, who will be a nursemaid. Samuel A. Culbertson II., is deputy bond chairman for that district. Admission will be $2 in war stamps. Reserved seats may be had for a $25 war bond.

Marc Denkinger, professor of French at the University of Michigan, will speak today before the Cercle Francais. Mrs. Augustine J. Bowe, a former president of the club, will give the members' part of the program, and Mrs. J. Hamilton Lewis and Mrs. Hans Lange will pour.

Loop Zonta Club to Hear Mrs. Boyd Speak Tonight

Mrs. T. Kenneth Boyd of Winnetka will give a talk on the work of the Children's Scholarship association, of which she is president, for the Loop Zonta club at a dinner meeting at 6:30 o'clock tonight in the Cordon of the Fine Arts building.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1944: By Ely Culbertson.]

It is far better to take an "unnecessary" finesse than to give up the greatest part of your chance to fulfill the contract. For example:

East, dealer.
North-South 60 on score.

East	South	West	North
1 heart	Pass	Pass	Double
Redouble	2 dia.	Pass	Pass
2 hearts	3 clubs	Pass	3 dia.
3 hearts	Pass	Pass	4 dia.
Pass	Pass	Double

The bidding was none too good on the part of East and West. The latter, despite the abject weakness of his hand, should not have passed out his partner's opening bid when the opponents had a 60 score—the pass was an invitation for them to grab the rubber—and East could have made it much more difficult for the enemy if, instead of redoubling, he had jumped to three hearts. He went that far, anyway, and lost the value of a shutout.

Two rounds of hearts opened the play, declarer ruffing the second. A club was led to the king, and declarer was again shortened in trumps by having to ruff East's heart return. Now, correctly reading that the trumps were divided 4-1, declarer took the pains to lead one round in order to draw East's singleton. West did not cover the jack—he could afford to wait—and declarer now led a low spade to the king. Dummy's last club was returned, and declarer made the nervy but entirely logical play of finessing with the ten. When it held, as it had to do for any chance of success, declarer cashed the club queen, discarding a spade from dummy. West ruffed the following club lead, but it cost him his trump trick, and declarer's doubled contract was now as good as home.

War Time Apparel for a Cotton Queen

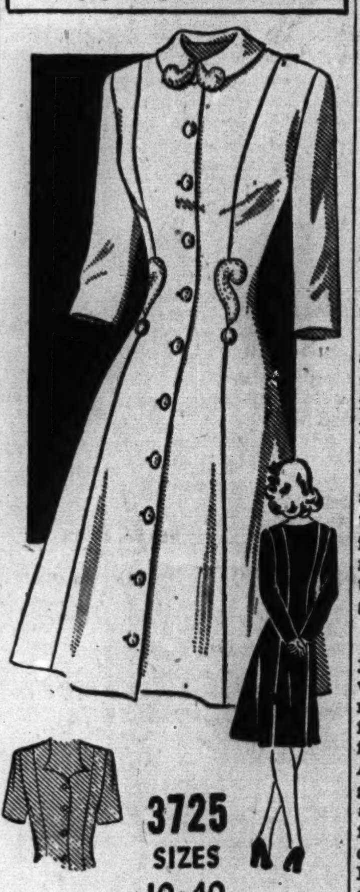
Simplicity was the note of Chicago's annual National Wash Apparel show, which opened yesterday in the Palmer House, where buyers and manufacturers from every part of the United States gathered to study spring and summer fashions. Highlight of the event was the modeling on an all-cotton dress trimmed with $1,500 worth of war savings stamps. The dress was lent for the occasion by a Des Moines, Ia., store, and was worn by the cotton queen, Miss Linwood Lelane Gisclard of Donaldsonville, La.

A press preview of the apparel clinics, which will be held today and tomorrow in the Merchandise Mart in connection with the apparel market, revealed that 1944 fashions for children will be colorful and practical. Despite earlier reports that mothers of small children face difficulties in purchasing clothes for their youngsters, one manufacturer said he is able to take orders for 100 per cent of his full first quarter's quota in addition to 35 per cent of the second quarter quota. A round-up of fashions was presented by Style Exhibitors, Inc., yesterday in the Morrison hotel.

Applique Trim



The paneled, contour-hugging lines of this coat dress are suitable for either lightweight woolens or crepes. Except for buttons, the only trimming is matching or contrasting applique, the pattern for which is included. Style No. 3725 is designed for sizes 10 to 40. Size 16 requires 3⅝ yards of 39 inch material.

Order Clotilde patterns from Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Annex, New York City. Print name and address; state size. Each pattern is 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing. The pattern book is 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with pattern.

Flowered Hats Provide First Sign of Spring

BY REA SEEGER.

Flowered hats are blossoming in realistic color all around the town. Tiny nosegay effects that sit straight across the brow have, for subtle contrast, tiny bows of pastel ribbon between the buds, leaves, and blossoms. Tinier hats, made of dozens of the smallest flowers, are fashioned in the new skull-hugging formation, with a deliberate play on the widow's peak or hairline of the wearer. Most hats are made in a secure headline foundation; the old-time casual feel and look of just an impertinent corsage or bunch of flowers precariously planted on the tip-over edge of the forehead has gone.

The first all-white hats provide just the right dramatics for dark winter street clothes, so the floral masses in white are ideal follow-ups for tailored sleek satins and smooth felts in chalk and powder white. Apple blossoms, white violets, baby gardenias, hyacinths, tiny rosebuds, and snowdrops are some of the flowered headlines with which to capture that first breath of spring. Many are misted with pale green or gay yellow veils, to help bring on spring fever for a new hat.

Vivid color schemes vie with flower showpieces for gayety and charm. Included are red and yellow, blue and gold, multicolor effects, romantic violets with pink or red roses, and field flower bouquets with green leaves—all back in fresh new arrangements of color and outlines. Foliage hats of ferns or leaves, chaplets to wear from ear to ear, or little round caps add the third spring topper choice. They all have everything the first spring flowers have except the fragrance.

Stage Notes

Ole Olsen will leave the cast of "Sons O' Fun" after Saturday night's performance at the Civic Opera house and will be replaced by Marty May, who is now Chic Johnson's son-in-law. Meanwhile, the musical has sent out a call for chorus girls, asking that pretty, experienced dancers report at 2 p. m. tomorrow to Dennis Murray, stage director, at the stage door.

"Three Is a Family" has extended its engagement at the Civic theater until Feb. 26, two weeks beyond the tentative closing date announced last week. The farce also announces a Washington's birthday matinee, Tuesday, Feb. 22, as does "The Patriots," which will open at the Studebaker Feb. 21.

"Good Night Ladies" has penciled March 11 as its probable closing date at the Blackstone, which would add up to a neat 100 weeks for a Chicago record. The booking schedule leads into Milwaukee and St. Louis at the start of a long tour.

Dinner Tonight Will Mark Sheil School Anniversary

Bishop Bernard J. Sheil, presiding tonight at a dinner for the faculty of the Sheil School of Social Studies on the first anniversary of the founding of the adult education center, will announce the presentation for the first time of the school's Leo XIII. award. In naming the award for Leo XIII. the school designates one of the greatest figures of the papacy, whose encyclicals championing the common man and advocating reforms for social justice are fundamental studies in sociology. The award is to be made annually on the basis of noteworthy contribution to social education. The anniversary dinner is to be held in the Medinah club.

Child's Actions May Be Result of Many Orders

[Copyright: 1944: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

With so many mothers away from home part or all of each day, I can't imagine a letter that would interest them more than this one:

"I've been reading your column on parents and children for some months past. A recent article on the 'bad' habits of small children was particularly interesting, as I have a little girl of 20 months who is just as full of mischief as any six others I've ever seen. However, I, for one, am glad to say that I don't try to stop her too much, as I realize she's got so much excess energy, she must let it out in some way. The more one tells youngsters of that age not to do this, or not to touch that, the more they'll do and touch just the things you don't want them to. Such is the perversity of nature!

"I really think mothers should start reading on what do do with 6, 8, 10 year olds, and so forth, when their children are small, so that they will have some idea of what they might look forward to, and not to be too disappointed if their little ones don't turn out to be the paragons of virtue that some mothers seem to expect.

"I believe that a lot of our own baby's mischievousness can be blamed on the fact that not only one person has had full charge of her bringing up, but three, at different times—that is, my aunt [who kept her for about six months when I found it necessary to go back to work]; an elderly lady who now takes care of [and whom the baby, incidentally, minds better than any one else], and I, for myself, on Saturdays and Sundays, or when I'm lucky enough to have a holiday. This might possibly be the reason for other small children's behavior in these trying times. Mothers should certainly try to take that into consideration, I believe, when such is the case. There's nothing I'd like better than to be a 'full time mother,' but, as I said, under present conditions that is impossible."

I believe as this writer does, that "part time" mothers would gain a great deal in effectiveness in dealing with their children, if they would always recognize how hard it is for a child to have several grownups in command.

White Collar GIRL

—BY RUTH MAC KAY

Nosey Investigates Tact.

For the benefit of executives and others, I now have completed a survey concerning the average young business woman. The results show that two out of three have telephone tact.

It was decided that three contacts would suffice for this study. The first call was to a neat little parcel who, being a friend's new secretary, wouldn't know the investigator's voice. When she answered the telephone, the investigator, adequately abrupt to put the subject on the defensive, said: "How long do you think I'm going to stand around waiting? You were to meet me at quarter to five and it's now 5:30. What's the idea?"

The reply, revealing commendable tact, indeed, was as follows: "Why . . . I must have overlooked . . . I mean, I must have forgotten. . . . O, dear, it's all my fault! Tell me where you are and I'll be right down!" This being simply a survey, the investigator, naturally, hung up, but with satisfaction. Note that the subject did not say tactlessly: "Tell me who you are."

Next he called one of those forever distraught fashion copy writers of his acquaintance. Employing an effective vocal disguise, he said: "This is Joe. If you aren't busy tonight I think I'll drop in."

The reply: "How nice! What time shall I expect you?" Altho a moment later she did add, "May I ask which Joe you are?" this is still very satisfactory tact, especially for a copy writer. The investigator hung up.

The third call was to a typically sultry perfume counter siren on the investigator's triple-A list who had a date with him for dinner. Again disguising his voice and using an assumed name, he said, "This is Phil. Perhaps you remember I met you at a cocktail party in November. How about taking in a show this evening?"

The reply: "I'll be delighted, darling. The only thing is I have a dinner date with a dope tonight and I'll have to get rid of him first."

How to Buy a Bond.

I am a miser! I haven't spent a penny in five years! Since Pearl Harbor I have interviewed 3,375 pennies as to date, place of birth, ets., trying to fill in a Lincoln penny collection sequence.

When I have 50 pennies on hand I roll them up and turn them in for war stamps. Up to the present time I have purchased five $25 war bonds with my hoardings.

Do you think my Uncle Sam would object? NINA CLOCK.

The Office Calendar.

A glance over the 1944 calendar shows that this year people who don't like Friday the 13th won't have to worry. Only one and that is in October. HELEN WASHBURN.

Thru the Looking Glass

We can't emphasize too strongly the special need nowadays for working girls to keep hands and faces cleaner than they've ever kept them before. The overcrowding and the tremendous pressure of work everywhere have made our normally none too clean world an even grimier one—and skin irritations are on the increase just because of dirt. This is true, we find, in schools as well as offices and factories.

Naturally, working conditions vary and you should plan your daily skin care program according to the needs in the spot in which you find yourself. If your job is in a downright dirty factory or office take special pains to clean your face at least twice and preferably three times during your working day. The time—and the few pennies for cleansing cream or lotion will be well spent; you're preserving your good complexion and safeguarding it against infection. Wash and scrub your hands even oftener—and do avoid the habit of touching your hands to your face at any time.

A little box of grooming aids can be purchased, or you can make one up for yourself with your favorite necessities. If the soap supplied in your rest quarters is too crude for your sensitive skin use your own cake of a blander one. Use cleansing creams, and keep a generous supply of tissues on hand. Use a freshening lotion, too. It's a pickup in itself and it also wipes away any vestiges of cream that might cling to the skin to lure more dirt.

Keep a supply of fresh powder puffs or little disposable cotton puffs on hand, too. It's a sin against good looks to apply clean powder over a clean skin with a dirty puff. Little pimples and dirt infections can grow into great skin sorrows these days. ELEANOR NANGLE.

She Retires at 70 After 45 Years on Job with Railroad

Miss Florence M. Pepper marked her 70th birthday and her retirement from the Santa Fe railroad yesterday. The retirement ended 45 years of service with the road, all in its traffic department. In the last 35 years she was secretary to the five general freight traffic managers who served successively.

Miss Pepper said she obtained her job thru a friend and kept it because she liked it. She said her work always had been interesting, and her superiors praised the way she had performed it.

Miss Pepper said she plans to spend her time catching up on reading and answering the questions of an inquisitive 7 year old nephew, Kenneth Hirst. She lives at 4327 North Winchester avenue.

You'll find that ration points go a long way when you serve these savory wine-basted spareribs.
RECIPE: Wipe a side of spareribs (about 2 lbs.) with damp cloth, sprinkle with salt and pepper, place in large baking pan, and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) about 1½ hours, or until done. While baking, occasionally pour a few spoonfuls of table wine over the spareribs, using about 1 cup wine in all. Serves 3 or 4.
Serve Wine at table. To make a pork dish extra good eating, serve wine with it at table. We suggest either a delicate golden Sauterne, well chilled, or a tart red California Claret. See your wine dealer. Wine Advisory Board, San Francisco 5.

PACKINGHOUSE WORKERS WILL ASK PAY BOOST

CIO Union Also Seeking Uniform Standards.

The United Packinghouse Workers of America [CIO] announced yesterday that a flat 10 cent an hour wage increase, uniform job classifications, and payment to the worker for time spent in preparing for his daily job will be among the major demands to be presented before the war labor board at a national hearing scheduled to start in about two weeks.

Lewis J. Clark, union president, made the announcement at a press conference in his headquarters in the Engineering building. He said the demands were drawn at a recent international executive board meeting in Chicago. The WLB hearing is expected to be held here.

The hourly rate increase of 10 cents is necessary to eliminate the inequalities existing between meat packing wages and those of other essential war industries, such as steel and shipbuilding, and to compensate for the rise in living costs, Clark explained. He said the packing industry's average wage rate, exclusive of overtime, is 81.57 cents an hour.

Establishment of job classifications and evaluations on a uniform, national basis is needed to remove inequalities within the industry, he continued. This would mean the same pay rates for men and women, or equal pay for equal work, he said.

Clark said the demand for payment for time spent in preparing for a day's work is based upon the fact that in the packing industry many operations involve such preparations as changing clothes and sharpening knives. The union also is demanding that packing companies furnish their workers with the tools and clothing necessary to individual jobs.

Want More Hours Guaranteed.

Another major union demand to be presented for WLB consideration is that the present 32 hour a week minimum work guarantee be increased to 40 hours.

The executive board program also demands a tax program placing the burden upon those most able to pay and enabling labor to retain its wage gains. The board further announced that the union intends to participate fully in the CIO political action committee because "issues affecting us and the general public will be determined on political levels."

Clark said that pending the completion of the WLB hearings the union will ask for an interim order establishing immediate arbitration proceedings in its differences with Armour & Co.

BROKER FOUND DEAD AT PARTY; DANCER IS HELD

Carthage, N. Y., Jan. 31 (AP).—Mrs. Constance Elizabeth Miller, 38 years old, former New York City dancer, was held today on a first degree manslaughter charge in the death of Thomas Ward Wasson, 54, Carthage broker.

Carthage Police Chief Philip B. Fletcher said he found Wasson's body in his apartment yesterday when he went there in response to a telephone call from a woman. District Atty. Carl J. Hynes said this woman was Mrs. Miller and that "a drinking party had been going on." Hynes reported an autopsy showed the cause of death as "shock, exhaustion, and concussion of the brain."

State police said Mrs. Miller also was known as Constance Wasson.

RACE RELATIONS GROUP TO BEGIN WEEKLY TALKS

City officials and civic leaders will attend the public conference of the mayor's committee on race relations at 2 p. m. today in the council chambers. The conference is the first of a series of four to be held at weekly intervals this month. Today's program will include talks on various aspects of the race problem and an open discussion in which any attending may participate. The race relations group was appointed by Mayor Kelly last July. Edwin R. Embree, president of the Julius Rosenwald fund, is chairman.

SIGHT OF POLICE GUNS BRINGS 2 DOWN TO EARTH

When George Xanthakis, a paint sprayer in a casket factory, returned to his home at 3038 Lexington street yesterday, he paused at the front door when he heard some one moving around inside.

Surmising it was burglars, Xanthakis went to a nearby store and called Marquette police, who arrived in time to see two youths emerge thru a skylight onto the roof of the house, and leap to an adjoining roof.

They identified themselves as Andrew Braiticio, 1217 South Sawyer avenue, and Michael Callendo, 1552 South Kedzie avenue, each 17 years old. Braiticio turned over $26 which he said he had taken in the house.

AGREE TO DELAY CHAPLIN TEST IN PATERNITY SUIT

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 31 (AP).—Attorneys for Charlie Chaplin and Joan Berry, who has sued to have him named the father of her infant daughter, agreed today to postpone blood tests of Chaplin and the child until March 15.

The tests were scheduled to be made this week under a financial settlement Chaplin signed when his former protege announced she was expecting the birth.

Lawyers agreed to the postponement to avoid any conflict with a federal grand jury investigation, now under way, to determine if Miss Berry's civil rights were violated when she was arrested on a charge of vagrancy after calling at Chaplin's Beverly Hills home. The charge later was dismissed.

POSTPONE TRIAL OF STEPFATHER IN MURDER CASE

Judge Rudolph F. Desort in Criminal court yesterday deferred until Feb. 28 the trial of John William Shaffer, 28 years old, a railroad brakeman, for the murder Nov. 10 of his 5 year old stepdaughter, Letty Joyce Weir. His attorney, Harold Levy, is in another murder trial.

Shaffer's wife, Marie, the state's chief witness, glared at the accused man during the hearing. When told the state intended to qualify the jury to inflict the death penalty, Mrs. Shaffer cried: "I want him to get the same punishment he gave Letty Joyce."

Annual Meeting

The 33d annual meeting of the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago will be held at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday in the grand ballroom of the La Salle hotel. Philip D. Armour will preside at the meeting, and will report on the organization's health work among underprivileged children in Chicago's most overcrowded sections. Other reports will be given by Miss Sara B. Place, superintendent; Dr. Heyword N. Sanford, medical director, and Mrs. Gordon D. Shorney, president of the woman's auxiliary.

NORMAN ANGELL, FAMOUS BRITON, TO SPEAK HERE

Norman Angell, former member of the British parliament and author of "The Great Illusion" and "Let the People Know," will be the principal speaker next Monday at a luncheon meeting of the English Speaking union in the Blackstone hotel.

His efforts to preserve peace in the interlude between the two world wars won the Nobel peace prize for 1933, and resulted in his elevation to knighthood by King George V. in 1931.

Subject of his address here will be "British Imperialism and the Future." Angell, a native Briton, came to the United States as a young man and engaged in farming. He returned to Europe, where he entered journalism, later embarking upon a lecture tour thru Europe and America. He has published more than a score of books.

ARMY WILL OPEN HUGE GALESBURG HOSPITAL TODAY

Galesburg, Ill., Jan. 31 [Special].—The new Mayo General hospital, a 4½ million dollar army institution, named in tribute to the famed Mayo brothers, Will and Charles, of the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn., will be opened officially tomorrow in readiness for treatment of American soldiers brought back from war zones and those injured in training thruout the country.

Col. H. L. Krafft, commander, said he expects patients to arrive within a short time after he notifies the war department in Washington and the 6th service command headquarters in Chicago that the hospital is ready.

FIRED UNIONISTS SUE TEAMSTERS; ASK ACCOUNTING

Four former officials of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen, and Helpers of America yesterday filed suit in Circuit court seeking reinstatement on the ground they were ousted illegally and asking an accounting of union funds and assets.

The suit, filed by John O'Neill, John Miller, William Cullen, and Thomas Conley, is directed against local No. 782 of the union and its officers.

One of the defendants named is Dan Tobin, international president of the union, whose annual salary as set forth in the complaint is $30,000, together with traveling expenses for himself and his wife both in this country and abroad.

The suit also charges that the nine vice presidents of the international union, when working under orders of the president, receive $15,000 per year. Organizers, the suit asserts, receive the same salary.

CHICAGO STAYS NO. 2 WORK AREA FOR FEBRUARY

Official announcement that Chicago will remain in the No. 2 labor classification during February, pending an intensive study of the area's man power supply and demand, was made yesterday in Washington, D. C., by the war man power commission. Paul V. McNutt, WMC chairman, will disclose today the preliminary findings of the survey. He has warned that if an acute labor shortage is found a No. 1 rating, which entails war contract restrictions, will be inevitable.

The WMC announced in its monthly report that several areas near Chicago were shifted from the No. 2 to No. 1 classification. They are Waukegan, Aurora-Elgin, Springfield-Decatur, Moline, De Kalb, South Chicago, and Sterling in Illinois; Anderson, Fort Wayne, Gary-Hammond, South Bend, Michigan City-La Porte, and Muncie in Indiana, and Racine and Sturgeon Bay in Wisconsin.

POLICE AND U. S. QUIZ GIRL AFTER HOLDUP ARREST

Vera Sarchett, 16 years old, who told Englewood police she came to Chicago last summer with a truck driver who picked her up in Kalamazoo, Mich., after she had escaped from a juvenile home, was held last night on a charge of robbing Mrs. Alice Freeman, 6422 Eggleston avenue, of $20.

Federal agents are investigating her story that she came to Chicago with Walter Benson, 35, of 6435½ Eggleston avenue. He and Joseph White, 22, of 6958 Carpenter street, also are held on the robbery charge.

Detectives Richard Buckley and Ed Crowley said that Miss Sarchett and White were trying to rob Justin Shaplik in his grocery at 6443 Eggleston when Mrs. Freeman walked in. The girl, they charge, knocked Mrs. Freeman down and fled with her purse to an apartment where she passed the money to Benson. Shaplik identified the trio. The Sarchett girl's home is in Litchfield, Ill.

3-Way Battle Develops for Sen. Caraway's Seat

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—A three-way fight developed today for the seat held by Mrs. Hattie Caraway [D., Ark.], only woman member of the United States senate. Rep. Fulbright [D.], announced his candidacy at the July 25 primary. David Terry, a former member of the house, said he too would seek to succeed Sen. Caraway, who is an avowed candidate for re-election.

MAJOR LEAGUE FARMERS SET TO DEFEND ACRES

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Baseball's household, which on the surface appears to be orderly enough to suit the most fastidious, may become slightly disarranged this week-end when the so-called post-war planning committees of the two majors and the minors go into a huddle in New York.

Supposedly they are going to arrange everything for the future without having anything to arrange at the moment, but while pawing around in the dark they may stir up enough discontent to make Commissioner K. M. Landis wonder what has suddenly happened to his usually complacent baseball family.

The cannon crackers are concealed in the farm club item, and altho the committees have no power beyond suggestion for later vote, a mere attempt to launch a move against the systems will bring on a barrage in which even the commissioner, supposedly an anti-farmer of long standing, will need a helmet. In simple terms it is a matter between the "haves" and "have nots," none of the chain opponents as yet having produced proof that the practice is injurious.

It's an Added Subject.

When the post-war committees were appointed last December it was merely with the idea of getting things arranged for the resumption of minor leagues which disbanded because of the war and for adopting some definite method for the steering of players from Uncle Sam's ranks back into baseball The farm argument was thought up later and the operators of such organizations now suspect the antis will attempt to make use of war time conditions.

The National league is well prepared with oratory to combat the antis if they put on the pressure. On the National's committee are those two 100 per cent farmers, Branch Rickey, the originator thereof, and his former St. Louis associate, Sam Breadon.

These Farmers Are Prepared.

As proof that both the National and American leagues think something drastic might be attempted, they are taking their attorneys to the meeting. The lawyers also may come in handy as advisors if the planning committee should, as unofficially intimated, try to bestir themselves on the subject of free agency for a vast number of soldier-players now carried on national defense lists of clubs for which some of them never played.

To free players in this category would precipitate a post-war scramble, not only with the players looking for jobs, but with the wealthier clubs bidding for the services of the better men when they are discharged by Uncle Sam. Thus the money clubs would grab off the cream and what they didn't need they could dispatch to minor league affiliates.

District Golf Presidents to Hold Meeting Tonight

Artis Morrow (left), Savoy Athletic club, 147 pound novice, ducks under the charge of Jesse Gonzalez, representing the Necaxa Athletic club, at this stage of their bout at St. Sabina's, but he was unable to keep out of Jesse's way enough and the Necaxa boxer won a three round decision.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Golfwise citizens who have been attending the $32,000 Petersen bowling classic, currently in noisy, not to say lachrymose, progress at Barney Hochstadter's Archer-35th Recreation, went out to the venerable auditorium for last night's program with the hunch that before the show ends, come Sunday midnight, the southwest side lanes may be known as the Oakmont of tenpins. Last night they were confirmed in their hunch when all three squads failed to approach the 1,599 leading total.

They recalled that in 1935, the United States Golf association open tournament was decided at the Oakmont Country club, up there in the Hulton highlands, hard by Pittsburgh. The event established a record for weeping and teeth gnashing by a field of the game's ablest swingers. Oakmont's billiard-table greens gave rise to the classic quip by one professional that putting on them was equal to making the ball stop on the tenth of a flight of 15 steps. Its formidable bunkers were given new and more sulphurous titles by the tortured artists.

There Always Is a Winner.

But when the travail was over, there was still a winner, even as there will be in this Petersen bowling show. It was Sam Parks, the Pittsburgh boy, who verified Gene Sarazen's prediction that the first man to walk off the 72d green with a score beneath 300 would be the champion. Samuel did it with 299, 11 over par for the trying journey.

There are no registered pars in bowling tournaments, altho the battle, first held by Louis Petersen in 1921, finds a common winning score of 1,700 pins or better. All-time low was Louis Levine's 1,588 in 1922, while Dominick De Vito's 1,924 in 1927 still stands as the all-time high.

Meanwhile, the first 16 squads of the 40 competing in the current production have not been able to reach the 1,600 mark for their eight tests. Top total is the 1,599 with which Therman Gibson of Detroit celebrated his 27th birthday on the penultimate squad. Back of Therman, as the field went into last night's three squads, were two other Wolverines, Joe Norris of De-

Autograph Fans Ground Tom Harmon in Chicago

BY EDWARD PRELL.

Lt. Harmon was looking for a sergeant—Russ O'Brien, who was his spotter when Tom broadcast Michigan football games in Ann Arbor after his college days were over. He also was looking for Elyse Knox, the Hollywood starlet, who will arrive at 7:30 o'clock this morning on the Challenger, then go with Tom to his parents' home in Ann Arbor.

The search for the sergeant had to wait when the autograph seekers and old acquaintances converged on the American air hero. More than an hour later he had failed to make contact with the sergeant and complained of being hungry—but no one paid much attention to this—all Harmon fans knowing that Tom spent 21 days in China without food after being shot down in the attack on Kiukiang.

Between neatly and simply inscribing "Tom Harmon" on autograph cards, the lieutenant submitted to an interview on the run, all the while nervously looking for the missing sergeant.

Harmon Scoffs at Japan's Pilots.

Lt. Harmon credited football training to his two miraculous escapes from death—first after a crash last spring in the South American jungles, then in the China incident when he was shot down behind Japanese lines, with his subsequent 32 day journey to safety.

"If it hadn't been for my football training," said Tom, "I would never have survived either ordeal. When you play football it gives you a fighting heart and a body to handle such situations as I faced. It teaches you to hate to lose and a competitive heart was the difference between life and death."

"They can't hold a candle to us," he snorted. "Why? We were raised in the U. S. A. — that's enough. They're mechanical flyers and when they get alone in spots where the chips are down they don't know what's going on. That's where the American flyers are at their best."

The lieutenant toted back many souvenirs from his Asiatic adventures. Included were 20 trinkets from Chinese admirers, fine embroideries and Chinese pipes, some of which had been in the same families for three centuries.

Tom, having flown the ocean, is a member of the Short Snorter club, and he exchanged autographs with a couple of lodge members last night. He also did a jig with Chief Boatswain's Mate 1st Class Pat Murphy, a Chicago sporting character who has met the best on the wrestling mat. Pat also had a story to tell—of shrapnel wounds suffered in an Indian ocean battle.

No Wedding This Time, Says Flyer.

Lt. Harmon, who was a member of the College All-Star team in 1941, said the special services are doing a fine job supplying athletic equipment in China. Over there, Tom played touch football, baseball, and basketball.

"A thick milk chocolate—and boy, I got it in Miami just as soon as I hit the states!

Is there, by chance, a wedding planned in Ann Arbor, Tom was asked.

"No . . ." Then as an after thought, "Not this trip."

And if that sergeant hasn't caught up with Tom, the lieutenant's registered in the Sherman hotel. But then, maybe Tom will forget all about the sergeant today. A soldier has to have his romance when he can get it.

HOPPE ASSUMES LEAD OF 100-70 OVER COCHRAN

Willie Hoppe, world three cushion billiard champion, last night took a lead of 100 to 70 over Welker Cochran in the first two rounds of the renewal of the Chicago version of their long standing rivalry at Bensinger's Recreation, 131 South Wabash avenue. Yesterday afternoon Hoppe beat Cochran, 50 to 23, in 31 innings. Last night, Hoppe won, 50 to 47, in 47 innings.

Hoppe and Cochran will continue with two matches daily at 3 p. m. and 8:30 p. m. daily thru Saturday at Bensinger's.

ARMY OFFICERS ENJOY FIGHTS AT ST. SABINA'S

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Three army officers from the Chicago quartermaster depot and a former football guard from Nebraska were among the hundreds of spectators who gave their stamp of approval to the south sectional Golden Gloves tournament in St. Sabina auditorium last night. The officers were Lt. Col. John J. Madigan, director of supplies; Maj. Frank C. Basler, priorities officer, and Maj. Richard R. Rohrbach. Clair Bishop was the former gridiron star.

In 1939, when Frankie Kainrath of Riverdale, Ill., won his second consecutive Golden Glove bantamweight championship, he was the idol of youngsters, especially in his own bailiwick, and one of his biggest boosters was 12 year old Jack Zoller of Dalton, Ill., near Kainrath's home. Zoller, now 17 and a senior at Mount Carmel High school, tried to emulate Kainrath, but was defeated in his first bout by Robert Williams, Savoy A. C. lightweight.

Herb Mashino, Fort Sheridan bantamweight, will win the 118 pound open medal out south, it was predicted by experienced observers. That may be so, but these experts apparently are underrating Lloyd Watts, 1943 C. Y. O. title holder. Mashino's chief rival and one of the most capable fighters at his weight in the middle west, Watts advanced to tonight's championship round by drawing a bye while Mashino eliminated George Holt of the C. Y. O. on a technical knockout to gain the right to meet Watts.

Boatley Miller, Savoy A. C. middleweight, was disqualified from competition by A. A. U. officials when he was found to be an experienced boxer competing as a novice. Miller scored a second round technical knockout over Donald Schemel, 16 years old, of 537 West 56th place, but the achievement was not allowed and Schemel was reinstated.

Among open boxers to draw byes were Pete De Simone, C. Y. O. featherweight; Johnny Bratton, Savoy lightweight, and Collins Brown. Brown, 21 year old employe at the new postoffice building, is last year's C. Y. O. open middleweight champion. In 68 bouts he has won all except three.

Jimmy Geraghty, 17 year old novice featherweight representing the St. Justin A. C. at 71st and Honore streets, was as jittery as all get out until his father Pat showed up and gave him permission to fight. Then Master Jim pounded out a victory over Walt Zebrauskas to qualify for this evening's fighting.

Muncie, Ind., Star, first round.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Chicago's 17th annual Golden Gloves tournament opened last night in St. Sabina's gymnasium before the largest crowd to see a preliminary in recent years. Those fans who packed the seats and stood along the walls and leaned out of the gallery found plenty to cheer about. Thruout an uproariously lively evening, they saw youngsters of all shapes and sizes launch the 1944 version of amateur boxing's greatest show. The lads delivered with a zest that matched the pace set by the fighters who have gone before them during the 17 years of Golden Gloves competition.

That's why the crowd will be back again tonight to see the south side sectional championships decided in the same arena. At the conclusion of tonight's fighting, eight open division and eight novice champions will emerge—one from each weight division. These lads will be the qualifiers in the city championship matches which will be held in Marigold Gardens Feb. 14.

Action in North Side Tomorrow.

Immediately after tonight's south side finals the action will shift to Loyola gymnasium, where the north sectional events will open tomorrow. They'll continue on Thursday and reach their conclusion on Friday.

The crowd which cheered its way thru a lively opening program last night found this tournament as entertaining as ever. They saw youngsters who never before had fought in an organized event and they also watched some skillful veterans in action. They got equal thrills out of each type of boxer.

Herb Mashino of Fort Sheridan, son of American born parents of Japanese descent, put plenty of thunder in the open division competition. He required only a few seconds to get the range of his opponent, George Holt, of the C. Y. O.

After a brief bit of sparring, Mashino found an opening and whipped across a tremendous right to the side of the head. Holt dropped with such an emphatic thud that his seconds came piling into the ring and the bout was stopped without a complete count. Mashino went to the quarter-finals of the tournament of champions last year.

Lad Introduces New Style.

Roy Straight, a rangy, red haired lad with an inexhaustible supply of energy, bounced around the ring fighting with a stance that seemed to be his own invention. Both arms were bent sharply at the elbows and both fists pointed at the ceiling. As he pranced around waggling his arms continually he brought down chopping rights and lefts in swift succession.

Unorthodox as his method was, it seemed to be a good idea, for his opponent, Ken Durrah of the C. Y. O., soon became so thoroly confused that he was an easy target. Ken kept trying to duck the punches but in the second round he gave up after a particularly hard wallop on the jaw, and the fight went to Straight on a technical knockout.

Gray Ladies.

I see them quietly moving thru the halls
Of hospitals or in and out of wards,
Gently carrying comfort where they can;
Their only motive gravitating towards
The hope that they may serve some lonely soul—
Lying long hours upon a bed of pain,
Trying to find some little thing to do
To bring the sufferer hope and peace again.

I've seen their soft gray garments thru the halls
And always with some small gift of thoughtfulness

To give thus of themselves and of their time,
Such selflessness within a war-mad world
Achieves a note not far from the sublime;
A toast, then, to them all, where'er they are,
To each Gray Lady up and down the land,
Who sees to it that none within their ken

BUT COL. CORKIN CHEWED HIM TO BITS FOR GOING OUT ALONE...I'M WORRIED ABOUT FLIGHT OFFICER LEE...
WHY? I HEAR HE BEAT UP THE JAP AIRFIELD, EVEN THOUGH THE SPY DAME MANAGED TO LAND HER STOLEN AIRPLANE...
HERE, HE COMES...HE DOES HAVE HIS FLAPS DOWN AT THAT...
TAKE OFF, JAKE—I WANT TO TALK TO HIM
SIR, I WONDER IF YOU COULD GIVE ME SOME ADVICE?
ADVICE? ..ME?

South Side to Crown Gloves Kings Tonight

the Charles Boyer type as he climbed leisurely thru the ropes to await the bell for his bout with Martin Lowery. Once the gong clanged, however, Russell lost his matinee idol look and became very much the fighting man. Lowery smashed back all the way, but in the end the decision went to Pedraza, a C. Y. O. boy.

Referee Joe McNamara came very near losing one of the bouts on a knockout. Joe maneuvered himself into a position that was strategically unsound when he stepped between Art Marvin and Wardell Sutton just as Wardell was winding up to let go with a roundhouse wallop. At the last possible split second the boy held his fire and Joe adroitly withdrew his exposed jaw to safer territory.

Every Match Interesting.

No one ever is quite sure just what these novices will do in the ring. So there's variety and fresh interest in every match. As for the veterans, they're all being watched closely to get a line on their chances against the best fighters from all Golden Gloves territory whom they'll meet in the Tournament of Champions in the Stadium Feb. 28, 29, and March 1.

Eight novices and eight open division title holders—one in each weight division—will be decided in tonight's south side final bouts. The novices' objective then will be the city championship meet in Marigold Gardens. After that they'll bide their time until next year. The open division fighters, however, are aiming to carry on toward Golden Glove championships which must be won against the toughest competition.

Golden Gloves territory is bigger than ever this year. For California has come into it this time, bringing with it boxers drawn from Arizona and New Mexico. New Orleans and Pensacola, Fla., also have joined in the campaign, providing new major centers in the deep south.

There will be action in two out of town centers tonight—third round matches in Cleveland and first round in Muncie. The Cleveland boys will carry on right thru to their championship bouts this week, with four nights of fighting climaxed by the finals on Friday.

Fido Is Doing Heroic Work in War Time

Placid American pet dogs are helping our servicemen retaliate for the Jap atrocities, according to Sgt. John W. Mehren, 4904 Grace street, first trainer of army dogs to return from overseas duty.

The Fidos, Muffs, and Spots which before the war were playing with American kids on city streets and farm lots now are serving soldiers, sailors, and coast guardsmen in five important ways, Sgt. Mehren said yesterday.

Provide Extra Eyes, Ears.

"The greatest number of dogs trained for military service," he said, "are those working as sentry aids. These are the dogs which accompany their master on their rounds of guarding air fields, ration dumps, and supply depots. Their work is routine, but thoro and important, since they provide their handlers with extra sets of alert eyes and ears."

Aside from serving as sentry and scout aids, the dogs being recruited by Dogs for Defense and Dobermann-Pinscher Club of America also are being used as casualty aids, messenger dogs, and in jeep patrols, Sgt. Mehren said.

Caesar Is Hero.

"The marines have one German shepherd which has distinguished itself in messenger work," Mehren said. "This shepherd was donated to the marine corps by Max Glazer, Bronx, N. Y. The dog, named Caesar, saved a marine scouting party which had been cut off from its detachment after telepone lines were damaged. It returned to its base nine times, and was under fire at least twice. The messages which Caesar carried saved the scouting party."

Dr. W. A. Young, managing director of the Chicago Anti-Cruelty society, will preside at the Rotary club meeting today in the Hotel Sherman at which Mehren will be the chief speaker. G. E. Murphy, Glenview, procurement director for the Chicago office of Dogs for Defense, will give a demonstration with dogs trained in obedience.

HAWKS TO CLASH WITH BRUINS IN BOSTON TONIGHT

The Chicago Blackhawks, who gained eight points in their last four games and who ended the rampaging Detroit Red Wings' nonlosing streak at nine games Sunday in the Chicago Stadium before 18,261 fans, the largest crowd of the National Hockey league, left yesterday for Boston to play the first of three road games tonight before returning a week from Thursday to play the Bruins in the Stadium.

The Hawks and the Bruins have battled six times this season, three times in Boston and three times in Chicago and the series is all squared as the three Chicago contests were won by the Hawks and the three in Boston went to the Bruins.

After tonight's game the Hawks go to Montreal where they are booked Saturday to tackle the league leading Canadiens, who have not lost a home game this season. On Sunday they will be the guests of the New York Rangers.

M'KINLEY BEATS AUSTIN, 27 TO 20, IN JUNIOR GAME

McKinley High school's junior basketball team broke a 20 to 20 deadlock in the fourth quarter and finished with a spurt that netted a 27 to 20 victory over Austin yesterday afternoon to enter a second place tie in the west section of the City league with Tuley and Wells. Each now has won three and lost one. Austin's defeat dropped it into fifth place.

Little Mroz Grows So He Leads Seniors

BY MARK COX.

If Walter Mroz hadn't grown that eighth of an inch last summer he'd probably be leading the City league's junior individual scorers today instead of the seniors.

As it is, the little pepperpot from Wells High stretched out of the juniors' 5 foot 7 inch specifications by that fraction of an inch and rated last night as Chicago's No. 1 scorer with 123.

Performing as a senior, where he was elected captain when the regular leader, Joe Pokuta, was inducted into the army, is something new in the Mroz family. Brothers Joe and Teddy also played a snappy spot of junior basketball in their days. Joe also captained the Wells juniors two years back, and Teddy piloted the Weber little fellows last season.

Hoffman Does Well, Too.

When Coach Harold Oden discovered he was going to have to graduate Mroz to the seniors, he decided to move up at the same time Tommy Hoffman, who, altho standing only 5 feet 6 inches, had played alongside Walter for three seasons with the juniors.

Today Hoffman ranks third among the west section scorers, behind Bill Mann of Austin, which is tied with Wells for the division's lead with a perfect record for five games.

Mann's 120 points in five appearances makes him the No. 2 scorer of the city while Hoffman's 84 at least rates him the best little shooter among the city's big boys.

Hutmacher Leads Juniors.

Among the city's juniors, slender Bob Hutmacher of Lake View has utilized his clever shots from either hand, to give the north section city wide honors with 86 points in five games. Harry Hefter of Hyde Park already has been graduated but his 81 still heads the south section, with Solly Mosillami of McKinley leading in the west with 80 and Bob Zachery of Kelly in the south with 64.

In the Catholic league, where the season's anti-climax will occur Friday night at Mount Carmel when the Caravan meets Leo for the south section title, Red Dawson of the Lions is the best among the seniors with 78, while Joe Depka of Weber is the peer of the juniors with 76.

From the suburban area comes Dick Malm of Glen Ellyn's Glenbard to head the Suburban league with 124 points in nine games and Glen Schlichting of Maywood's Proviso High to take over in the West Suburban with 70 in six contests.

SECOND HAND REVENGE AIM OF DE PAUL'S FIVE

BY WILFRID SMITH.

De Paul's basketball team has been beaten by Marquette and Valparaiso. Notre Dame, which holds a victory over each of these De Paul opponents, faces the Blue Demons in the second game of the Stadium double header Saturday.

Members of the Basketball Writers' association, coaches, and guests at yesterday's luncheon in the Morrison hotel were of the opinion that the impending clash between Notre Dame and De Paul holds promise of as much thrilling action as last week's rugged battle between De Paul and Purdue. This is sufficient recommendation for the spectators, but in addition, Northwestern will meet Minnesota in the opening contest Saturday evening.

Loyd's Loss Weakens Irish.

Notre Dame's series with Marquette was divided when the Irish lost to the Hilltoppers last Saturday night. Carl Loyd, star freshman forward, had left for the navy, however, after Notre Dame's victory over Valparaiso, and his absence points to Coach Ed Krause's immediate problem. It is likely that John Kelly will be moved from guard to forward and John Lujack then will return to guard where he was a regular starter earlier in the campaign. Leo Klier, forward; Bernie Rutledge, guard, and Mark Todorovich, center, complete the Irish lineup.

Finn to Handle Big Clock.

Timing of the Stadium games has been criticized since there has been an official stop watch and the operation of the Stadium clock for the benefit of the spectators has been two or three seconds slower. Bill Finn, who operates the official watch, also will handle the huge clock Saturday night, it was announced yesterday by Arthur Morse, director of the games.

DEMAND IN HOGS AGAIN CHIEFLY IN LIGHT WEIGHTS

Buying demand in the hog market yesterday at the Chicago stockyards again was chiefly in the lighter weights, resulting in a quick clearance of all stock below 240 pounds in weight. Heavier butchers were weaker, with few of the heaviest of the "government weights" reaching the $13.75 a hundred pounds floor.

The floor price was paid first for best loads of 210 to 240 pounds, and later orders were filled with stock up to 290 pounds. Only occasional lots above 300 pounds reached $13.75. Most of the 11,000 unsold hogs were "government weights" above 250 pounds.

Return Would Be Low.

A fair volume of good butchers averaging in loads from 300 to 330 pounds sold from $12.90 to $13.25, unsorted. Sellers explained that it would be possible to obtain the $13.75 floor for part of them, but the penalty on the extreme weights sorted out would offset this price, so that the average return to the owner would be near $13.00.

Since support extends from 200 to 330 pounds, packers are free to buy hogs above and below this weight at prices below the floor.

The deterioration of cattle quality, evident the last two weeks, was more marked yesterday than at any time this winter. Despite strong to 25 cent higher prices for most classes of cattle, the $16.75 top for steers was the lowest for a Monday since Nov. 29. No highly finished cattle were available. Most steers sold from $13.50 to $16.00. Strength prevailed in most beef cows, canners, and cutters. Bulls and calves were steady.

Sheep Market Is Steady.

An all-time high of 1 billion 82 million pounds of pork was processed in federally inspected meat packing plants in January, exceeding the previous record in December by 4 per cent and January of 1943 by 36 per cent, the American Meat institute reported. January beef production was 572 million pounds, slightly under December, but 17 per cent above January, 1943. Veal and lamb production declined 13 and 15 per cent respectively from December.

LIFE INSURANCE DEATH BENEFITS RISE 16 PER CENT

Institute Attributes Gain to War Casualties.

New York, Jan. 31 (AP).—Impact of the war on the life insurance business is reflected in a 16 per cent rise in death benefit payments since 1939, but as an offset the total insurance in force has shown a 22 per cent increase in the same period, the Institute of Life Insurance disclosed today.

War deaths were a preponderant factor in a 5 per cent increase in the mortality rate in 1943. These deaths were mainly those of men in military service, but the stresses and strains of war borne by the civilian population were said by insurance executives to have weighed importantly in the general mortality curve.

Death Payments Rise.

In the last year the life insurance companies made death benefit payments amounting to 1 billion 100 million dollars against 1 billion 3 million dollars in 1942. The actual mortality rate [based on total insurance in force], said the institute's survey, was about the same as in 1939 and lower than in any year prior to 1938.

Women War Workers Buy.

While 10 million potential buyers of insurance disappeared from the market temporarily when they put on uniforms a new army of buyers appeared among women who took war jobs in factories and offices. Female buyers, the institute said, accounted for nearly one-third of all policies bought during last year in contrast with a pre-war average of 15 to 18 per cent.

BUDD GOES BACK TO 'CIVVIES,' HIS ARMY JOB OVER

It will be Mr. Ralph Budd again this morning when he enters the president's office at the headquarters of the Burlington railroad in the Burlington building on Jackson boulevard. Since late in December it had been Col. Budd, United States army. Having been placed on the army reserve list, he will doff his colonel's uniform.

Budd, with six other railroad presidents, was commissioned a colonel in the army by the President when the army took over control of the railroads because of a strike threat.

With most of the railroads taken over by the army sending in their clearance papers, in which both the railroads and the government acknowledged they owed each other nothing, the job of the railroad colonels was concluded.

EGG FUTURES LOWER AS CASH MARKET EASES

Egg futures prices were lower yesterday on the Chicago Mercantile exchange, reflecting the further easing of cash egg market quotations and heavier than usual street stocks. February U. S. extras closed on sales at 36 cents a dozen, a net loss of 40 points from the preceding close of 36.40 cents. October refrigerator U. S. extras closed five points lower at 40.45 cents a dozen bid. Eight contracts were traded.

GRAINS ADVANCE IN LARGE TRADE; RYE LEADS RISE

Market Active After Wickard Report.

Grain prices averaged higher yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade. Traders bought freely as the result of a report by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard that 1944 probably will be a year of increasing food difficulties because production has reached a peak and demand is increasing.

Rye led the upturn and closed ¾ to ⅞ cent a bushel higher. Wheat held within narrow limits and finished unchanged to ⅛ cent lower. Oats closed ½ cent higher to ¼ cent lower. Barley was unchanged to ⅜ cent higher.

Rye Trading Active.

Commission houses and professional traders were active on the buying side of rye, but found offerings rather light. A department of agriculture report, which suggested farm stocks had decreased 2 million bushels in December, had some effect as a price making influence. Traders said they expected more rye to be used for distilling purposes.

May wheat at one time sold at $1.72⅛, or within 1¼ cents of the ceiling on futures. This high price tended to restrict buying. Mills will be able to offer flour today on the February subsidy. Traders expect that no difficulty will be encountered in disposing of all the flour that can be produced during the month.

Demand in Midwest Excellent.

Country offerings of cash corn were fair. Purchases for deferred shipment aggregated 165,000 bushels. However, brokers said the movement was far short of taking care of demand.

K. B. Pierce, who is with James E. Bennett & Co., returned yesterday after attending meetings of grain dealers in Nebraska, Iowa, and Missouri. He reported an excellent demand for cash grain of all kinds. The movement is being hampered by lack of freight cars, he added. This has resulted in a marked increase in the movement of grain by truck, he said.

STOCK MARKET RISE HELPED BY RALLY IN STEELS

New York, Jan. 31 (AP).—The stock market was higher today with selected rails and specialties doing fairly well thruout. Steels and rail equipments came to the fore late as prospects for the carriers obtaining more locomotives and other rolling stock were thought to have brightened.

Earnings and dividend hopes persisted as an aid to prices. Many customers, however, kept commitments light pending formation of the new tax bill, clarification of European diplomatic questions, results of the Pacific battle and completion of the war loan drive.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 50.6, but for the month was up a full point.

Peaks for 1943-'44 were touched by Engineers Public Service, Cudahy Packing, Pullman, Consolidated Laundries, Lehigh Coal, and Philco.

RAIL BONDS SET PEAKS.

New York, Jan. 31 (AP).—Railroad bonds today pushed into new highs since 1937 and gave extreme stability to other corporate securities.

Industrials and utilities attracted good support and United States government issues held steady but were quiet. Sales of $14,529,000 compared with $13,849,700 last Friday.

In the first month of this year the 20 rail bonds in the Associated Press averages climbed nearly 4 points, starting the month at 79.7 and ending today at 83.5. On 17 different days new highs since 1937 were established, six in succession at one time and five at another.

CHICAGO STOCKS GAIN.

Gains predominated in yesterday's trading on the Chicago Stock exchange. Of the volume leaders, Commonwealth Edison was unchanged and Borg-Warner, Armour, Pennsylvania railroad, and National Standard made fractional advances. Raytheon Manufacturing advanced 4¼ to a new top for recent years, and McCord Radiator, Pullman, and Alfred Decker & Cohn preferred also reached new peaks.

ILLINOIS BELL CHIEF PRAISES WAR TIME JOB

Service, Revenues at All-Time High.

Illinois Bell Telephone company's operating revenues set a new high record in 1943 at $120,687,559, an increase of $10,402,154 over 1942 as it "met the greatest challenge in its history," A. H. Mellinger, president, said yesterday in the annual report. Net income amounted to $11,483,974, equal to $7.07 a share, against $10,094,979, or $6.21 a share, in the preceding year and an average for the preceding 10 years of $7.69 a share. Operating expenses and taxes also were at new peaks.

"During 1943, more local and more toll calls were made than ever before, and at the end of the year the number of telephones in service [1,799,168, an increase of 82,292] was the highest on record," Mellinger wrote.

Taxes Total 21 Millions.

Taxes of all kinds totaled $21,304,883, against $19,412,186 in 1942. Of the 1943 total, $8,314,411 constituted federal taxes on income, of which $1,200,000 was excess profits tax less a debt retirement credit of $133,000.

Income available for fixed charges and dividends, Mellinger said, was equal to 3.4 per cent of the total telephone plant value and other assets, compared with 3.1 per cent in 1942.

The volume of local calls in 1943 was 2 billion, 496 million, a gain of 26 million over 1942's record number. "The quality of local service was maintained at relatively high levels in the face of difficult conditions necessitated by the war," the report said. Toll and long distance messages numbering 107,702,000, increased 9,587,000, or 10 per cent, with "longer haul" messages increasing 26 per cent.

Service Speed Declines.

"With no facilities obtainable, even for normal growth, and with a greater than normal increase in usage, long distance service could not quite be kept up to the high peace time standards," Mellinger asserted. "The average speed of service on all long distance calls was 3.7 minutes, as compared with 2.1 minutes in 1942.

"Seventy-seven per cent of the calls were completed without asking the customer to hang up, as compared with 87 per cent in 1942. About 10 per cent were affected by 'no circuit' conditions, as against 4 per cent."

At the end of last year, 25,000 applications for telephone service installations could not be cared for immediately because of plant and equipment shortages, the report added, altho "the company made every effort to recondition and restore to service all usable facilities including out of date types." Large quantities of deskstand type phones, which prior to 1939 were being junked, were put to reuse, enabling the company to give service to about 75,000 new customers.

Outlook for Service.

"The outlook for 1944 is that the company will be able to provide for all persons and industries entitled to preferential treatment," Mellinger said, "while others will experience some delays, in accordance with local conditions."

Expenditures for new construction, reflecting war restrictions, were about 9 million dollars, a decrease of 11½ millions from 1942. In addition, materials with a value of about 5½ millions were reused. Many additional public telephones were installed to meet growing demands of men in uniform.

The equipment the company had in reserve has been used up in providing service for military operations and installing about 155,000 new phones during the last two years, Mellinger added.

Michael Collins.

Michael Collins, 59 years old, 11525 Longwood drive, for more than 25 years a traffic policeman in the La Salle street financial district, will retire Saturday. The following Monday, he will begin work as a messenger for Halsey Stuart & Co., 201 South La Salle street. During his years on the street, he came to know many of the city's financial leaders. Henry Wolf, an attorney for Armour & Co., willed Collins $1,000 for his "good judgment and courtesy."

Inflated Farm Price Termed National Peril

Farm prices are steadily rising and a speculative "orgy" leading to disaster is imminent if the advance is not halted, A. G. Black, governor of the farm credit administration and chairman of the national agricultural credit committee, warned yesterday at a meeting in Chicago.

At the same time, however, the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago reported that speculative buying of farm land in the 7th [Chicago] federal reserve district decreased to 4 per cent of purchases in the fourth quarter of 1943 compared with 10 per cent of purchases in the third quarter.

Prices 30 Per Cent Above Normal.

Black asserted that farm land in the midwest and parts of the south was selling at prices ranging from 20 to 30 per cent above normal values. He termed this the result of an "uninterrupted march toward inflation of farm real estate which carried values up 13 per cent in the 12 months ended in November and which has continued to climb at the rate of 1 per cent since then."

"The current rate of rise is leading directly into disaster if it is not checked," he said. "In many places land prices jumped 15 to 25 per cent and some buyers are showing an undue eagerness to purchase almost regardless of price.

"Some buyers are now gambling on the duration of the war and the period for which present high prices of farm commodities will be maintained. It is sheer speculation and if multiplied many times becomes not a personal deal but one which is likely to affect all farmers adversely and which would be quickly reflected in towns and cities."

City Folk Buy Fourth of Farms.

In addition to that 4 per cent of farm sales which was made to speculative buyers the reserve bank said purchases by "city investors who will not operate" the farms they have purchased made up an estimated 27 per cent of the farms sold. The balance was divided between tenant farmers, 34 per cent, and owners adding to holdings, 35 per cent.

Values Advance 3 Per Cent.

Land values as reflected by sales prices advanced only 3 per cent in the fourth quarter, reports received from bankers in the district indicated. The rise was substantially less than that of the first three quarters. Values increased 8 per cent during the first quarter of 1943 and 6 per cent during the second and third quarters.

Most bankers said they did not consider the danger of runaway land prices serious enough to warrant legislation intended to control such a threat. The majority reported they opposed laws to tax speculative gains from the buying and reselling of farm lands. Eighty-seven per cent opposed legislation on prices. Sixty-six per cent opposed a tax on speculative gains.

CHARLES C. BUNKER MADE HEAD OF FIELD STORE IN SEATTLE

Charles C. Bunker, vice president and merchandise counsellor for Marshall Field & Co. retail stores, has been elected president of the Frederick & Nelson store in Seattle, Wash., which is owned by the Field company, Hughston M. McBain, president, said yesterday. Bunker's election follows by a few months the death of W. H. St. Clair, president of Frederick & Nelson for many years.

Austin T. Graves, general operating manager for Marshall Field & Co. stores, was named assistant general manager of the Chicago and suburban stores under William S. Street, vice president and general manager. Graves also will continue his duties as operating manager.

OPA GRANTS RISE OF 45 CENTS IN HARD COAL PRICE

An increase of 45 cents a ton in the price producers may charge for anthracite during February was granted yesterday by the office of price administration. The boost may be passed on to the consumer by raising dealer ceilings.

The OPA allowed the higher ceiling to compensate for increased production costs resulting from the operation of coal mines seven days a week. Ceilings will revert to former levels March 1.

The increase was granted on all anthracite loaded into railroad cars or trucks at mines or preparation plants during February. The boost will be added automatically to retail prices by those coal dealers who establish their ceilings under the OPA formula system. In areas where there are flat dollar and cents retail maximums, amendments are being issued.

Consumers Retire Sixth of Indebtedness in 1943

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—Consumers paid off 1 billion 33 million dollars of their indebtedness last year but still owed 5 billion 122 million dollars Dec. 31, the federal reserve board reported today. During 1942 consumer credit outstanding fell approximately 3½ billion. A 64 million dollar rise during December was attributed chiefly to charge account and retail time payment purchases.

Group to Help Private Ship Lines Formed

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—Formation of the National Federation of American Shipping, comprising virtually all oceangoing shipping of the country, was announced today to promote "an adequate privately owned, American merchant marine."

Similar in scope to the General Council of British Shipping and the Association of American Railways, spearhead of the nation's railroads, the federation elected Almon E. Roth of San Francisco, west coast shipping executive, president.

Program Is Presented.

1. Disposition of the tonnage the government will own at the end of the war, estimated at 40 to 50 million tons, on a basis that will be "fair to all concerned and yet enable American private industry" to compete with foreign shipping.
2. Development of coastwise, intercoastal, and foreign commerce.
3. Construction and acquisition of modern and speedy vessels.

"The development of a national program for the rehabilitation of the American merchant marine involves many delicate relations with foreign governments and foreign shipping services," the federation said.

Seeks to Solve Problems.

"The federation will provide an authoritative voice for American shipping interests in connection with the solution of these international problems."

Roth, who will take a leave of absence as president of the San Francisco Employers council and resign as an industry member of the war labor board to accept the new post, said so far there has been no common agreement on the probable size of the nation's peace time merchant marine, or other factors involved.

"The tremendous job of reëstablishing and expanding our merchant fleet to an adequate size is the joint responsibility of the government and the shipping industry," he asserted.

COUNCIL TO AID IN EXPANSION OF CHINA INDUSTRY

New York, Jan. 31 (AP).—A group of business men announced today the formation of the China-American Council of Commerce and Industry. Its purpose is "to help China expand her industries and develop her resources."

Thomas J. Watson, president of International Business Machines corporation, was named board chairman of the council and Col. Richard C. Patterson Jr., former assistant secretary of commerce, president.

DU PONT POWDER WORKERS STRIKE IN SENECA PLANT

Seneca, Ill., Jan. 31 (AP).—Several hundred employes of the du Pont explosives plant here went on strike today when they failed to reach an agreement with the company on a contract, Francis Hawk, president of the Seneca Explosives Workers' union, No. 23338 [AFL], said.

The strike was called after the Wilmington, Del., office of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. "refused to approve a contract tentatively agreed upon by the union and company officials at Seneca," Hawk said. Principal issues involved were seniority and benefits for injuries and sickness, he said. A wage increase also had been asked, he added.

CITIZEN GROUP CALLS TRACTION OFFER A 'STEAL'

Claims Bid Actually Is 47½ Million.

Objections to the bid made last week by the city for the surface and elevated lines, which Mayor Kelly wishes to unify under municipal ownership, were stated yesterday by Frank J. Durham, president of the Citizens Transportation association.

Foe of unification and an advocate of a separate reorganization of the surface lines, Durham described the city offer as "a steal rather than a bid."

"All that the city offers for the surface lines is 75 million dollars, with permission for the securities holders to keep an additional 8 millions in their own treasury," he said. "This is the same city that growled at the Illinois commerce commission because the commission wouldn't approve a consolidation that would have issued 179 millions of paper.

Deducts Improvement Fund.

"Deducting the 27½ millions that the surface lines has for improvements, and which would be turned over to the city, the bid for the lines is only 47½ millions for properties that earned 6 millions or more last year. At the same time the city is willing to pay 11 millions for the elevated lines, which lost 20 millions in 20 years.

"Chicago will be best served by a surface lines company operating efficiently under private management. The Citizens Transportation association will resist acceptance of this ridiculous offer; it will seek in the courts and elsewhere an offer that would be equitable to bondholders who invested their money in good faith."

Properties Called Antiquated.

Banking opinion on the problem of the local traction companies leans to the theory that there can be no sale of new securities for the merger if prices are "inflated." Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland financier who raised money for a Cleveland municipal plan, has expressed interest in the local situation, but told Mayor Kelly that "the Chicago properties are antiquated and financial position far from satisfactory."

Committees representing the investors are considering the offer, but have not yet made any decision.

Former REA Subchief Denies Personal Profit Thru Agency

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—Robert B. Craig, former deputy rural electrification administrator declared before a senate agriculture subcommittee today that charges he profited from his association with the REA were unfounded.

Craig's testimony answered statements by John Becker, engineer and former head of an REA group in Wisconsin. Becker had said Craig sought to control 4 million rural votes by setting up a central purchasing agency in the administration. Other witnesses had testified that Craig's policies, before he quit last May to go with the Copperweld Steel company, favored use of copper wire rather than aluminum.

"Clear Up Misunderstanding."

Craig told the committee he wanted to "clear up any misunderstanding about any prior connection with the 'copper companies'" and asserted he had no connection with any before joining REA.

"I can't help but bitterly resent the charges, innuendoes, and allegations that have been made and implied here," Craig said.

Craig said the REA acted as a central point to assemble low bids on supplies for local coöperatives "and no one profited by it except the coöperatives."

Order Specification Changes.

He said the system permitted larger orders to be sent in a group to manufacturing companies with resultant lower prices to the coöperatives. He added that in some cases, where designs were wrong and prices high, instructions were sent to local projects to change specifications after the bids had been submitted.

Craig presented a memorandum signed in 1938 by 20 senators from copper producing states, requesting that the REA specify use of copper conductors and equipment, after Sen. Gillette [D., Ia.] asked what right the REA had to change specifications once bids were in.

WPB PROMISES INDUSTRY VOICE IN RECONVERSION

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—The WPB issued a policy statement today which in effect assured industry of a voice in the formation of any major program for reconversion to peace time tasks.

No limitation or conservation order which would cause "a change in the rate of operation of an industry" may be issued or amended without prior consultation with the advisory committee representing the industry or industries affected, WPB said.

Officials of WPB with the rank of vice chairman are authorized to waive consultation with the industry committee, but only if the order is of "an unusually confidential character" or if the need for speed makes such a waiver expedient.

ABBOTT FILES PLAN FOR ADDING TO STOCK ISSUE

Abbott Laboratories, North Chicago, manufacturer of pharmaceuticals, yesterday filed with the securities and exchange commission a proposed offering of 94,439 shares of common stock at $45 a share to present stockholders at the rate of one new share for each eight held. The stock closed on the New York Stock exchange at 59½, down ¼.

The company will offer rights, represented by transferable warrants, to stockholders of record Feb. 17. The warrants will be exercisable until 3 p. m. eastern war time March 1.

People and Events

Richard E. Merrell has been appointed special assistant to the general manager of AC Spark Plug division of General Motors, with headquarters in Chicago. He will specialize in sales of replacement fuel pumps, speedometers, and related items. Merrell, formerly Chicago regional manager, will be succeeded by Edgar H. Francois, former zone manager.

Richard E. Merrell.

Rear Adm. Howard L. Vickery, chairman of the United States maritime commission's post-war planning committee, will address a meeting today of the Great Lakes Harbors association in the Palmer House. Great Lakes shipping requirements, including rehabilitation of existing tonnage and the construction of new vessels, will be discussed.

Ira Maxon, once industrial engineer for the Russian government, has resigned as superintendent of the Moline tractor works of Deere & Co. to become works manager of the Universal Unit Machinery company of Milwaukee.

Harold F. Smiddy has been admitted to general partnership in Booz, Allen and Hamilton, management counsel. He is manager of the firm's New York office.

NO SECURITIES SALES REFUSED BY SEC IN YEAR

Value of 189 Issues Is 659.4 Millions.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31 (AP).—For the first fiscal year in the securities and exchange commission's 10 year history, no sale of securities was prohibited by a stop or refusal order, the annual report, a 131 page volume reviewing activities in the fiscal year ended last June 30, delivered to congress today disclosed.

During that period 123 registration statements covering 189 issues with an aggregate value of $659,480,000 were registered. Compensation to distributors of these securities continued a downward trend with 1.7 per cent average on bonds, 3.6 on preferred stock, and 9.7 on common stock.

How Proceeds Were Used.

The net proceeds to issuers—$467,609,000—were applied to the retirement of indebtedness and preferred stock [61 per cent]; to the purchase of securities for investment [23 per cent]; to increased working capital [9 per cent], and to expansion of plant and equipment [5 per cent]. Other classifications totaled 2 per cent.

Utilities registered 36 per cent of the new issues; financial and investment companies, 24 per cent; manufacturing companies, 18 per cent, and transportation and communications companies, 2 per cent.

Nearly two-thirds of the new issues were in the form of bonds and 97 per cent were offered thru investment bankers.

Status of Holding Companies.

Brief resumes of the status of 16 holding companies reorganizing under integration provisions of the public utility holding ocmpany act of 1935 were included. Nearly 88 per cent of assets of all registered holding company systems were represented in the 14 billion 729 million dollars aggregate assets of these companies.

Read Any Good Books Lately?

Your bankbook, for instance. How well could it absorb the shock if tomorrow some unforeseen misfortune brought you face to face with heavy financial loss—perhaps tens of thousands of dollars?

Illness, injury, any public accident for which you might be responsible, burglary, embezzlement—these are just a few of the swift-striking hazards that daily threaten you and your bankbook. Yet guaranteed protection against any or all hazards is so easily obtained . . . so low in cost . . . at Continental.

This strong Chicago institution . . . the only one of its kind with home offices in the Midwest . . . offers you a complete range of insurance and bonding services. Ask your agent or broker for full details.

LITTLE PARTS THAT MAKE A GREATER VICTORY

JUST as each of the thousands of small parts in a great bomber is vital to its operation, so are the thousands of smaller manufacturers who produce those parts essential to the operation of America at war.

Here in the Chicago area in particular, many prime contractors and sub-contractors have assumed greater responsibilities, requiring larger scope than in former years. Because many of our present valued customers are among these companies, and have found us understanding of their problems, we believe that we have fairly earned the description of being a business minded bank.

Perhaps your company is among these organizations who are preparing for even greater undertakings before victory is won—and in the years of peace to follow. If so, you will find that our officers are able and eager to work with you constructively.

SEVERAL GROUPS FIGHT INCREASE IN YOUTH CRIME

Help Juveniles to Live Within Law.

BY RUTH MONTGOMERY.

The perplexing rise in juvenile delinquency since the start of World War II. has been met with concerted action by several societies and organizations thruout the Chicagoland area. Some are concentrating on the preventive approach, while others are trying to stem the harmfully spiraling social tide of delinquency itself.

Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish children who stray from the accepted path of social behavior frequently discover that society is organized to help them.

Divided into three classifications, the Holy Name society deals with Catholic boys, the Chicago Federation of Churches with Protestant boys, and the Jewish charities with boys and girls of the Jewish faith.

Study Background.

Representatives of the Holy Name society work with the Juvenile, Auto, and Boys courts, and agree to accept supervision of boys who have sinned slightly against the recognized laws of society. The environment, health, family status, and acquaintances of each boy are studied to determine the source of his difficulty, after which a "big brother" from his own community or neighborhood is assigned to supervise him.

The parents' coöperation invariably is sought, and the 2,000 volunteer laymen of Catholic faith who agree to help the boy assigned to their jurisdiction report at least once a month on his progress. An athletic or study program usually is mapped with the boy, and parks and neighborhood clubs are recommended to him.

Under this system, the repeaters in delinquency have been found to be less than 3 per cent. The Rev. Edward J. Kelly is the executive director and Msgr. Thomas P. Bona is the director of the "big brother" group. Twenty-five hundred cases were handled by the organization last year and the number is expected to increase by about 12 per cent this year.

Heads Jewish Unit.

Miss Virginia Frank is the executive director of the Jewish Social Service bureau, which works primarily in the preventive field, altho some curative cases are handled by the trained social workers. About 1,200 families are aided by the society each month. Schools and agencies refer some cases to the bureau, while others come in thru the initiative of the parents themselves.

At least 60 per cent of the cases handled by Louis De Boer, director of the Boys court service of the Church Federation of Greater Chicago, involve first offenders. Most are boys from 17 to 21 years of age. Supervision by the agency ordinarily lasts from six months to a year, and 90 per cent of the boys do not come under the court's jurisdiction after the supervisory period is terminated.

Reports are usually made to the court once each month. There are four trained social workers, one a woman assigned to boys who have had a poor relationship with their own mothers. Vocational guidance tests, psychiatric examinations, and counsel are offered the boys and home visits are made.

Seek Revised Rules.

An effort to encourage revision in some rules and regulations of the Juvenile court is being made by the City club, Francis D. Scully, president of the Citizens' committee on the Juvenile court, revealed yesterday. "Juvenile delinquents usually indicate parental delinquents," he said, "and it would be better if laws were amended so that the parents, as well as the children, came directly under court jurisdiction.

"The Boy Scouts of America certainly have one of the best delinquency preventive programs in the world, and the Girl Scouts have mapped a similar appeal."

LAKE COUNTY TO TRY KIDNAP GANG ON FEB. 20

Five bandits who kidnaped and robbed two young men and a girl, members of prominent Lake Forest families, last March 31, will be called for trial in Lake county Circuit court at Waukegan Feb. 20, Harry Hall, state's attorney, said yesterday.

Four of the men will come from state prison or reformatory cells, because they were tried in Cook county on robbery charges and sentenced. The fifth, Raymond Weglowski, 17 years old, who testified for the state and whom Hall expects to testify against his former associates, has been held in the Lake county jail since his release in December after serving a six month jail sentence in Cook county.

Other defendants are Robert Kravich, 17; Richard Schenold, 19, Joseph Jarkubik, and John Bohencha, all of Chicago. They are accused of kidnaping Miss Helen Pribe, Thomas Stanton Armour, and Kent Clow Jr. in Lake Forest. They released them in Chicago after robbing them. Both Clow and Armour are in military service and are not expected to attend the trial.

Charges Face Soldier Wounded During Flight

Charges of violating the 96th article of war in trying to escape while under detention were filed yesterday by Fort Sheridan authorities against Pvt. Roman A. Grabarezyk, 26 years old, of 2337 South Sacramento avenue, who was wounded Saturday when he broke from ranks and fled. Pvt. Irving Patt of Chicago also was wounded when he stepped out of quarters into the line of fire.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Mrs. Herb Curry, 5326 Ohio street.]

THE QUESTION.

What excuse for staying out late on a school night is most acceptable to your parents?

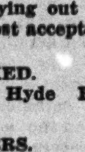
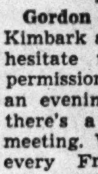
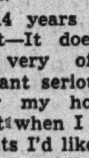
THE ANSWERS.



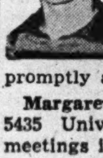
Gordon Bradl, 13 years old, 5227 Kimbark avenue—My parents never hesitate to give me permission to have an evening out when there's a Boy Scout meeting. We have one every Friday night. Afterwards a bunch of us always stop off at the drug store to have sodas and sundaes.



Sanford A. Bank, 14 years old, 1413 East 50th street—It doesn't happen very often that I want seriously to study my homework, but when I tell my parents I'd like to go to the public library to study they're happy. They always expect me home promptly after the library closes.



Margaret Homes, 13 years old, 5435 University avenue—Block meetings in our neighborhood have given me more liberty than I've had for a long time. I'm a junior messenger girl and often have to go from house to house in the evening to deliver messages. I love the opportunity to be out.



Robert M. Aylor, 13 years old, 5100 Kenwood avenue—We have a little swing band of our own and practice once or twice a week. I'm the drummer. It's always easy for me to get out when we have regular practice, or even when two or three of us call a meeting for impromptu practice.

Sally Hirsch, 12 years old, 5465 Ingleside avenue—A few of the girls from our school organized a girls' club. They've all met at our home and my father approves of all of them, so he's always glad when I'm going to spend another evening with them. He usually calls if he thinks the meeting is lasting too long.

Shirley Chukerman, 14 years old, 5000 Cornell avenue—There's a woman who calls me at least once a week to take care of her baby while she and her husband take the evening out. My mother always permits me to do that because she thinks it's nice for me to earn my own money once in a while.

Rosenwald Museum Sets New Attendance Marks

December and January have set the all-time high attendance records for those months at the Museum of Science and Industry, it was disclosed yesterday. December attracted 61,986 visitors, which was 3,494 greater than the next highest December, in 1941. January totaled 70,724, or 10,478 higher than the previous high January of 1942.

VAIN SEARCHES FOR HYDE PARK GAMBLING TOLD

Out of 12 gambling investigations in the Hyde Park district, he found evidence of gambling only once, Sgt. James J. Donnelly, a city policeman attached to the state's attorney's office, testified yesterday.

He was called as a witness in the trial of Capt. Walter T. Healy, formerly of the Hyde Park station, before the city civil service commission on general charges of failing to suppress gambling in the district. Capt. Healy is expected to begin his defense today.

Two other state's attorney's policemen, Sergeants Bert Gray and William McCarthy, also conceded that gambling was hard to find in the district. Gray said he reported that gambling flourished in the district, even tho he was unable to obtain evidence.

In Criminal court yesterday, the conspiracy trial in which former Chief Hugh McCarthy of the county highway police and former Chief Theodore L. Svoboda of the Cicero police department are defendants, was continued to Feb. 14.

Thieves stole a safe, containing $1,000 and $7,000 in war bonds, and six cases of whisky yesterday from the Toy Cap tavern at 1214 North Clark street, Milton Sall, 6222 Wayne avenue, the owner, complained to police.

HURT IN ELEVATOR SHAFT.

Martin Bohmer, 60 years old, 1438 Washington boulevard, janitor of the Champlain building at 37 South Wabash avenue, was seriously injured yesterday when he fell 12 feet down the elevator shaft of the building.
